

The Fonda Family

1. JELLIS DOUWES FONDA first appears in the Rensselaerwyck records on October 15, 1651 when he requested permission to distill Liquor in the Green Bos, in the house belonging to Evert Pels, next to the brewery. The date of his arrival in the colony or on what vessel he arrived is not in the records. According to the publication of the banns for his marriage to Hester Douwess on Jan. 19, 1641, he was from Agum or Aegum, a small village in the present municipality of Idaarderadeel in the Province of Friesland, the Netherlands. He was at that time 25 years old and his parents were deceased. Hester was from Amsterdam and twenty four years old. Her stepmother Elsgen Douwes assisted her at the banns. They were married at Diemen, on February 10, 1641. Diemen is a place close to Amsterdam.

Jellis appears very little in the Rensselaerwyck records. He sued Jan Dirrixsz Van Bremen and Henderick Gerritsen on November 27, 1657. He witnessed the contract between Barent Gerritse and Abraham Staets, wherein, Barent agreed to serve Staets as a farmer for one year (November 29, 1654). On August 19, 1657, he was a witness to the misdeeds of Thomas Konnig. There is no record of him after 1657.

Hester Fonda first appears in the colony's records on October 21, 1656 in court as a defendant on a charge of theft, which she denied. Hester appears frequently in the court minutes between 1656 and August 13, 1678, mainly in relation to her commercial dealings. Hester apparently married Barent Gerritse about 1660, and in 1662 both were in Kingston where Barent had a distillery. Hester's daughter Sara was with them. On June 7, 1663 Barent was killed by the Indians, and Hester and Sara were taken hostage. Hester was released without Sara September 7, 1663. By April 29, 1664 Hester was back in Rensselaerwyck. About 1670 Hester married Teunis Dirckse Van Vechten, a widower. There were no children from the last two marriages. August 1678 is the last record of Hester.

Issue of Jellis Fonda baptised in Amsterdam.

2. Douwe bp. 24 Nov. 1641; wit., Annetje Jans
3. Geertje bp. 22 Sep. 1643; wit., Maritje Willems
4. Sara bp. 18 Jun 1645; wit., Hille Claes, Witsche Dierx. Taken captive by the Indians in 1663; no further record.
5. Abraham bp. Apr 14, 1647; wit., Hille Claes, Marij Douwes. He probably died before the family came to Rensselaerswyck, as there is no record of him in the colony.

2. DOUWE JELLIS FONDA, bp. 24 Nov. 1641 in Amsterdam probably came with his parents to Rensselaerwyck about 1651. He first appears in records on October 1, 1661, when his stepfather, Barent Gerritse, acknowledged a debt to him. He was not quite 20 at the time and was living with Jan Tysse Goes. In 1664 he assisted his mother at the sale of some distiller's kettles to Jan Costersens Van Aken. On October 24, 1672, he purchased "a house, barn, hay rick, orchard and 3 morgans of land" from Margarita Schuyler, widow of Philip Schuyler. In March 1675 he was sued by Geertruydt Barendtse and ordered to fence his land at Lubberden Landt. Therefore, his land was on the East side of the Hudson river in what is now Rensselaer County.

In 1681, he contracted with Jan Corneel to provide distilled liquor to be sold to the Indians, so he apparently was, like his father, a distiller.

In 1681, he contracted to indenture his son Jan, aged about 13, to Thomas Craven to learn the smith's trade. He contributed towarded the support of the minister in 1683 and was elected magistrate of the colony of Rensselaerswyck in 1684. Douwe signed the oath of allegiance to King William in January 1699.

In 1670, on April 5 he paid for the use of the large pall. This date of death does not correspond to the death date of anyone else in the family and therefore suggests the death of a first wife, the mother of Jan born about 1668, and possibly Jellis born about 1670. His known wife was Rebecca Jans or Jansen, whose parents and birth date are unknown. Douwe died November 22, 1700, and Rebecca was buried June 10, 1727.
