[Man Felled in Fight Dies; Alleged Assailant Is Held on Manslaughter Charge - Hospital Apparently of Fractured Skull Received When Head Hit Sidewalk; Marvin Fonda, Mayfield Under Arrest; Row Occurred in Church Street Although eyewitnesses claim only one man was struck. Raymond (Roy) Augustine, 17, of 20 South Main street, died at 4:15 yesterday afternoon in the Nathan Littauer hospital and Marvin Fonda, 58, of Mayfield, was arrested by the Gloversville Police on a charge of manslaughter, second degree. He is to be arraigned in court here this morning. The fracas, according to authorities, occurred at 1:50 yesterday afternoon in front of 41 Church street. Augustine, apparently died of a fractured skull, which officials contended he received when his head struck the sidewalk as he was knocked down by Fonda. The injured man, who was unconscious when police reached the scene, died without regaining consciousness. (...) Stories of the witnesses in the vicinity differ somewhat. One witness says there was a fight, another asserts only one blow was struck. Another declares Augustine was "plaguing" Fonda. The witnesses agree that Fonda struck Augustine, on the jaw and the latter sat down abruptly, then fell over backwards and his head struck the]
sidewalk. Fonda walked around the corner and disappeared. One of the bystanders called the police, when Augustine failed to get up. When taken to police headquarters Fonda talked quite freely with the police and the district attorney. He insisted Augustine started the fight. After his statement had been taken he was locked up in the city jail pending his arraignment this morning. The Morning Herald, Gloversville and Johnstown, NY. Monday, September 16, 1940; [Marvin Fonda, 66, died yesterday afternoon about 4 at his home, 48 North Arlington Avenue. He had been ill only a short time. Mr. Fonda was born in Mayfield and had resided in this vicinity practically all his life. The only survivors are a number of cousins. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 3 at the Bledsoe funeral home, 33 Prospect avenue. The Rev. Fred Clarke of the Fremont Street church will officiate. Burial will be made in Mayfield Cemetery. The Morning Herald, Gloversville and Johnstown, NY. Tuesday, November 30, 1948.]

724 ii. Willard Clark FONDA, born 3 Feb 1896, in Minnesota, died 25 Dec 1957, in Los Angeles, CA.

[Winfield Scott Fonda, 79, highly regarded farmer in the Town of Mohawk, died at 5:45 P.M. yesterday at his home near Fonda. His death, which followed a lingering illness, was due to a complication of diseases. Mr. Fonda was born in September 1853, in Canajoharie, the son of John and Jane Cole Fonda. He was a staunch Republican and was extremely loyal to his party, going to the polls with great difficulty at the last election to cast his vote. Occupied as a farmer all his life, Mr. Fonda was widely known and respected. He was a man of staunch principles and sterling character. Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Emma Jane Copp Fonda; five sons, Fred of Syracuse, John of Ephratah, Nathan of Stone Ridge, Winfield of Fultonville and Edgar of Fonda; four daughters, Mrs. Earl Young of Stone Ridge, Mrs. Sedgwick Quackenbush of Fultonville, Ida Fonda of Johnstown and Viola Fonda of Fonda; one sister, Mrs. Jerome Sawyer of Vail Mills; three brothers, Herbert; Everett and William, all of Johnstown; 36 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren. Funeral services will be held at 2 P.M. Monday at the] family home. The Rev. Malcolm Kelly, pastor of the Fonda Methodist church, will officiate. Interment will be made in Caughnawaga cemetery. The Morning Herald, Gloversville and Johnstown, NY Friday, August 18, 1933.

[Emma Jane Copp Fonda was a widow who lived at Switzer Hill for 50 years and died at the age of 84y 8m 18d at the hour of 8:15 pm certified by Arthur J Townley on Jan 2, 1939 of Fonda, NY. Undertaker Charles M Welch No 2856 of Register of Deaths Book No 17. Emma died at home.; [Emma Jane Copp, 84, widow of Winfield Scott Fonda, died at 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening of arteriosclerosis at her home on Switzer Hill. She was born at Argusville April 13, 1854, a daughter of Fred Copp and Sasiah A. Collins Copp. Her husband, a native of Fonda, preceded her in death in 1933, they having been residents of this community during their entire married life of over half a century. Mrs. Fonda was a member of the Pilgrim Holiness Mission at Fultonville. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Sedgwick Quackenbush, Fultonville, Mrs. Edison Veeder and Miss Viola Fonda, Fonda; five sons, Fred and Edgar, Fonda, Winfield, Fultonville, John, Johnstown, and Nathan Fonda, Randall; one sister, Mrs. John Firth, and a brother, Charles Copp, both of Amsterdam; 29 grandchildren, 15 great-grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews. The funeral services were held this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Pilgrim Holiness Mission, Fultonville, the Rev. Harry L. Tinning, Amsterdam, officiating, assisted by Floyd E. Lepper, Fort Johnson. The body was placed in the receiving vault in Caughnawaga Cemetery, Fonda, to await burial in the Spring. He married Della MOORE 26 Jun 1901, in Amsterdam, NY. Della MOORE was born 19 Sep 1872, in Amsterdam, NY, died 9 Jun 1965, in Amsterdam, NY, buried in Pine Grove Cemetery, Tribes Hill, Montgomery Co., NY.

[Fonda - July 23, 1946 - William H. Fonda. Funeral Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the funeral house of Johnson-Lindsay, the Rev. Daniel D. Brox officiating. Interment in Pine Grove Cemetery, Tribes Hill, N. Y. Evening Recorder, Amsterdam, NY, Wed, July 24, 1946; [Stricken While On Motor Trip, Death Follows - William H. Fonda, 76, one of Amsterdam's most popular and esteemed citizens and prominent businessman, died suddenly Tuesday evening after being stricken on a motor trip to the camp of Frank Albright on the Sacandaga Reservoir to attend a meeting of the Physical Department of the Y. M. C. A., he being a director of the "Y." Mr. Fonda was apparently in his usual health when he started the journey and his collapse was a shock to his companions in the automobile of Charles Schafer. The machine was quickly headed back in the direction of this city and Mr. Fonda was hurried to the Amsterdam City Hospital where death quickly followed. The announcement of his passing caused profound sorrow for Mr. Fonda was widely known and his friends were legion. He resided at 31 Pine Street. Born at Log City October 4, 1869, a son of Jacob and Anna Mary Johnson Fonda, William H. Fonda attended the district rural school in his neighborhood and at the age of 16 years came to Amsterdam which place had been his home since. He attended the School of Pharmacy at Northwestern University and became a licensed pharmacist, being connected with the Ward and D. B. Van Aken drug stores here in that capacity for 26 years. In 1901 he abandoned the profession of pharmacist and engaged in the bicycle and motorcycle business, and about 20 years ago took up the installation of oil burners, being about the first one in the city to enter this line. He continued active in business to the present. "Uncle Bill" Fonda, as he was respectfully referred to often as years began to grow, was one of the speediest bicycle riders in his day in this area. He took a keen interest in whatever line of endeavor or exercise he followed with the result that he was always a favorite in groups he elected to move in. He was one of the earliest members of the Y. M. C. A. here, first joining more than 50 years ago, being a life member at the present time. He was an outstanding member of the "Y" volleyball team which won the Northeastern New York District championship and regularly exercised at the Y. M. C. A. "gym" to keep physically fit. His feats of agility and prowess even in his advanced years were the envy of younger athletes who admired "Uncle Bill" Fonda. All added up he was a remarkable man for one who had passed the three-score and ten mark and his friends marveled at his physical accomplishments. Mr. Fonda was a life member of the County Line Club and a member of the American Motorcycle Association. He was also a member of the First Methodist Church and active in the affairs of the church. The survivors are his wife, the former Della Moore to whom he was married June 26, 1901; one daughter, Mrs. John C. Bork, Butte, Montana, who expects to reach here in time for the funeral; one son, Robert H. Fonda, who was engaged in business with his father; one brother, Frank, Ballston Lake, and six grandchildren. Amsterdam NY Daily Democrat and Recorder, Wednesday, July 24, 1946]

[Daughter of Selina (Hetherington) Cadwallader, born in 1836 in Ireland, and it is unknown how or when she came to live in Cincinnati. In 1862, at the age of twenty-six, she married Morris Cadwallader at the St. John Episcopal Church in Cincinnati. Her husband, originally from Henrietta, New York, had a rather unsettled work history. When they met and married, he had already worked in the post office and as an attorney, and in early 1866, he bought a boot and shoe shop, which he quickly abandoned later that same year. By 1871, Morris had realized how lucrative hog farming could be in Cincinnati. He remained a farmer for the rest of his life. Possibly due to her husband's unpredictable career, Selina opened her first business in 1870. As a married woman, it was unusual for Selina to run a business, and it may have been out of necessity that she decided to do so. From 1870 to 1886, she operated both a successful boarding house and a dressmaking salon. Located in the heart of Cincinnati's fashionable district, East Fourth Street, the boarding house and salon was easily accessible to the fashionable elite of the city. Despite his irregular career choices, upon his death in 1880, Morris left his wife Selina and three children an inheritance that was valued at approximately $110,000. As a dressmaker, Selina was known for her attention to detail and fine workmanship. Her designs were stylish and up to date with the fashions of Paris. She catered to each of her client's individual needs and desires and was highly respected among the elite of Cincinnati. On one occasion, Selina was asked to create an evening bodice for a skirt made by the very fashionable Parisian designer Charles Frederick Worth. This dress, created for Mrs. Thoms of Cincinnati, consisted of a skirt and day bodice. To get full use of this dress, Mrs. Thoms also wanted an evening bodice made to match the skirt. Perhaps to save money, she purchased extra fabric from Worth and brought it to Selina to have the bodice made. This act shows the great respect the elite women of Cincinnati had for Selina's workmanship. When Selina passed away in October of 1886 at the age of fifty, she left her daughters an inheritance that was valued at $120,000. Having inherited a large sum of money and property from her husband, it is clear that Cadwallader was making dresses because she enjoyed the activity and not just to support herself and her children.]

[In Years Past - Posted: October 18, 2009 - 100 Years Ago - City Clerks throughout the state of New York were contributing to a fund to defend City Clerk Frank L. Fonda of Schenectady who was being sued by the city treasurer to recover Fonda's share of the hunting license fees. The law provided that the city clerk should be entitled to a 10 cent license fee for each license issued. The Schenectady treasurer claimed this fee belonged to the city but Fonda won out at the trial. The case was appealed. City Clerk Jones of Jamestown was taking no interest in the litigation as the charter of this city specifically provided what his compensation would be. http://post-journal.com/page/content.detail/id/542731.html?nav=5004]

[Frank L. Fonda Ended His Life With A Bullet - Former Hudsonian Crowded By Creditors and $495 Short In His Accounts With State - Face to face with a threatened grand larceny action and State claims of $495, together with numerous other personal debts which he was unable to pay, Frank L. Fonda, clerk of the city Schenectady, ended his life in the Elks lodge rooms in that city, Friday evening, by sending a bullet into his brain thru the roof of his mouth. So secret, however, was his trouble kept, that his most personal friends admit that they were ignorant of impending trouble. Had they thought he needed help it would have been forthcoming immediately. Fonda had not turned in to the County Clerk $495 he had received for hunters licenses issued in October and November. All this money is believed to have been spent, as well as his salary. He was paid $2,000 a year by the city. (...) Fonda was 36 years old. To his widow and 14-year-old son he is understood to have left nothing. He formerly worked in the State Engineer's office in Albany. He was born in Claverack, but had for some time resided in Hudson before going to Schenectady. While in Hudson he was employed as a clerk in local stores. The funeral service was arranged Sunday by Exalted Ruler H. W. Philbrook, of the Elks, and Mrs. Fonda. It will be held Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the lodge rooms of the Elks, in Red Men's Hall, corner of Ferry and Liberty streets, where he ended his life. The body is now at the morgue of Coroner Baxter. The body will lie in state in the lodge rooms from 9 until 10:30 on Tuesday morning to be viewed by friends. The Elks' service will be conducted by Exalted Ruler Philbrook. The Mayor, city officials and members of the Common Council will attend the services. [Name of officer killed in 1926 to go on memorial - Trace Christenson - The Enquirer - An accidental shooting killed a Battle Creek police officer 80 years ago. Clayton Weed was a patrolman and just 26 when he died April 14, 1926, 15 days after he was shot in the leg inside police headquarters. According to newspaper accounts, Weed and other officers were in the headquarters just before 10 p.m. Weed was sitting when a revolver fell from the holster of officer Floyd Bailey and fired, hit the chair and lodged in Weed's leg. Officer Bailey was exonerated in the shooting by Chief LaVern Fonda, but the chief ordered that all officers were to carry their revolvers with an empty chamber under the hammer. Weed was not added to the department's list of officers killed on duty until 1987, after Deputy Chief Terry Tobias researched police records and learned more about the death.

[Out of Our Past - August 8, 2009 - 100 years ago today, 1909: A race riot on the carnival grounds was averted by Constable Fonda last evening when a gang of Italian laborers, who crowded the grounds, started a rumpus with a Battle Creek lad. There were several car loads of the foreigners on a side track near the grounds and every night they were attending the carnival. Last evening one of these armed with a tickler was amusing himself when a local lad grabbed it. Frenzied for the moment, the laborer seized the boy and in the scuffle the Italian's coat was nearly torn from his back. From all parts of the grounds, the Italians began to rally to support of their friends.
Things looked ominous for a while, but Constable Fonda stepped in, jerked the fellow off and told the American boy to make his escape. - Historical information is provided by local and family history librarian George Livingston

According to the 1925 South Dakota Census, they reported that they were married in 1924. However, the Los Angeles Times, on 21 May 1936, published their "Intention to marry". Charles died about 3 weeks later. Different addresses were given for each of them. They were together in the 1930 South Dakota Census, and in the 1934 California Voter Registration. Two possibilities: 1) Perhaps there was some question about the validity of the 1924 marriage, or 2) they had divorced. In either case they presumably wanted to protect Lulu's status prior to Charles' death. (per Shirley York Anderson 2015).

Fonda, 82, died on May 24, 2003. Sarah W. Fonda, his devoted wife to whom he was happily married for 52 years, survives him. Two stepsons found him to be a true father and a loving husband for their mother. Avery was born in Brevard and spent his early years living in Weaverville. He attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and for most of his life was widely respected for his expertise in the banking industry. Retiring to Weaverville in 1987, he was an excellent gardener, making his home a lovely example for his neighbors. The family held a private memorial for him at the Riverside Cemetery, which was officiated by Rev. Dr. Richard Smyth of Central Methodist Church, where the Fonda's are members.; [Fonda, Avery Hunt 1921-; Standard & Poor's Register of Corporations, Directors and Executives. 1975, 1984, 1987 editions; Who's Who in America. 38th-41st editions, 1974-1981; Who's Who in Finance and Industry. 18th edition, 1974-1975] >> www.fonda.org

She was born in Asheville on May 29, 1912, and graduated from Lee Edwards High School. She married Avery Hunt Fonda on May 5, 1951. Although she and Mr. Fonda traveled all over the world and lived in South Carolina, New York and Florida, they returned to Asheville, their home, to retire. She served as a Gray Lady at Oteen V.A. Hospital, and as a volunteer for the American Red Cross in Greenville, S.C. She was a longtime member of Central Methodist Church in Asheville. In addition to traveling, she enjoyed fine needlework, growing orchids and other exotic flowers, and was an avid reader. Mrs. Fonda was preceded in death by her husband, Avery Fonda; father, Norman Joseph Warner; mother, Amy Blakney Warner; brothers, Norman Warner Jr. and Nelson Warner; and sisters, Bertha Warner and Carolyn Warner. She is survived by her sister, Amy Allington, of Lincoln, Neb.; brother, Chandler Warner and wife, Sally, of Asheville; two sons and their wives, Everett R. Tweed III and Betty, of Charleston, S.C., and Warner Tweed and Dora, of Austin, Texas; four grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild. The graveside service will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday, July 19, 2007, at Riverside Cemetery, with arrangements made by Morris Funeral Home of Asheville. Memorial gifts may be sent to Mountain Area Hospice of Asheville, or to the American Diabetes Association.]

[Cambridge, MA - Irene Fonda Knox, 76, of Cambridge passed away Tuesday afternoon, March 1, 2005, at her home after a long battle with Alzheimer's Disease. She was born on Dec. 12, 1928, in Charlotte, daughter of the late Fordus and Ora (Russin) Fonda. She was a graduate of Hinesburg High School, Class of 1947. She has left behind her beloved husband of 57 years, George L. Knox. Together they raised six children who survive her, Linda West and her husband Linwood of Swanton, Brenda Wheeler and her husband Robert of Swanton, Susie Bixenman and her husband Donald of Colby, Kansas, Randall Knox and his partner, Bonnie Melton of Enosburg Falls, Nancy Weatherwax and her husband Joseph of Cambridge and Terry Ann Knox and her partner, Steven Bixenman of Colby, Kansas; a brother, Harold Fonda of Springfield, Mass.; and a sister, Shirley Fonda of Essex Junction; 16 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews. Irene was also predeceased by her grandson, George Weatherwax. A special thank you goes out to Tanya Weatherwax for all the loving care she gave to her grandmother-in-law for the past four years. We greatly appreciate the unconditional love and caring she gave Irene. Also a special thank you to Nancy Weatherwax for always being right there for her mom, truly a loving daughter. Visiting hours will be held Friday, March 4, 2005, from 5 to 8 p.m. in A.W. Rich Funeral Home, Fairfax. Interment with committal service will be scheduled in the Vermont Veterans Memorial Cemetery, Randolph Center, in the spring at the convenience of the family. Memorial contributions may be made in Irene's memory to Alzheimer's Association, VT & NH Chapter, 10 Ferry St., Suite 427B, Concord, NH 03301-5004. Friends who wish may forward online condolences by visiting www.awrichfuneralhome.com. Arrangements are by John D. Workman of the A.W. Rich Funeral Home, Fairfax Chapel, 1176 Main St., Fairfax.

[Albert was a Cadet at Cornell (ROTC?) from 1914 to 1917. He enlisted in the U.S. Marines right after college graduation in 1917, and was assigned to Key West flight training school, however WWI ended prior to his completion. As did many soldiers at the time, he contracted the Spanish Flu while still enlisted in 1918, and spent a month in Ohio recovering (could have been why he was not shipped overseas). He then served in the reserves between 1918 and 1922, in Philadelphia, Washington DC, Syracuse and Atlanta, and finished with the rank of Gunnery Sergeant. He worked in a Plainfield, NJ Creamery until a logging accident partially disabled his father, thereupon he returned home to help on the farm by 1920 and was married that same year. He continued with a successful farming career, taking after his father who had a farm machinery dealership and owned one of the first steam tractors in the area. Albert believed strongly in education, sending his children to the (better) neighboring Johnstown schools and supporting them all in their college educations. He later helped foster the Fonda-Fultonville Centralized School, crusading against some local rivalries.]

   [On Saturday, November 4, 2006, Houston Parks and Recreation Department rededicated southeast Houston's Fonde Park. Located at 5500 Carrollton and accessible from 2500 Hansford, at its opposite end, the 12.7-acre park was acquired by the city in 1950. The park's name honors Miss Corinne Fonde, a long-time administrator of the Recreation Department and the first deputy director when the Parks Department and the Recreation Department were combined into one city department. The Fonde Recreation Center, just off Buffalo Bayou near downtown and the Victorian homes of the Sixth Ward, is also named for Miss Fonde.]

   [Center recognizes Corrinne Fonde as leading light in recreation - Houston Business Journal - August 4, 2006 - Fonde Recreation Center has been a popular destination on Memorial Drive near downtown since 1965. Yet few residents likely know for whom the center is named. They may be surprised to learn it recognizes a woman, Corrinne Fonde, the city's first Director of Recreation. Fonde came to Houston in 1916 as the head social worker at Rusk Settlement House on the city's east side. In her position at Rusk, Fonde was responsible for supervising the center's activities. These included a variety of educational classes (including the city's first free kindergarten), a substation of the public library and a health clinic. Fonde was trained in kindergarten education, a new but growing concept. She had previously taught in the Sophie Newcomb free kindergarten training school in New Orleans. Her interest in recreation as a component of education led her to teach Play in Education for four summers at Louisiana]
State University. With this background, it was only natural that in 1919 Fonde was instrumental in organizing a department of recreation. She was sole employee in the beginning, but was supervising a staff of 40 by 1925. Fonde was a strong proponent of the merits of recreation as she saw them -- building citizenship, filling leisure hours in a healthy way, developing an appreciation for the beautiful and providing social interaction. She immediately began to formulate an extensive program that included playgrounds, athletics, music and dramatics. A special emphasis was placed on neighborhood activities. A 1924 report indicates that Fonde was successful almost immediately. She wanted the city playgrounds to be "schools of self-discovery and self-direction" for children, youth and adults. At that time, there were eight year-round playgrounds and 15 that operated in the summer. In addition, there were three free public swimming pools during the summer months. A variety of tournaments and clubs provided ongoing activity, while special novelty events such as pet shows, stunt nights and doll shows were periodically held. The annual report to the mayor in that year reported that 300,000 Houstonians participated in the Playground Division. The municipal athletic program included baseball, tennis, football, basketball, horseshoes, aquatics and track. These sports were organized through neighborhoods, churches, schools and businesses. During the 1924 season, the amateur baseball federation had 1,850 players on various teams. Community music became an important part of the recreational program. A Houston Orchestral Society, Houston Harmonic Society and a Boy's Chorus were formed. Solo performers gave concerts, and various courses in music were offered. The city appropriated $10,000 for summer band concerts presented by the Municipal Band in 51 concerts in 10 different locales. The educational dramatic division presented 55 plays, festivals and pageants with a total participation of almost 5,000 children and adults. A children's circus was an added feature to end the season. With the assistance of Frances Law, a volunteer on the City Playground Committee, Fonde had organized the first Girl Scout troop in Houston in 1921. By 1924 there were more than 600 girls involved in scouting. (Portraits of these two women hang in the San Jacinto Girl Scout Council headquarters today.) Considering that Houston was a city of less than 200,000 in 1924, these efforts seem extraordinary. Corrine Fonde obviously laid a strong foundation for what was to follow in the years ahead. Along the way she instituted some traditions, such as the Tree of Lights erected each Christmas season at City Hall. When the city's Recreation Department was folded into the Parks Department in 1943, Fonde became the assistant director of Parks and Recreation, a position she held until her retirement in 1946. Fonde died in 1950, but the building named for her is a lasting reminder of one woman's pioneering efforts to enrich the lives of Houstonians by making the city a more enjoyable and healthier community.

[Former Resident of Fonda Shoots Wife - Mrs. William C. Fonda Seriously Wounded by Husband - Domestic Quarrel Over Marital Adventures of Son Ends In Tragedy - Wife Was About to Attack Him With Hammer and Knife When He Wheeled and Shot - The following account of a family tragedy, taken from a Seattle, Wash., paper of Friday, November 28, will prove of great interest to our readers, because "William C. Fonda, the son of Peter J. Fonda, was born in Fultonville, and for several years was in business in Fonda, where be also resided. When the Klondike fever was on, Fonda left the Mohawk valley for that section, and upon returning told such wonderful stories of the gold fields that he was dubbed "Klondike Bill." W. C. Fonda, age 58, shot and, seriously wounded his wife, 61 years, at their home, No. 4, 716 45th avenue S. W., a little before 9 o'clock this morning, following a quarrel over family affairs. The bullet passed entirely through the left shoulder, a little above the heart. The wound, while serious, probably will not prove fatal. (...) Fonda and his wife are said to have quarreled often about a son of Mrs. Fonda by a former marriage, who is now in Portland. The son has been married four times, it is claimed, and each time his choice of a wife has displeased the stepfather. The mother upheld the actions of her son, and trouble ensued. Mrs. Fonda was unable to make a statement this morning. She was removed in an ambulance of the Bounty-Watson company to the Providence hospital. Fonda is a contracting painter, and is said to have been doing well in that line. He formerly was an employee of the Puget Sound Traction Light and Power company, but left the service in 1910. [Mr. Fonda is Thankful - Jacob Fonda, who broke his leg while running to a fire with Delaware Hose Co. about five weeks ago, is now about on crutches. Mr. Fonda desires The Gazette to extend to Delaware Hose Co. and to the citizens who contributed to a subscription paper, his sincere thanks for their kindness and liberality. The purse amounted to about $100, of which Delaware Hose subscribed $25, and this sum was a great help to Mr. Fonda during his long enforced illness. It was a kindly act on the part of Delaware Hose, inasmuch as Mr. Fonda was not a member of their company. Port Jervis NY Evening Gazette, Saturday, March 17, 1888]

[Jacob Fonda, a successful business man of Port Jervis, died Sunday from the effects of an operation on the prostate gland. He was 38 years old and married. He went to Port Jervis from Fonda about eighteen years ago with 10 cents in his pocket. His maternal great-grandfather was an English nobleman and his paternal great-grandfather was a Spanish grandee. Sons of these came to America and settled in the Mohawk valley, where his grandfather founded the village of Fonda, which bears his name. Mr. Fonda was captain of the Port Jervis fire police. Gloversville NY Daily Leader, Tuesday, April 24, 1900]

[Mr. J. C. Fonda Dead - Passed Away at His Home After Several Weeks' Illness - It is with sincere regret that we record the death at his home at, No. 17 Owen street, at 10.15 o'clock, last night, of Jacob Charles Fonda, proprietor of the Port Jervis Steam Laundry, of prostatitis and other complications, after an illness of several weeks' duration. Mr. Fonda was operated upon nearly two weeks ago and was apparently rapidly improving until Thursday night last, when he suffered a succession of hemorrhages from which he rallied. He was again improving and several hours before his death his condition was such as to encourage his relatives and friends, who were hopeful to the last. Mr. Fonda is survived by his wife, one son, three and a half years of age, who bears his name, Jacob Charles Fonda; one brother, Zachariah Franklin, of Morris Heights, N. J., and one sister, Catherine, wife of James A. Burnham, of Harrison, N. J. Jacob Charles Fonda was born at Fonda, Montgomery county, N. Y., on June 12th, 1861 and was the son of the late David Scott Fonda, and Josephine Burwick, who is now the widow of the late Robert R. Colfax, also having been twice married. The town of Fonda, in which the deceased was born was named after his ancestors, who were pioneer settlers in the Mohawk valley. Mr. Fonda traced his ancestry back on the maternal side to the peerage of England and on the father's side to a noble family of Castile. Descendants of these families came to America and settled in the Mohawk Valley. Eighteen years ago Mr. Fonda came to Port Jervis, securing employment with the firm of Malven, Gordon & Company. On his arrival in this village his cash capital was only ten dollars but his ambition, pluck and industry enabled him to overcome all obstacles and to achieve an enviable success in business. Thirteen years ago Mr. Fonda took charge of a steam laundry on Hall street of which he afterward became the owner. The laundry was moved to the Fowler House building and some years afterwards to the present location on Front street. On February 7th, 1895, Mr. Fonda was united in marriage to Miss Eleanor Evelyn Schoonover, of New York city. Mr. Fonda was reared in the faith of the Dutch Reformed Church and at the time of his death was a member of the congregation of the Reformed Church of Deerpark, in this village. He was an enterprising businessman and a public spirited citizen.

Updated October 2022 1036
Politically Mr. Fonda believed in the principles of the Republican party and used his influence for its success. He enjoyed great popularity in this village and had a wide acquaintance throughout the town and county. He was prominently identified with firemen affairs and was a member of Delaware hose company No. 2, and was chief of the fire police of the village. Port Jervis NY Tri-States Union 1900.]

Dorothy Jeanette FONDA; Birth Date: 3 Jun 1915; Birth County: Rock, Wisconsin; Mother Residence County: Rock

Dorothy Jeanette (Fonda) Rasmussen, 93, of Beloit, WI died Thursday, October 2, 2008 at Pioneer Court. She was born June 3, 1915 in Turtle Township, Rock County, WI, the daughter of Jay and Alice Rosenthal Fonda. Dorothy was a 1933 graduate of Beloit High School and also attended Beloit Vocational School. She married Robert Rasmussen on November 23, 1938 at the First Baptist Church, Beloit, WI. She predeceased her on June 3, 1994. Dorothy was a resident of Rockton, IL for over 65 years and after her retirement, Dorothy wintered at Fun & Sun, San Benito, TX. Dorothy was employed by Sears and later by Hononegah High School for 23-1/2 years as a secretary to the superintendents, Doc Loomis and Dave Malinsky, retiring in 1977. She was a member of the Diaconate, a Bible School Teacher, and Charter Member and First President of the Uniservety Group which was established December 7, 1941, of the First Baptist Church, Beloit, WI where she had been a member since 1931. Dorothy was involved with various committees and church events including W.M.S., Green Lake Women's House Party, and Camp Tamarack's Young at Heart Camp. She was a delegate at two of the Baptist World Alliance's; one in Cleveland, OH in 1950 and Stockholm, Sweden in 1975. Dorothy was also a member of the Rockton Women's Club and the Roscoe Chapter #641 Order of the Eastern Star where she was honored for 50 years of service in 1995. She was the Girl Scout Leader of Rockton's Troop #84 for many years. Dorothy loved to travel. Her travels included Europe, Mexico, North Africa, South America, and many of the 50 states, including Alaska and Hawaii. She was an excellent cook and baker, had perfect penmanship even into her nineties, and was a meticulous bookkeeper. Survivors include her two daughters, Karen (John) Wilcox of Egg Harbor, WI and Ruth (Ron) Diderich of Livingston, TX; four grandchildren, Ann (Chris) Hankins, Sara (Braxton) Neiman, Greg Diderich, and Rebecca Diderich; four great grandchildren, Clare and Addie Hankins, Braxton and Greta Neiman; sister, June Sorenson; sisters-in-law, Lois Schmidley and Maxine Rasmussen; many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her parents, brother, Harold (Blanche) Anderson, sister, Marion (Arlo "Mac") McNary, brothers-in-law, Roy Soderberg, Howard Rasmussen, and Harold Schmidley. The family wishes to give a special thank you for the excellent care given by the staff of Pioneer Court and also to the Beloit Regional Hospice and Home Health Companions. Funeral services will be 10:30 a.m. Monday, October 13, 2008 in First Baptist Church, 617 Public Avenue, Beloit, WI with Reverend Gene Van Galder officiating. Burial will be in East Lawn Cemetery. Visitation will be Monday from 9:30 a.m. until the time of service in the church. Daley-Murphy-Wisch & Assoc. [Wilma "June" Fonda (Soderberg) Sorenson, 90, of Beloit, WI passed away peacefully surrounded by her family on Thursday, October 31, 2013 in Premier Rehabilitation and Skilled Nursing, Beloit, WI. She was born June 19, 1923 the daughter of Jay and Alice (Rosenthal) Fonda. June was a 1942 graduate of Beloit High School. She married Roy Soderberg on May 1, 1943 and they were married 43 years. He predeceased her on June 17, 1986. She later married Llewelyn Sorenson on May 10, 1989. He predeceased her on June 19, 1998. June was formerly employed by Coca Cola for 10 years and Fairbanks Morse where she worked in the payroll department. She enjoyed her many church activities including choir member, ABW president, member of the Ruth Circle, Uni-Servity group, served on many committees and was very active in organizing the church rummage sales. June was involved in Caritas and the Rock River Association. She loved to visit Camp Tamarack each year with church friends. June especially loved the annual camping trips to Green Lake at the American Baptist Assembly grounds. June loved cooking food for large groups of friends and family, hosting corn boils at the farm, campfires and family picnics. One of her favorite past times was quilting with her best friend, Miriam Ford Looker who spent many hours of piece work making beautiful handmade quilts together. Survivors include her children, Gary (Janet) Soderberg of Beloit, WI, Michael (Kathy) Soderberg of Shopiere, WI, and David (Lori) Soderberg of Monroe, WI; seven grandchildren, Lisa (Rich) Miller, Kyle (Christine) Soderberg, Ashley Soderberg, Michele (Bill) Brown, Jennifer (Andrew) Yeadon, Nathan Soderberg and Rachel Soderberg; eight great grandchildren, Brett, Amber, Sydney, Kylie, Molly, Liam, Emma, and Sadie; many nieces and nephews. She was predeceased by her parents, granddaughter, Shari Soderberg, one brother, Harold Anderson, two sisters, Marian McNary and Dorothy Rasmussen. The family would like to thank the staff at Premier Rehabilitation and Skilled Nursing for the care that was given to June. Funeral services will be 11:00 a.m. Monday, November 4, 2013 in First Baptist Church, 617 Public Avenue, Beloit, WI with Pastor Stephen Hawkins officiating. Burial will be in Turtleville Cemetery. Visitation will be from 9:30 a.m. until the time of service Monday in the Church. Daley Murphy Wisch & Associates Funeral Home and Crematorium, 2355 Cranston Rd. Beloit, WI, assisted the family with the arrangements.]

L. Dodds, formerly of Purdue university and newly-elected dean of the School of Education of Illinois university will be featured speaker at the Valparaiso Teachers Workshop to be held Aug. 31 and Sept. 1 at the high school, Miss Dorothy V. Smith, the workshop chairman, announced today. Dodds, who has been director of the division of education and applied psychology since 1948 at Purdue, where he was first employed in 1939, will speak at the teachers' conference dinner a 6:30 p.m. Sept. 1, at the high school library. The theme of this year's work shop, according to Miss Smith, will be improving instruction through the concept that learning is based on individual instruction. Eight committees will carry on discussion sections on the various teaching problems. A special invitation has been sent to the board of directors of the Porter County Society for Crippled Children inviting society members to attend the sessions. This year's program features discussions of the mentally, physically, speech and hearing handicapped child. The pre-school conference is held each year for the faculty of the Valparaiso city schools. Immanuel Lutheran and St. Paul's Catholic schools have been invited to attend the sessions. Dodds, a native of Nebraska, received his A. B. degree from the University of Nebraska in 1926, M. A. degree from the University of Wyoming in 1936, and Ed. D. from the Columbia Teachers college in 1940. The attack upon Stanton was made in almost exactly the same spot where Private Frank W. Fonda, also of Company L, was struck and instantly killed by a Lackawanna passenger train several weeks previous (May 1917).]

[Frank W. Fonda - The first Elmira soldier in the war with Germany has lost his life under the Stars and Stripes, doing his duty for Uncle Sam. Frank Fonda, a private of Company L, has "done his bit" with all honor to himself. He has answered his last roll call. It is a proud distinction, albeit such dispensations passeth understanding. Frank Fonda, beloved of a happy family, endeared to a large circle of friends, bound to his soldier comrades by ties known only to those who have seen service, loyal to his Country and his Flag, will be held in revered memory so long as Elmirans who live today live on. The manner of his death is inconsequential. Whether it was to come as it has come to others who were pursuing peaceful occupations, or whether it was to have been reserved for the battlefields of France, is immaterial. It came when he was doing his duty, serving his Flag as his Country bade him, ready to do or to die for America. In the family home there is sorrow, but it is sorrow that must he tempered with pride when the father and the mother and the sister see the Stars and Stripes draped on the casket which contains their soldier boy and when they know of the respect and honor that his service brought to him and to them. Elmira cannot forget the name of Frank Fonda. Elmira Star-Gazette, Tuesday, May 15, 1917]; [Comrades Pay Final Tribute - Impressive Military Funeral Held Over Remains of Private Frank W. Fonda Who Was Killed on Duty - The body of Frank W. Fonda, member of Company L, who was killed by a train while in the performance of his duty last Monday, was buried in Woodlawn Cemetery yesterday afternoon with full military honors. A firing squad of Company L regulars, brought here from the guard camps by Lieutenant J. I. Varney to honor their former comrade, fired a volley over the grave. Prominent city and county officials, including Mayor Harry Hoffman, Major William A. Turnbull and officers from the Third Battalion headquarters here and about 40 members of Company L participated in the funeral. Services were held at the home at 105 East Henry street, at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon while the public services were held in the Riverside M. E. church, in charge of the Rev. C. E. Hutchings, present pastor, and the Rev. A. E. Atwater, former minister. The soldiers escorted the body to the cemetery, making an impressive sight as they marched through the city's principal streets. The casket was draped with a beautiful American flag while six soldiers acted as pall-bearers. Bugler Melvin J. Rhoades of Company L sounded taps at the grave. ['Talking' Horse The Bunk? Reporter Thought So Too, Until He Interviewed Her. Editor's note: The nation's curiosity has been aroused by Lady Wonder, Richmond's 'talking' horse. Police credit the animal with giving them a clue to the whereabouts of a Massachusetts child for whom they had searched for nearly two years. Now a great number of persons are seeking advice from Lady. Hard to believe? Associated Press reporter Paul Duke thought so too, so he paid a visit to Lady's stall for an "interview". Here's what he found. By Paul Duke - Richmond, Va. So you're skeptical about Lady Wonder, Richmond's incredible "talking" horse? So was this reporter when he went out to "interview" her. A, horse that can predict the future and reel off facts like a child prodigy? Just a lot of bunk I thought. But after a half hour's "chat" with Lady I came away from her tiny stall scratching my head and wondering. Lots of other folks are wondering too now that Lady has been credited with providing the "tip" that led to discovery of the body of Danny Matson, a 4-year-old child missing from his Quincy Mass., home for nearly two years. Since Sunday, Lady's mistress a gray-haired little woman named Claudia Fonda, has been deluged with long-distance calls from persons who want the 27 year-old horse quizzed on everything from stolen bicycles to wildcat oil wells. Mrs. Fonda won't take the requests by telephone, declaring that Lady is not at her best unless the questioner is on hand to get the answer straight from the horse's mouth. Mrs. Fonda made two exceptions to this rule, however. She agreed to ask Lady sometime today about Phyllis June Ryber, missing 19-year-old beauty from Eggertsville, N. Y., and an unidentified Chicagoan who recently disappeared. But about that interview: Lady flabbergasted me when he correctly answered most of he 15 questions I fired at her. She does her answering by poking her chin at levers extending out from tiny slides containing numbers and letters. When she touches the levers, the numbers and letters shoot up spelling out her answers. Mrs. Fonda stood beside Lady repeating the questions into the mare's ear. Sometimes Mrs. Fonda grazed Lady's sleek brown back with the swish of a whip she did this to prod the horse. Lady started out perfectly by pecking out my name. When I asked her where I was born, she spelled out Bethlehem, Pa. the right answer. When I asked her how much money I make weekly she came back with the exact dollars-and-cents figure. She flubbed it when I asked her where I went to school. But two questions later, she named the school in a delayed-action reply - Lady has been playing this question and answer game for more than 20 years. The folks who visit her at Mrs. Fonda's small frame house on the edge of town get three questions for a dollar. Occasionally, a psychologist or someone prominent in the medical field comes along to try Lady. In 1928, two Duke University psychology professors tested her and concluded: "There appear to be no loopholes, no reasonable possibility or signaling, either of a conscious or unconscious character." And in 1946, Dr. Thomas L. Garrette, New York psychologist, said he could find "no trickery involved." I thought about a tip-off system between Lady and her mistress. But she has answered questions when Mrs. Fonda wasn't nearby. How does Lady do it? I asked Lady that very question. She hesitated, then slowly spelled out "M-I-N-D." I asked her if she'd like to be a human. "Yes," came the answer. Mrs. Fonda, who calls her pet an "educated horse," bought Lady when she was a baby colt. She said she first noticed a strangeness about the animal when Lady would romp into the barn just as Mrs. Fonda was on the verge of calling her. Possibly, said Mrs. Fonda, Lady picked up the 'thought message' and decided to come to the barn before being formally summoned. Lady is, and always has been, quite a lure for sightseers. And by far the most popular questions are those dealing with love. Occasionally, said Mrs. Fonda, someone tries to "catch" Lady. Like the man who wanted to know if his wife were true to him? Lady snorted and twitched, then replied: "Are you?" The Sheboygan (Wis.) Press, Tuesday. December 9, 1952

[In 1916, Mr. Fonda joined the National Security League, a pro-war political activism group, and had the credit of capturing the first German Spy that was secured in this country. His name was Antone Havercamp, who was caught in the rear of the Criminal Court Building of Kansas City and who had in his possession about three and a half bushels of bomb parts. Through the efforts of Mr. Fonda he was incarcerated at Fort Riley. Mr. Fonda was the chairman of the United States Labor Board of Jackson County, Missouri, and was also United States Food Commissioner for the County. He was a most active worker in support of the government throughout the war period. He had charge of the Liberty Loan Drive for Independence and raised four hundred and ten thousand dollars, this being twenty thousand dollars above the quota. The entire expense of the drive, including the raising of this amount, was only seventy dollars and thirty-five cents.]

['It Ain't Me', Fonda Says... Justice Accused As Collector Asserts Folks Buy Too Much - The last few weeks have seen another flare-up about Justice Anthony P. Fonda's stand in Independence. Almost periodically in the twenty one years he has been a justice in Family Court he has been assailed as being a motorists' pest, a debt collectors' haven. This time the Kansas City Bar Association Committee has referred to some Fonda collection cases as "legal robbery." Several suits against him have been filed and writs of prohibition issued. But Justice Fonda tells how matters really stand. "The whole trouble," according to Anthony P. Fonda, Justice of the Peace at Independence, "is that people live beyond their means. They can't pay their debts, the installments aren't installed and the lawyers come into the justice courts and the merry go round of summonses, judgments and garnishments begins. But brother," Justice Fonda says, raising his voice so there shall be no mistake, "I didn't have nothin' to do with that. I gotta do what the law says I should do. A man comes in here and says somebody owes him $100 and I don't know if he's a saint or a liar. I gotta issue the summons." Kansas City Star, 1927-03-28]

[Oneonta - Sanford V. Fonda, a well known barber in Oneonta, who has lately been employed at the Apak shop, died Thursday at his home, 338 Main street, within a few minutes after he was stricken with angina pectoris. Mr. Fonda had been about as usual during the day, but awakened during the night and was stricken as he was walking toward the kitchen of his apartment. Funeral services were held Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the family home, 338 Main street, by Stewart C. Millard, reader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist. The body was taken to Breakabeen for interment. Sanford V. Fonda was born May 30, 1881, at Sharon Springs, the son of David and Sarah (Hurst) Fonda and spent his young manhood there. He was about 25 years old when he went to Schenectady, where he worked at his trade for about seven years, later returning to Sharon Springs for about four years before coming to Oneonta in 1922. He was married in 1902 to Ida Bergh of Breakabeen, who survives him together with four children, Dr. Leland Fonda, of Titusville, Pa., Edwin Fonda, of New York city, and Miss Betty Fonda and Miss Gertrude Fonda, both of whom live at home; two sisters, Mrs. Edna Swift and Miss Florence Fonda of Jersey City, N. J.; three brothers, John Fonda of Syracuse, Andrew Fonda of Cherry Valley and Dr. Hurst Fonda of Braddock, Pa.; besides a number of nephews, nieces and cousins. Mr. Fonda was a capable workman and a man possessed of a pleasing personality which made him wide circles of friends, who will join in sympathy to the family. His injuries are so serious that it is the present intention to send him to an Omaha hospital for treatment. The accident was due to the breaking of the clamp which held the scoop rigid, and when this broke the car containing the engine and boiler toppled over, allowing the steam to escape. Mr. Brown was thrown in such a position that he could not get away from the released steam in time to avoid being scalded. As soon as he could get to his feet he ran and jumped into the lake, which cooled off the heated clothing, else the burns on legs would have been worse. [Longtime Birmingham-Bloomfield resident James R. Fonda died December 15, 2003 after an extended illness, in Sunnyvale, California where he had recently relocated. Born December 20, 1915 in Troy, New York, he was a graduate of Rider College in Trenton, New Jersey. In 1939, he moved to Houston, Texas, where he soon began work as a salesman of accounting machines for Burroughs Corporation. He married Mary Jane Quinby in 1943 while in the army and in the fall of 1944 took his position with the 106th Division near St. Vith, Belgium as a First Lieutenant of the Field Artillery. Shortly thereafter, the German offensive began and he was captured during the Battle of the Bulge in December, 1944. He remained a POW in Germany until the end of the war despite attempts by Patton's troops to liberate his camp in February. Resuming his work for Burroughs, he moved to Detroit in 1946 and to Birmingham in 1948. He was Branch Manager in Akron, Ohio from 1958-66, a salesman in Cleveland from 1966-69 and then returned to this area. He devoted his entire working career to Burroughs, retiring in 1985. He was a longtime member of Christ Church Cranbrook and was active in the Senior Men's Club in Birmingham. His survivors include his wife of 60 years, Mary Jane, his sons Jim (of Santa Clara, California) and Rod (of Bellevue, Washington), daughters-in-law Mary-Ann Fonda and Laura Haddad, grandson, Kyle Haddad-Fonda, and sisters Louise Ditsch, formerly of Syracuse, New York but now residing in Fallbrook, California, and Toni Curley of Troy, New York. Obit from family.]

[Longtime Birmingham/ Bloomfield resident Mary Jane Quinby Fonda died September 29, 2013 after a long full life. She died in Cupertino, California, where she and her late husband, James R. Fonda, relocated in 2003. Mary Jane was born in Oklahoma City on November 15, 1917. She grew up primarily in Tulsa, before moving to Houston, where she graduated from San Jacinto High School and then Rice Institute. She worked for Burroughs Corporation in Houston, where she met her future husband who had recently moved from his native Troy, New York. Both families had moved to relatively prosperous Houston to escape the economic woes of the Depression in Oklahoma and upstate New York. Like so many members of the Greatest Generation they next proceeded to World War II. They were married January 10, 1943, and spent their first year of marriage migrating from one Army training base to the next. Mary Jane spent their second anniversary not knowing if her husband was alive, as he was MIA following the Battle of the Bulge. In Spring of 1945 she welcomed him home after his stint as a POW, and soon thereafter they moved to Detroit, the headquarters of Burroughs. Her husband worked for Burroughs his entire career until he retired in 1985. From the time their first son was born in 1948, they lived in the Birmingham/Bloomfield area the entire time, except for a 10 year residence in Akron while he served as Branch Manager. Even during those years she spent much of her time in this area, since both her sons attended Cranbrook. She was particularly devoted to Art, serving as a docent for the Akron Art Institute and then the Detroit Institute of Arts, where she was also long active in the Art to the Schools Program. She is survived by her two sons, James R. Fonda, Jr. of Cupertino, California and Rodney Q. Fonda of Issaquah, Washington, her daughter-in-law Laura Haddad, her beloved grandson Kyle Q. Haddad-Fonda, and eight nieces and nephews. As the last living family member of her generation, Mary Jane was predeceased by her husband (in 2003), her brother J. Rodney Quinby of Houston, and her sister Lucy Quinby Bricker of Bellaire, Texas. She was also] predeceased by her daughter-in-law Mary-Ann Fonda. She would have welcomed any memorials in her name to the Detroit Institute of Art. (Obituary from family) >> www.fonda.org <<

Miss Nell Spilde was married to Mr. Stanley Fonda. The couple spent a few days away, returning home here Tuesday. They plan however, to leave very soon on a more extended honeymoon. The event proved something of a surprise to the many friends of the couple, although it was not entirely unexpected. Miss Spilde is a Northwood girl, having come to Osage a couple of years ago to accept a sales position in the Daylight store. She remained at the store until a few months ago when she resigned to return to Northwood to prepare for her wedding. She is an exceedingly likeable young woman and has acquired a multitude of friends during her comparatively short residence here. Mr. Fonda occupies the position of bookkeeper and head clerk at Leuthold & Even's clothing store. He started in with the institution several years ago, and by strict application to business and a personality marked by sincerity and good will, has attained his present excellent footing in the city's business circles. The young people have rented the small Gardner cottage on Chase Street near the fifth street corner, and will keep house at once. The cottage has [Lester T. Fonda, son of Mrs. Anna Fonda, passed away at a Keokuk (IA) hospital after an illness of several weeks. He became ill with pleurisy in April, from which complications developed, and was taken to the hospital April 21, where he underwent an operation, which seemingly was successful. However, he never recovered from the ordeal, and two weeks later passed away. His mother was with him during the last three weeks of his life.

Lester was born October 13, 1897, on a farm east of Osage (now the Burton Stacy place), the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Fonda. He spent his boyhood in Osage, attended the local schools, and was graduated with the class of 1915. He was an active, attractive boy, popular with his schoolmates, and made a good record in school activities, including football and basketball. Following his graduation he worked at the Lohr & Champion furniture store, and later bought the Osage Vulcanizing works from Walton Morrison. He operated the latter place until the evening he left for Waterloo, where he enlisted for service in the World War, and was sent to Jefferson Barracks. His detachment was No. 6, 163rd D.B., and he was a mechanic on a bombing plane. He received his honorable discharge December 20, 1918, at Camp Dodge, and returned to Osage. Lester worked for a short time at Milwaukee, and at Wausau, WI, then he returned home and with his mother and his sister, Lola, and brother William, moved to Ames, where the three young people entered the state college. He completed two years of his course, and was affiliated with Lambda Chi Alpha, a national fraternity. Leaving college, he became a partner in a contracting business at Keokuk that is known all over that part of IA, as "Atteberg & Fonda." He has erected many important buildings in Keokuk and vicinity, also many beautiful homes. Some time ago he became associated with the firm of Cameron & Joyce, and was their assistant superintendent. When he was taken ill he was supervising a construction project in Joliet, IL. His wife was formerly Bess Caruthers, of Farmington, IA, and they are parents of a daughter, Marjory Ann, 7 years of age. Another child died at birth. Surviving besides the wife and daughter are his mother, Mrs. Anna Fonda, who lives with her mother, Mrs. Martha Doudna, Osage; his sister, Mrs. Newman Lyle, of Sheldon, IA; and his brother, William, Ames. Funeral services were held at the Pearson & Schmidt funeral home in Keokuk, and burial made in the National cemetery at that place, with Masonic and military honors.]

But optimism unshakable - by Lea Tonkin - The livestock farmer's lot has never been an armchair kind of existence, and the current problems of rising costs, fuel shortages and poor weather add uncertainty to the cost of doing business. Yet the farmers' optimism is pretty unshakable, said the marketing director for a local grain storage and feeding systems company. "We are optimistic because the farmers are optimistic," said Morris Fonda, Director of Marketing for the Arlington Heights-based A. O. Smith Harvestore Products Inc., subsidiary of A. O. Smith Corp. "With the increase in the more businesslike type of farm, we all think this is good for their outlook," Fonda adds. The overall trend, despite recent boycotts, is toward higher consumption of pork and beef and this means rising farm income. This translates into hefty sales increases for the Harvestore division. [Memorial Rites Will Be Held At Fultonville - Fultonville, Jan. 20 - A memorial service, sponsored by the Fultonville Community Club, for Francis Arthur Fonda, seaman second class, United States Navy, and first casualty of the war from Fultonville or the Town of Glen, will be held at the Fultonville Pilgrim Holiness Church, Thursday evening, January 27, at 7:30 o’clock. (...) Francis Arthur Fonda was born in Fultonville, February 26, 1915, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield S. Fonda, South Main Street. He attended Fultonville School. Seaman Fonda enlisted in the United States Navy April 13, 1942, and was later assigned to the U. S. S. Barton, which participated in the third battle of Savo Island in the Pacific area, after which battle he was reported missing by the Navy Department November 13, 1942. A year later, November 13, 1943, Mr. and Mrs. Fonda received a letter from Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, saying that inasmuch as a year had elapsed since their son had been reported missing following the participation of his ship in the third battle of Savo Island, and despite the subsequent searches made for the personnel after that battle and due to the length of time that had elapsed without any indication of his survival he was reluctantly forced to the conclusion that their son was deceased, and his death was presumed to have occurred on November 14, 1943, pursuant to Section 5 of Public Law 490. Beside his parents Seaman Fonda is survived by one brother Richard Fonda, Fultonville; four sisters, Mrs. Frederick Engle, Fonda; Mrs. William Cromer, Johnstown; Mrs. William Poulney, Tribes Hill-Johnstown Road, and Mrs. Frank Paine, Fultonville. [James Arthur Holley, 94, of Walton, reunited with his lifelong dancing partner on Saturday June 17, 2017. James was born on February 19, 1923 in Walton to Robert and Emma (Brown) Holley. He was one of five children. In his early life he worked on the family farm, later on he joined the Army, in which he proudly served during WWII. He was in the 337th Infantry Division. While in the Army, he spent time in Africa and the Italian Alps. Later on he was employed as a patrolman for the NYC Board of Water Supply and often worked a second job painting and papering. On May 17, 1947 he married the love of his life, Peg (Fonda). Together they built a picturesque life. During his long journey on earth, he truly enjoyed all that life had to offer. He was an avid outdoorsman. Enjoying nature all year long, he found great joy in hunting, fishing, and camping. He took pride in his bountiful garden, right up until he passed away. His family was always his top priority. Jim will be remembered for his hard work ethic. He would not let anything slow him down. He instilled the value of hard work into his children and grandchildren. He was predeceased by his beloved wife of 69 years, Peg, his parents Robert and Emma, sisters, Hazel, Roberta, and Alice, and one brother, Hilton. He is survived by his children, Lynn (Kathy) Holley of Winchester, VA, Peggy Ann (Dirck) Pilch of Delhi, NY, and John Holley of Walton, NY. res. Gloversville, NY; res. Kenmore, NY; res. Buffalo, NY; [Annual Hall of Fame Game special for fans and players - By Jeff Reynolds, The Leader-Herald - Tuesday, June 15, 2004 - Coopertown - At noon, things were easy. There weren't many people around, not many tickets to check, not many kids - or adults - to keep off the fences. But not even an hour later, it was chaos as nearly 10,000 baseball fans raced around to find their seats at Doubleday Field and get a good spot for prized autographs from some of the best baseball players in the country. It was just another year for one group of local residents. Five summers ago, Mark Fonda got a call from a friend asking if he was interested in being an usher at the Hall of Fame Game. That phone call began what has become an annual ritual for a group of seven friends and baseball fans who enjoyed an exciting 10-7 win by the Atlanta Braves over the Minnesota Twins on Monday afternoon. Mark Fonda, Mike Hauser, Vern Jackson, Eric Jackson, Van Fonda, Greg Garguilo, Scott Gibson and Tim Winslow are the area's local workforce at the Hall of Fame Game. "We basically have the whole third-base line," Hauser said. On Monday, the seven friends stood post in their white and red hats and commemorative T-shirts, greeting fans, assisting those not able to find their seats and having a good time in the process. "I was really excited about it," Mark Fonda recalled of his first time serving as an usher at the annual exhibition game featuring two major-league teams.] >> www.fonda.org <<

[November 16, 2011 - Fonda wins race for Colchester supervisor - Following the count of most of the absentee ballots in the race for Colchester town supervisor, the unofficial vote was 368-332 in favor of challenger Theodore Fonda, a Delaware County Board of Elections official said Tuesday. Fonda was ahead by 26 votes on Election Day, when both sides said the race was too close to call. Although the vote won't be official until Monday, longtime incumbent Robert Homovich has conceded and said Tuesday he wishes Fonda "the best of luck" as supervisor. Fonda, who has been town justice for 21 years, said there was a large voter turnout, with about 700 people casting ballots. A more typical number is 300 to 400. They were concerned enough about their town, and "they made their choice," he said. The retired New York City Police Department detective sergeant said he was hoping for a smooth transition, and that his experience as a commanding officer will help give the town's police department "better direction." Homovich, who has served for 16 years as supervisor, will step down when his term is up at the end of the year.]

[Colchester supervisor Ted Fonda resigns (updated) - 5/2/12 - Colchester supervisor Ted Fonda, who was elected to the post just six months ago, has resigned. An employee at the Colchester town clerk's office told the Watershed Post that Fonda turned in a letter of resignation yesterday. The town board will be meeting tonight to accept his resignation. Update, 6pm: If we'd done our homework this morning, we'd have realized the Walton Reporter beat us to this story. Fonda, who is 73, told the Reporter yesterday that he was resigning because of health issues: Fonda listed "high blood pressure, loss of weight, lack of sleep" as reasons for his departure. "My doctor said I could quit, or quit having him for my doctor," he said. We spoke to Fonda this afternoon. Fonda said that his brief tenure as town supervisor had been incredibly stressful, in part because he had fierce opposition from the Colchester town board. "I've been battling the board for four months," he said. "I was the people's choice, but not their choice. And they fought me tooth and nail." Fonda mentioned his efforts to get the town to join the Stream Corridor Management Program through the Delaware County Soil and Water Conservation District. "They asked us to sign onto an agreement which gave us opportunity for aid, and definitely free engineering if we needed it," he said. "I was for it and the entire board was against it." Fonda also said that he had been] the target of personal attacks during the election, a close race in which Fonda narrowly won against incumbent Robert Homovich. Fonda, who retired from the New York City police force before serving for 21 years as Colchester's town justice, said that he was frustrated by a culture that pits longtime locals against newer residents. "It's tragic. Any potential growth will be put on the side burner," he said. "There is another world out there, and we're competing with that world." Middletown supervisor Marge Miller, another newly elected Delaware County supervisor whose town shares a border and a New York City reservoir with Colchester, said that she was sorry to see Fonda go. "We did our elected training together in Albany. My experience of him was that he was very gentlemanly and seemed to care deeply about Colchester," she said. "I'm sorry things didn't work out for him."

[New York Times: Jun 26, 1921 - SAW THE TRAIN FALL ON TOP OF HIS AUTO - Driver of Machine jumped From Under as Cars Toppled to Street. - Stories of Eyewitnesses - Train Made a Nose Dive Like a Falling Airplane, Says One. Nobody had a better view of the Brooklyn elevated wreck yesterday or came closer to it as a bystander than Douglas C. Fonda of Llewellyn Park, West Orange, N. J., whose automobile was stopped by the first car of the train falling squarely across the hood. The escape of Fonda and his friend, James Menkes of 1,430 University Avenue, the Bronx, from death was one of the most remarkable of the afternoon. Fonda was driving, on his way to Manhattan. The car was a Dodge; one of the wagons used on big estates to meet trains and get baggage. He heard a grinding sound and heard the sizzling of crossed electric wires while a short distance from the tracks. He said he jumped before the train fell, although others who saw him said he sat in the car a few moments afterward, apparently dazed. "I was going about ten miles an hour," said Fonda, "and knew that the car couldn't gather enough momentum to shoot past the elevated structure in time to prevent my car from being smashed. The train was beginning to topple when I jammed on my brakes, yelling to my friend. It wasn't three seconds until the first car of the train was resting on the hood and front dart of the top of the car. We ran about forty feet after jumping from the auto and when we turned around the two-car train was lying on the ground.

"Hearing the cries of the people inside the cars we went back, and with others helped pull out several of those in the cars. I must have helped ten or twelve out before the police shoved us out of the way. I pointed to my car and told the officer that it was mine. And the officer said, "Well, what can be done?" Lewis C. Awell, 45 years old, of 844 President Street, Brooklyn, President of the Lewis C. Awell Company, manufacturers of paints and varnishes, was one of the passengers on the first car. He had been reported dead by the police, but was found at his home, suffering from internal injuries and many cuts. His daughter said he could not tell his story, but said: "My father was on the way to Jamaica to confer with business associates. He was riding in the rear part of the first car when it left the track and fell to the street. We lost consciousness, but after being taken out of the debris by a patrolman he was identified through cards he carried and sent home. He had in his pockets $500.000 worth of securities. He has been badly injured, but we hope for his recovery." One of the unusual escapes was that of A. M. Pear, a merchant of Asbury Park, who was in the rear car near the front door. "There were about thirty people in our car," he said. "We were coming along Flatbush Avenue at a fair rate of speed. Just as we reached Atlantic Avenue, there was a grinding noise, which I later learned was the applying of the brakes. The car lifted to the right. There was a little girl about 14 years old sitting beside me. She became hysterical and she rushed toward the window. I grabbed her and said, 'Don't jump.' There was a blinding flash, and the car was filled with a dense pungent odor. It was all over in a second. We hit the ground with a terrible thump...]

[Upsets Mark Brilliant Regatta at west End Boat Club - Chester Times, Chester, Pa., Monday, August 17, 1936 - Sensational Field - Mullen's victory was thus confined to the Class C race, where he captured both heats from a sensational field that had 14 starters, including such famous drivers as Fred Jacoby, Jr, leading American pro driver; Douglas C. Fonda, of Orange, N. J., and Tommy Tyson, Chestnut Hill youngster. The wind swept course and the choppy waters caused a number of accidents. Two boats ran wild, one of them sinking to the bottom, later to be recovered with grappling irons by Nip Pace of the West End Club. That craft was the Mickey Mouse, owned by C. Mulford Scull, of Atlantic City. The Miss Ricochet V, tossed her driver - Douglas C. Fonda, at the start of one of the heats and ran wild. For a time the runaway stayed on the course and about a half mile up the river veered sharply to the right, going dangerously near the many craft and finally standing on end in about the middle of the river. The boat was undamaged and was easily recovered. Aside from the spill, Fonda had a big day.

He captured the Class A crown, placed second in both the B and C events on points, and might have added more points in the Class P race if his boat had not behaved so unruly. Fonda defeated two favorites to win the Class A honor; Tommy Tyson, Intercollegiate champ, and C. Mulford Scull, who’s boat went to the bottom. Tyson was shut out for the day and failed to gain in the seasonal scoring in which he was one of the leaders.]

[Bradenton Herald - Posted on Sat, Feb. 23, 2008 - Water taxi debuts in Cortez - It was a perfect day for a slow spin around the islands on the area's new water taxi, the Red Skyy. The six passengers waiting at the dock Friday for the initial run of the area's only such service enjoyed 80-degree temperatures, brilliant sun and a postcard view of the inland waterway, its surface a glittering aquamarine. "I think it's a great idea," said Louise Blattel, 67, a visitor from Flint Hill, Mo., who had read about Capt. Mark's Water Taxi and wanted to be among the first to try it. She surveyed with satisfaction the tidy, red-and-white, 16-passenger catamaran as it bobbed on the water. Two years ago, Joan and Bob Fonda took a similar water taxi in Fort Lauderdale. They weren't sure whether they would get off at one of the stops or not. "The first time, we'll play it by ear - we'll see," said Bob Fonda, 80, of Bradenton, a retired funeral director originally from upstate New York. They watched a flock of white pelicans, diving near the boat.]

[Richard Engdahl of Hermiston, Oregon died Sunday, February 10, 2013 at Kadlec Regional Medical Center in Richland, Washington after a long illness. He was 83 years old. Richard was born on May 22, 1929 in Pendleton, Oregon, the second child of Carl Frederich Engdahl of Pendleton, Oregon & Sadie Ruth Young of La Grande, Oregon. He grew up in Pendleton attending Lincoln School, and graduating from Pendleton High School in 1947. He was a student in the College of Agriculture at Oregon State University where he was in the Phi Gamma Delta house. In 1951, his father, U.S. Senator Carl Engdahl died from heart failure and Richard returned to Pendleton to work and manage the family's wheat ranches in Stage Gulch near Pendleton and in Ritzville, Washington. He was active in his community and was a long time member of the Elks and Eagles Lodges. In 1960 he married Marilyn Fonda of Pendleton and they had one child. The couple divorced in 1970. Richard was an avid traveler and an accomplished pilot who flew on trips throughout the western United States, the Caribbean and Mexico. He also enjoyed riding his motorcycle and taking trips in his RV. In 1978 he married Lynn Nielson of Albany, Oregon. Semi retired from farming, he split his time between Pendleton and the couples home in Yuma, Arizona. In 1993 he bought a home in Hermiston, Oregon where he and Lynn lived until the time of his death. He will be greatly missed by all that knew him. He was preceded in death by his parents and his sister, Eleanor Mumm. He is survived by his wife, Lynn Engdahl of Hermiston; Son, Scott Engdahl of Portland, OR; Step-son, Max Ferry and wife Nancy Scopin of Tillamook, OR; as well as nephews and cousins in Oregon, Washington, and California. At his request, there will be no services held. Disposition was by cremation.]

[Bob Fonda Still Going Strong After Two Decades of Substituting - November 5, 2013 It seems everyone knows, or at least has heard, of the famous Bob Fonda. The substitute teacher's ubiquitous presence in the school district and in the community for the past two decades has made experiencing one of his classes a rite of passage among many students. So what is it that's so special about Fonda? It's Fonda's attitude and approach to interacting with students that makes being in one of his classes a special experience. Though Fonda has jokingly informed students he is 29 years old, he grew up here in the Bay Area during the Great Depression. Born in Oakland in the 1920's, Fonda was a studious child. He was taught to read and write by the age of four, and would constantly help his classmates when in grade school. ... Fonda attended San Jose High School and graduated in 1943. That same year, following a close cousin, he enlisted in the Coast Guard, during the height of World War II. "[I spent] three undistinguished years in the service." Fonda said. ... After exiting the military, Fonda briefly attended the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, before leaving to go to San Jose State University for pre-engineering. Next he attended Stanford for both his Bachelor's and Master's degrees in engineering, finishing his schooling in 1951. As Fonda matured, he developed an adventure-seeking attitude that's taken him all across the globe. He's worked a remarkable number of jobs in even more remarkable places a civil engineer, park ranger, radio technician and translator in addition to substitute teaching. While on business, he's visited the USSR and many Eastern Bloc countries: former communist states in Eastern Europe that were allied with the Soviet Union. He was also one of the first Americans in Shanghai, China, arriving in 1979 when the country had just been opened up to Western trade. He spent several years living in Thailand and Japan, where he met his wife, with whom he currently lives here in Los Altos. "We met in 1953 but we didn't marry until 1978," Fonda said. "I was 52 and a half to the exact day we married. ... Over the course of his travels and studies, Fonda has grown competent in nine languages: English, Japanese, Russian, French, Spanish, Chinese, Italian, Turkish and Indonesian. ... Here in Los Altos, Fonda continues to stay active and pursue his passions, whether he's playing the harp, seeking out extra knowledge at the local community college or substitute teaching. Fonda first took on substituting at the advice of his brother, who is a teacher. Initially he was unsure if it would be right for him, but his first class at Berryessa High School in 1994 was a success. ...

["The life and times of Julia Bell " published in the Lucerne Valley Leader - What more can we say about Julia Bell? Just last month The Leader reported on the well-deserved ceremony honoring her service on the school board and as a principal before that. In 2009 Millie Rader did an article on both she and her husband Chuck Bell as major characters in Lucerne Valley, as volunteers, philanthropists and all-around wonderful members of this community. And most recently, The Leader reported on her untimely death last month. There probably aren't very many of us who weren't aware of the health issues Julia has suffered and endured lately. She's been through multiple surgeries and life threatening conditions resulting in the ultimate loss of her lower right leg. Through it all Julia remained steadfast and determined in her recovery with an amazing outlook while still participating in both school board and volunteer activities. She is and has been an inspiration to so many of us. So, as a final tribute to this amazing woman, we'd like to share how she lived prior to joining us here in Lucerne Valley and how her life took shape before she left us on Jan. 19, 2013. Julia was born and lived in Chicago and in the mid-1960s attended Knox College in Galesburg, Ill., where she met her husband, Chuck Bell. Both Chuck and Julia have a work ethic that had them doing every kind of odd job to pay their tuitions and make a living. That work ethic also speaks to their core values of sharing and giving back to their community. They dated and carried on a long-distance relationship until 1968, when they got married and moved to Chuck's Lucerne Valley ranch that his family has owned since the 1940s. While Julia alternately taught fourth grade, sixth grade and kindergarten at Lucerne Valley Elementary School, she was also busy giving birth to her two children Heather (May of 1973) and David (December of 1976). While raising her kids she managed to go back to graduate school for her master's degree and was hired as principal from 1995 to 1998. She ran for school board, where she remained for 14 years, including a stint as board president. She was Citizen of the Year in the late 1980s, a president of the Roadrunners, secretary of the Mitsubishi Cement Corporation Educational Foundation and a member of the Lucerne Valley Domestic Violence Outreach board. (..) Julia's beloved Roadrunners are planning a memorial and tribute to her on Saturday, Feb. 23 at 1 p.m. at Lucerne Valley Elementary School's multi-purpose building, Goulding Hall. There will be opportunities there to share more through a memory table, and maybe to even to say a few words. The family wants to thank everyone for their sensitivity to their privacy and hopes all will be present to honor Julia. Also, please refrain from sending flowers, as the family would prefer to have any donations go to the Lucerne Valley Roadrunners, P.O. Box 521, Lucerne Valley, CA 92356.

[GM On Griddle: Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., has quietly reopened his investigation of General Motors, which skyrocketed Ralph Nader to fame. At stormy Senate hearings back in 1966, General Motors denied Nader's charges that the Corvair was "unsafe at any speed." Now Nader has accused GM of concealing information from the Ribicoff committee. To investigate the charge, Ribicoff has twice dispatched two trusted aides, Robert Wager and John Koskinen, to Detroit. A spokesman acknowledged to us only that the Senator is investigating and that "General Motors is cooperating." Nader, meanwhile, has obtained supporting statements from three automotive scientists. Albert Fonda and Dimitry Seryag, both of King of Prussia, Pa., swore to Nader that GM's own tests proved the Corvair should never have gone into production because it was "dangerously prone to rollover." The 1963 Corvair, they said, flipped in a hard right turn at 28 miles an hour. They estimated it would cost GM $12 million to make safe the 600,000 Corvairs still on the road. In contrast, the engineers computed that losses of earnings to those seriously injured or killed in Corvair rollovers will be $175 million. This doesn't count medical expenses and property damages. Ralph Smith, of Hatboro, Pa., another automotive scientist, said GM's recall cost per Corvair would be $10 to $15 plus frontend alignment and installation, GM, in a hot statement about Nader's new charges declared: "GM has not misrepresented the Corvair to the Senate." The company accused him of conducting a "personal vendetta." Post-Standard, Syracuse, N.Y. - Sat., Jan. 16, 1971]

[Albert G. Fonda, 89, of King of Prussia, PA died Sunday, April 1, 2018. He was born the son of Albert and Helen Fonda (nee Clark) on Nov. 6, 1928 in Amsterdam, NY. He was a graduate of Cornell University, and a past president of the American Society of Inventors. He is survived by his children: David, Mark, Jill Allen (Michael), Elaine Fuguet (Michael), and Janet Zorn (Mark); 15 grandchildren, and 8 great grandchildren. There will be an informal memorial gathering Saturday, April 7 2018 from 2 P.M. - 4 P.M. at the Hickman House, 400 N. Walnut St., West Chester, PA 19380. In lieu of flowers charitable donations in Al's honor, can be made to Penn Memory Center Alzheimer's research program, pennmemorycenter.org/gifts/. Arrangements by West Laurel Hill Funeral Home, Inc. [Albert Granville Fonda passed away peacefully at the The Hickman Friends Senior Living Community, on Sunday, April 1, 2018, after recently moving from his long-time home in King of Prussia, Pennsylvania. He was born on November 6, 1928 in Amsterdam, New York and grew up on the family farm just outside of the Village of Fonda, his ancestral home. He was the son of Albert Dow Fonda and Helen Scureman Clark Fonda and the brother of Harriet and Sybil. He was fascinated with farm machinery and after graduating from Johnstown High School in 1946, he attended Cornell University, Sibley School of Engineering, graduating with a 5-year Bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1951, and later the School of Agriculture, graduating with a Master of Science in Mechanical Engineering in 1954. Albert married Ellen Elizabeth Barber DeRuyter, New York in December 1951 and after both graduated from Cornell, they lived in the Buffalo, New York area for eight years, while Al was employed by New Holland Machine Company, Cornell Aeronautical Laboratory and Bell Aircraft. With four young children, the family moved to King of Prussia, PA in 1961 where Al worked for Giannini Controls, Boeing-Vertol and General Electric, all in aeronautics and aerospace research. In 1968, he began an independent automotive consulting business specializing in automobile accident reconstruction, which he operated successfully for over three decades. He had numerous inventions including patents on power steering design and always had projects going in his home shop where he could actively tinker and design. He served as President of the American Society of Inventors for several years and was actively writing papers for the Society of Automotive Engineers, one of which was in 2007 entitled, "Applied Finite Difference Analysis" dealing with "Evaluating Uncertainty in Accident Reconstruction," which had been his main professional focus in recent years. He authored a computer software program called CrashEX which applied forensics, physics and statistics to accident reconstruction. He served as an expert witness in many lawsuits including a famous case where he teamed with Ralph Nader in a suit against Corvair. Al was kept active by a large family of five children, all of whom were encouraged and supported for their college degrees. The whole family was very active in church activities at the St. Matthews United Methodist Church in Wayne, PA, in sports and extracurricular activities, and many family camping trips traveling throughout the United States. Albert and Ellen divorced in 1983. Albert married Muriel W. Swartz in 1984 and they divorced in 1992. Some of Al's favorite pastimes included singing barbershop quartet, kite flying and all things cars. After retirement Al became active in studying philosophy and taught an Adult Education course for OLLI at Temple University called "Darwin, Franklin and Newton." In 2015, on his 87th birthday, he presented a paper at the International Conference on Biologically Inspired Cognitive Architectures in Lyon, France entitled, "A Remark on Biological Consciousness and Free Will." Al was always eager to discuss the deeper meanings of life and was respectful of all opinions. In his spare time he read for the blind. Albert leaves behind his five loving children, David Barber Fonda, Albert Mark Fonda, Jill Suzanne Fonda Allen (Michael), Elaine Ruth Fonda Fuguet (Michael), and Janet Ellen Fonda Zorn (Mark). He will be greatly missed by 15 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. The family wishes to thank the wonderful caretakers at The Hickman for their thoughtful and respectful care. A memorial open house will be held on Saturday, April 7, 2018 from 2:00-4:00 pm at The Hickman Friends Senior Living Community, 400 N Walnut St, West Chester, PA 19380. A burial ceremony will take place at the family plot in the Evergreen Cemetery in Fonda, NY in the near future. Al was a healthy subject participant in Penn Memory Center Alzheimer's research program, to which the family suggests a donation in lieu of flowers. Legacy.com

[Ellen Elizabeth Barber Fonda, age 86, passed away peacefully at the Bellingham Retirement Community in West Chester, PA on July 18, where she had resided since 2012. She had been a resident of Glenside, PA for 20 years, and before that was a resident of King of Prussia, PA since 1961. Ellen was born on July 22, 1932 in Syracuse, New York and grew up on the family farm in DeRuyter, NY. She graduated from DeRuyter Central Rural School in June 1950 and attended Cornell University, graduating with a BS in Home Economics (Early Childhood Education) in 1954. While at Cornell she met Albert Granville Fonda and they were married on December 23, 1951. They had five children. Ellen and Albert divorced in 1983. Ellen married Michael Evio Panciotti in 2004, residing in Glenside, PA. Ellen taught senior high home economics for 23 years in the Abington, PA school district, retiring as department head. While there she established a nursery school education course involving students and pre-schoolers. Ellen was an active member of the First United Methodist Church of Germantown, and worked for years with the Philadelphia Interfaith Hospitality Network, aiding homeless women and children. Ellen is predeceased by her sister, Gwendolyn Barber Paris; her husband, Michael Panciotti; and former husband, Albert Fonda. She leaves behind her five loving children, David Barber Fonda, Albert Mark Fonda, Jill Suzanne Fonda Allen (Michael), Elaine Ruth Fonda Fuguet (Michael), and Janet Ellen Fonda Zorn (Mark). She will be greatly missed by 15 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren. The family wishes to thank the wonderful caretakers at Bellingham for their thoughtful and respectful care. Visitation will be held at 10:00am on Monday, July 29th at the Smith Funeral Home in DeRuyter, NY; burial services will follow at the family plot in the Hillcrest Cemetery. A memorial service will be held on Saturday, August 17, at 3:00pm at the First United Methodist Church of Germantown, 6001 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia, PA.]

[New York Times: Jan 4, 1950 - Dr. Fonda Retires from G. E. - Dr. Gorton R. Fonda, Research Chemist in the General Electric Research Laboratory, has retired after nearly forty years' service. Dr. Fonda and his associates developed the American version of the radar screen fourteen days after the problem had been assigned to the laboratory. The screen, upon which the radar signals are translated into visible light, was designed by Dr. Fonda and his associates at the behest of the National Defense Research Council during the year preceding the bombing of Pearl Harbor.]

[Dr. Fonda, GE Radar Pioneer, Dies at 86 - Services for Dr. Gorton R. Fonda, 86, of the Beechwood Retirement Home in Williamsville, a retired research chemist at the General Electric Research and Development Laboratory who died Saturday, will be held Friday at 32 Windermere Road, Rochester. A native of New York City, Dr. Fonda was graduated from New York University in 1907. He then went to the University of Karlsruhe in Germany for further graduate work, receiving a doctor of engineering degree in 1910. After returning to the U.S., Dr. Fonda joined the staff of the GE Research Laboratory in Schenectady the same year. Most of his work was concerned with methods of light production, initially studying the tungsten filament for the incandescent lamp, working on the physical changes of such filaments in vacuum and in various gases, and later investigating emission of elections] from hot filaments. Shortly before the outbreak of World War II Dr. Fonda began to concentrate on the study of phosphors and made major contributions to the design of the screen upon which radar signals are translated into visible light. His work on phosphors also found applications in fluorescent lamps and television picture tubes. He retired from GE at the end of 1949 after nearly 40 years service. Dr. Fonda and his associates developed the American version of the radar screen only two weeks after the National Defense Research Council assigned the problem to the GE facility in 1941. Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Amadeo Qualich of Rochester, and a son, Thomas Fonda, of State College, Pa. Memorial contributions may be made to the Beechwood Retirement Home, 2211 N. Priscilla Todd Brown played oboe and English horn to a rapt audience, with accompaniment by Caryl Fonda Qualich, formerly of Schenectady. The opening number was Cimarosa's Oboe Concerto, in four movements. Amazing resources of breath control are part of the equipment of an oboist; some of Mrs. Brown's phrases seemed twice as long as could be supported by breath for the voice. The swooping Larghetto was followed by the Allegro and then a Siciliana, pensive, with easy grace notes, played over the talented accompaniment of Mrs. Qualich. The Cimarosa, written for the instrument, came the closest to the hackneyed idea of the snakecharmer oboe. Mrs. Qualich pointed out after the concert that there are two styles of oboe playing: European and Continental, or American. Although, a Continental instrument may be made in Europe, it is manufactured for a less nasal and more dynamic style of playing, as preferred here for the past 25 years. Mrs. Qualich lamented that Mozart apparently disliked the oboe and did not write for it - she wishes he could come back and hear the new oboe sound. Now, much oboe literature is actually borrowed from the clarinet and from strings.]

[Ruth Ann Pitts of Fort Smith, Arkansas, passed away on December 22, 2011, following a brief illness. Ruth Ann Taylor was born January 19, 1928. She lived in the Saratoga, NY area for many years and was a graduate of Ballston Spa High School. Ruth moved to Scotia, NY in 1959 when she married Clark Fonda, who predeceased her in 1998. Ruth and Clark were professional magicians, known as "The Fabulous Fondas," who performed locally and traveled extensively throughout the world on many cruise ships. She was also a popular and talented solo magician, and enjoyed the unofficial title of "Goddess of Gaslight Village" in Lake George. Ruth was an active member of the International Brotherhood of Magicians (IBM) and the Society of American Magicians (SAM), and was an avid bowler and talented artist. Ruth married Bill Pitts in 2000, and relocated to Fort Smith, Arkansas, where she enjoyed many years performing magic shows with Bill throughout the country, and being very active in their church and American Legion Auxiliary organizations. Ruth is survived by her husband, Bill Pitts of Fort Smith, AR; her four loving daughters, Janice Baird of Ballston Spa, NY, Patricia Fonda of Briarwood, NY, Susan Dunbar of Galway, NY, and Jo Newell of Amherst, NH. his life, Estella R. Fonda, on April 19, 1953, and they enjoyed 68 precious years together. Mr. Fonda worked on his parents' dairy farm in Glen before it was sold in the early 1960s. He eventually moved his family into a house he built in the town of Johnstown and lived there from the late 1960s until earlier this year, when he and his wife moved to Altamont. Mr. Fonda also worked as a welder for General Electric in Schenectady and later as a printer for the Amsterdam Recorder newspaper, Amsterdam Printing and the Leader-Herald newspaper in Gloversville, from which he retired in the 1980s. After retirement, he again worked for Amsterdam Printing part-time for a brief period. Mr. Fonda was a man of many skills. In addition to his knowledge of dairy farming, welding and printing, he had studied electronics, operated a real estate business with his wife in the 1980s and 1990s, repaired his own vehicles and heavy machinery, and was a talented carpenter. As a younger man, he had a side business with a friend working as a handyman and carpenter. He also served as treasurer of a printers union when he worked as a commercial printer for the Leader-Herald. Mr. Fonda had a strong understanding of history and politics. He always kept up with local, national and world news, even during his final days. He was a fountain of knowledge and made decisions carefully. His family often turned to him for advice. Most importantly, he showed everyone kindness and compassion. He was a devoted family man and cherished the time he spent with his wife, children, grandchildren and other relatives. Updated October 2022 1296
Obituary for Susan Ann Broadhurst Fonda - Sue and Douw Fonda were committed to each other in union of love on January 22, 1949 for nearly 50 years. Now, Sue Fonda has been reunited with her beloved husband, 21 years after his death. After 96 years here on this Earth, Sue can now also join many of her friends and family who have preceded her in death. Sue is survived by three daughters, Tina, Cyndi, and Laurie and their families, with 6 grandchildren, 6 great-grandchildren, and one more baby on its way, who will all greatly miss their "Grammy". Sue was an angel in their midst, and her death leaves a huge void in all of their lives, but her loving memory remains in hearts forever. Sue was the 3rd generation of the Broadhurst / Page family in Colorado. Her grandparents came to Colorado from Massachusetts in the early 1900's. They were influential in the early days of Colorado history. Warren Page, Sue's grandfather, opened 2 mines in the towns of Leadville and Breckenridge, and many of her childhood years were spent in the high Rockies of Colorado. She and her family lived in Denver, where her father had a large shoe store on 16th Ave and California St from 1923-1931. The family has left a deep footprint in the Colorado soil. Sue attended Graland School of Denver in her early school years, and eventually graduated from Kent Country Day School. Many of Sue's friends remained very close to her after she graduated from Kent. Of recent years, she was the only living member of her graduating class up until her death. After graduating from Kent, Sue went on to attend Mt. Holyoke College in Massachusetts for her first 2 years of college. Then, Sue spent her last 2 years at Mills College in Oakland Calif., graduating in 1944 with a degree in Elementary Education. Upon graduating, she went on to become a teacher at Kent School for several years. Not long after marrying Douw on January 22, 1949, they moved to the country in Cherry Hills Village outside of Denver, to raise their 3 girls. "Family" was everything to Sue! Her life revolved around them, and she devoted her whole self into her girls and Douw! They established a small farm and filled it with many horses, dogs, cats- animals large and small. One of Sue's greatest loves was gardening in her large vegetable and flower gardens, where she raised, picked and passionately canned her harvests. Another one of Sue's greatest passions were animals and nature. She loved all creatures and was a great sport in helping out with all the upkeep of the family horses. Douw and the girls were very entrenched in horses, so she became the faithful "stable manager" for all the Colorado horse shows, Pony Club rallies and mountain rides in Georgetown CO. Whatever was needed to support her family in their equestrian endeavors, Sue would help in whatever chores were needed to be accomplished to enrich her children's lives. (...) Sue's legacy of life will live on forever through the memories she imprinted on all who had the privilege and blessing of knowing her. She was a true angel among us, and all who were touched by her grace, will carry her in their hearts forever. Her imprint on the Earth has made it a better place for all of us. We celebrate a life well-lived and a life well-loved. Her Christian faith kept her strong and hopeful in life's celebrations and adversity, and full of grace up to the end of her days. Her life ended with a comma, not a period, as she now has a new address in Heaven in God's kingdom! "There are some who bring a light to the world that is so great, that even after they have gone, the light remains." So it was with Sue Fonda.]

[When Henry was still an infant, the family moved to Omaha, Nebraska, where his father William opened a print shop. As a child, Fonda liked to write, winning a short story contest when he was ten years old. Two years later he began working in his father's shop after school. After graduating from Omaha Central High School in 1923, Fonda entered the University of Minnesota to study journalism. William Fonda insisted that his son hold a job while in college, and Fonda held two. He worked as a physical education instructor at a settlement house and for the telephone company. The strain of maintaining two jobs may have contributed to Fonda's dropping out of school after about two years. In 1925, Fonda returned to Omaha, to look for a job in journalism. He made his acting debut with the Omaha Community Playhouse, a local amateur theater troupe directed by Dorothy Brando. He moved to the Cape Cod University Players and later Broadway, NY to expand his theatrical career from 1926 to 1934. His first major roles in Broadway include "New Faces of America" and "The Farmer Takes a Wife". The latter play was transferred to the screen in 1935 and became the start-up of Fonda's lifelong Hollywood career. The following year he married Frances Seymour Fonda with whom he had two children: Jane and Peter Fonda also to become screen stars. He is most remembered for his roles as Abe Lincoln in Young Mr. Lincoln (1939), Tom Joad in Grapes of Wrath, The (1940), for which he received an Academy Award Nomination, and more] Recently, Norman Thayer in On Golden Pond (1981), for which he received an Academy Award for Best Actor in 1982. Henry Fonda is considered one of Hollywood's old-time legends and was friend and contemporary of James Stewart, John Ford and Joshua Logan. His movie career which spanned almost 50 years is completed by a notable presence in American theater and television. On January 22, 1981, the same year that On Golden Pond came out, Henry Fonda signed his last will. It was only three pages long, but it expressed in a simple and direct way a thoughtful consideration for his family. A year later, Henry Fonda died, leaving a legacy of great film roles. On the silver screen, he was always at his best when he played a humble man faced with big problems. When you read his will in Appendix A, you can see how much he was a simple man in real life, too. For example, he provides modest instructions concerning his funeral and cremation: "It is my wish that there be no funeral or memorial service at the time of my death, and that my remains be promptly cremated and disposed of without ceremony of any kind." Cause of death: Heart Failure. Henry's body was cremated at Westwood Village Mortuary and his ashes were reportedly in the possession of his last wife Shirlee (Adams) Fonda.

Notes for Margaret Brooke SULLAVAN: b. Norfolk, VA; d. New Haven, CT; bur. Saint Mary's Whitechapel Episcopal Churchyard, Lancaster, Lancaster Co., VA; Born in Norfolk, VA to wealthy stockbroker Cornelius Hancock and heiress Garland Council Sullivan, Margaret Brooke overcame a muscle weakness in her childhood to go on to become a rebellious teenager at posh private schools. She went on to perform with the University Players at Harvard and made her Broadway debut in A Modern Virgin in 1931. Her Christmas Day marriage in 1931 to Henry Fonda lasted only a few months, and her later marriages to director William Wyler and agent Leland Hayward were also tempestuous. Two of her three children, Bridget and Bill, would spend some time in mental institutions, and friends noted that the collapse of her family life led to her breakdown. Her condition worsened over time, until she was discovered unconscious from barbiturate poisoning in a hotel room. Her death was ruled accidental by the county coroner.; o. [No Bequest Left To Fonda in His Wife's Will - Greenwich, Conn., May 10 (AP) - Motion Picture and Stage Actor Henry Fonda received no bequest in the will of his estranged wife which was admitted to probate here today. Mrs. Fonda, the former Frances Seymour Brokaw, 42, killed herself by slashing her throat in a Beacon sanitarium last April 14. The petition for probate said the estate consisted of more than $400,000 in real and personal property and $3,500 in Greenwich real estate. Major beneficiary was Mrs. Sophie M. Seymour, of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Fonda's mother. Mrs. Seymour was given custody of her daughter's two minor children, Jayne S. Fonda, 17, and Peter H. Fonda, 10. She also was bequeathed the Los Angeles house in which she lives; $1,000 in cash; all personal effects and 60 per cent of the residual estate. Each child, in addition to receiving 20 per cent of the residual estate, will share equally in the remainder at the death of Mrs. Seymour. A third child, Mrs. Frances Brokaw Abry, of New York city, daughter of Mrs. Fonda's union with the late George T. Brokaw, former husband of Clare Boothe Luce, was bequeathed a house at Newark, NJ. Mrs. Fonda was cremated the day she died. Fonda,, after hurrying from New York to attend a brief service, returned to his role that night in the hit show "Mr. Roberts." [Charles Henry Fonde was a fine athlete and a great naturalist and outdoorsman. He was captain of the University of Tennessee football team in 1912 and he also played baseball and golf. When World War I began he left the university and enlisted in the service. But his father died and the war ended before he saw active duty. He never returned to college but insisted that his children go when they were of age. He loved the Great Smoky Mountains and frequently took his growing family there on the weekends. Charley, or Slick, as he was also known, was a wonderful story teller; he had perfect timing, a way with words, and a great sense of humor. He was also a prolific writer of poetry (or rhymes), which he created for any special occasion or for no occasion at all. In his retirement years, after he grew tired of fishing, he designed and built beautiful bird feeders for a hobby. He had red hair. Rhea King, youngest daughter of Habersham and Becky King, wanted to be a librarian. She attended school at Agnes Scott College but left to marry Charles H. Fonde, who she had met while visiting her sister in Knoxville, TN. Pictures from the time show that she was a beautiful woman with thick dark hair and lovely eyes and skin. She and Charlie celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary in 1971. Her Christian faith was very important to her and she was actively involved in the Episcopal church for many years. One of her projects was to organize and maintain the church's library. When our family visited her in July, 1991, she was still living in her own home and couldn't wait to show us her vegetable garden and compost pile. At her 100th birthday party she was surrounded by her family and friends, including Patricia Neal (the actress) and a diocesan bishop. One of her great-grandchildren told her "Grandma, we want you to live another 100 years." To which she replied, "Why, by that time I'd only be about 4 inches tall!" (referring to the fact that she keeps getting shorter). At age 104, she resided in an assisted living home called Weston Place, and was involved in a project called "Affirmative Aging". She continued to read theological or inspirational books, and to write fascinating and funny letters to her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. On January 5, 1997, Grandma Rhea King Fonde died peacefully in her sleep. She fell and broke her hip on December 28, 1996, ten days after her 104th birthday. For Christmas she had given all her children a book entitled, "A Longing for Home" by Frederick Buechner. Before she died she began to speak of this book to family members who were sitting by her bed, and they realized from what she said that it was her farewell gift to them. i. Frances Habersham FONDE, born 17 Dec 1922, in Knoxville, TN, died 18 Jan 2009, in Townsend, TN, buried in Saint John's Cathedral Memorial Garden, Knoxville, TN. She married Robert Thomas BROGAN 8 Jan 1944, in Knoxville, TN. Robert Thomas BROGAN was born 29 Dec 1920, in Marietta, OH, died 24 May 2008, in Maryville, TN.

[Brogan, Frances (Frankie) Habershahn Fonde age 86, died peacefully at her beloved TreeTops home in Townsend, Tennessee on Sunday, January 18, 2009, after 6 weeks as a Blount Memorial Hospice patient. Her daughters, Rebecca (Becki) Bishop of Brighton, Michigan, Katherine Enyard of Austin, Texas, and daughter-of-the-heart, Carol Murray of New York, were at her side at the time of her death. Her son, Robert (Bob) T. Brogan, Jr. of Houston, Texas was enroute but his voice was present, singing a favorite family song, as she breathed her last. Frankie's zest for life, and indomitable optimism never faded, nor did her natural beauty. Frankie was born in Knoxville on December 17, 1922, the first of five children born to Rhea King and Charles Henry Fonde. She grew up in the Morningside neighborhood east of downtown Knoxville, where she made life long friends, Caroline (Clemens) Harris, Marty (Whaley) Russell, Ruth (Collins) Pierce, Irene (Edmonds) Sniegocki, Joan (Moore) Hancock, and Betty (Fowler) Doublestein. These "Morningside Girls" have loved and supported each other through all of life's challenges for more than eighty years. After graduating from Knoxville High School in 1940, she attended the University of Tennessee where she was a member of Chi Omega, was named Miss University of Tennessee, and Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. She was also a fine student and was honored by a placement at the Merrill-Palmer Institute for Child and Family Development in Detroit, Michigan. Her beauty and vibrant personality attracted many admirers, but her heart was captured by a young pilot, Robert Thomas (Tom) Brogan. They were married in the chapel of St. John's Episcopal Church, now the Cathedral, on January 8, 1944. Their romance continued through 64 years of marriage. Over the years, Frankie and Tom had four children, Becki, Bob, Sue, and] Katherine, and lived in New York, Michigan, and Texas before returning to her home state of Tennessee and retirement close to her beloved Smoky Mountains. (..) Frankie lost her lifetime love and biggest fan, her husband of 64 years, Robert Thomas (Tom) Brogan, on May 24, 2008. She was also preceded in death by her daughter, Susan Fonde (Andy) Klemmt; her grandson, Marshall Thomas Klemmt; and her sister, Rhea Fonde (Robert) Nathan. She is survived by her children, Becki (Max) Bishop, Bob (Pamela) Brogan, and Katherine (Mike) Enyart; sisters, Anne (Calvin) Walter of Knoxville and Alice (Garnett) Kincaid, of Clinton; and her brother, Henry Fonde of Ann Arbor, MI; nine granddaughters, Lisa Bishop (Phil) Davisson, Catherine Bishop, Faith Bishop, Christie Brogan, Julia Brogan (Josh) Giles, Nika Brogan, Genevieve (Trace) Enyart-Faulkner, Amarin Enyart, and Amy Farrar (Josh) Gibbs; and two great-grandchildren, Caylynn Bishop and Cayden Giles. Frankie's life will be celebrated at a service at St. John's Cathedral in Knoxville on Saturday, January 24th at 11:00 a.m. followed by a reception for family and friends in the Parish Hall. The interment of her ashes will take place before the service at 10:00 a.m. in the Cathedral memorial garden. Knoxville News Sentinel, Knoxville, TN, January 23, 2009

[Marie Magdellan Fonda Groff - 06 October 1923 - 15 December 2008 - Marie Groff - Editor's note: This obituary was written by Marie Groff's son, Frank, a Long Beach public relations firm owner. Marie Groff, the first female air traffic controller for the Air Force in 1952 who also worked directly with the legendary Eddie Rickenbacker before becoming a wife and mother of seven, died in Yorba Linda on Dec. 15, 2008. The 85-year-old who dedicated her life to humanitarian efforts succumbed to a chronic lung condition in her room at Brighton Gardens, an assisted-living facility that had been her home for two years. She was surrounded by her husband, Bruce, and six surviving children, 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren at the time of her death. Born Marie Magdellan Fonda in New York City in 1923, Groff graduated high school at 15 and attended Hunter College in New York City, where she earned degrees in psychology and meteorology. After college, she secured a position in the Eastern Airlines' weather department and worked directly with Rickenbacker, the former World War I flying ace, who served as president of the airline at the time. After several years, she moved to Albuquerque, N.M., where she first was hired as a dispatcher and became the first and only female air traffic controller at Kirtland Air Force Base. It was there that she met and one year later wed career Naval officer Bruce Groff, with whom she enjoyed a 55-year marriage. She made her home in San Diego before relocating to Placentia in 1971. Groff dedicated her life to humanitarian causes. She volunteered for Meals On Wheels; Special Olympics (her son, Christopher, had Down syndrome and passed in 1998); Kathleen Faley Memorial Games; conducted bereavement counseling at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, where she was a devoted member; taught Catholicism to youngsters at CCD classes; and was a member of the rosary group for 37 years. She is survived by her husband and six children, Susan, Bruce, Jr., Ann, Michael, Frank and Matthew. Orange County Register, The (Santa Ana, CA) Date: December 25, 2008]

[Bruce Franklin Groff, Sr. - 03 March 1928 - 18 June 2011 - Bruce Groff - Former Naval Officer Bruce Groff, 83, an Orange County resident for the past 40 years, succumbed on June 18 from complications brought on by a chronic lung disease he battled for years. He is survived by six children, Susan, Bruce, Ann, Michael, Frank and Mathew; 13 grandchildren; and three great-grandchildren. His beloved wife of 55 years, Marie Fonda Groff, passed away in 2008. Groff, a graduate of the New York State Maritime Academy at Fort Schuyler, was commissioned as a naval officer in 1948. He served during the Korean and the Vietnam conflicts and awarded a Bronze Star for bravery during combat action. After retiring in 1971 as a highly decorated Commanding Officer of the USS Catamount, he moved his family to Orange County where he enjoyed volunteering for various causes, among them the Special Olympics and the Kathleen Foley Memorial Games. Viewing will be 6-8 pm, Wednesday June 29 with a rosary at 7 p.m. at McAulay & Wallace Mortuary, Fullerton. Funeral Mass will be held on Thursday, June 30 at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Placentia (717 North Bradford Avenue). Bruce will be laid to rest at Riverside National Cemetery. [The Week in Wyoming (AP) - Cheyenne - Grand Teton Park Rangers die after icy plunge into Snake River - Only one man returned from a routine three-man patrol in Grand Teton National Park Wednesday. He was assistant chief ranger Stan Spurgeon, 48, who tried in vain to rescue his two companions from the icy waters of the Snake River. John Fonda, 27, and Gail Wilcox, 48, died. Fonda drowned in the Snake River and Wilcox died of exposure in a cabin Thursday night, Spurgeon said. Spurgeon has been released from a Jackson hospital where he was treated for shock and exposure. The men were crossing the Snake near the north end of Jackson Lake when Fonda went through the ice. The other two fell through attempting to rescue him. Pinedale Roundup, 1960-03-17]

She laughed when we thanked her, saying, “You have to get rid of them so you can make more.” She first saw the beauty of bones, she says, while taking X-rays as a lab tech in Jackson, Wyo. Jean left with a sun-bleached fox skull found by HCN director Paul Larmer in his fields west of town.]; [Recent incidents bring scrutiny to bounty hunter profession - (..) "I would never have picked an active auto dealership to make a safe arrest," Marta Fonda, a seasoned fugitive hunter who spent 32 years with the U.S. Marshal's service. “You don't corner them. You're a lot better off again to use patience. You cannot blow it by backing off.” After retirement, Fonda did bounty hunter work for a Dallas area bail bondsman. She was not impressed with the bounty hunters she met. "They reminded me of guys that go and hook cars in the middle of the night," she says. "You kind of wondered had they tried to be a cop and not made it. had they been a cop and gotten kicked out." Fonda believes situations like these highlight a need for more oversight, as well as scenario-based training, so they can be better prepared for the situations they'll encounter. (..)

[Bethyl Irene Fonda Nov 24, 1912 - May 24, 2011 Our beloved Mother and Grandmother passed away peacefully Tuesday evening at the age of 98. Bethyl was born in Stockton, CA. to George & Isa Grant. Her mother died when she was 8 months old and family friends, Charles & Ida Higbee, asked her father if they could take care of Bethyl since he had 6 other children to care for. He agreed and she became Bethyl Higbee. The Higbee's were wonderful parents and she loved to hear the story about how she became part of their family. It made her feel very special, like she had been chosen. She grew up in the Ceres and Modesto area. She met her husband, Donald Fonda, when she was 15. He was the only man she ever dated, and they were married Oct. 19, 1930, after she graduated from Modesto High School. They had 54 happy years together. Bethyl was widowed in 1985. She is survived by her 4 children, Raymond (Phyllis) Fonda of Coarsegold, CA., Ed (Deb) Fonda of Yachats, Or., Carol (Butch) Blanton of Ceres, CA. and Wayne (Lenell) Fonda of Modesto, CA., 11 grandchildren, 22 great grandchildren and 3 great great grandchildren. Bethyl was a wonderful Christian and the love of our Lord was very real in everything she did and said. She was a great example for her family and friends and everyone who knew her. She taught Sunday school and played the piano and organ for many years at the Ceres Christian Church. She also was a piano teacher in the Ceres area for 30 years. In recent years, she was a charter member.

I have been very fortunate to have been able to work with many fine musicians. Thier experience and knowledge have always inspired me to go farther in my music. His career has spanned four decades and his reputation as skilled musician is unsurpassed. From recording with well-loved artists to writing and producing jingles for international Radio and TV advertising campaigns, Nick Fonda is a first call musician and composer in Clearwater Florida. Nick is on the Board of Directors for the Blues Heritage Foundation and a member of the Jazz Foundation of America. A recent highlight of Nick's career has been producing arrangements for the USF Jazz Ensemble. Over the past 10 years Nick's recording credits have been A Fond A Christmas, To Jazz or not to Jazz and the soon to released Sleep with Me. Nick's music has been released world wide. As a studio musician in his early years he has adapted too many styles of music and playing a variety of instruments, though he prefers guitar and piano His style of Jazz and Blues guitar have graced many musicians from all walks of life and pleased many an audience. This unique style has been captured on many videos. His talent of switching instruments in live performances has impressed and delighted many people. http://www.nickfonda.com] >> www.fonda.org <<

[Charles H. Fonda, a lifelong resident of St. Albans and a Vermonter through and through, passed away after a brief illness at the age of 95 on June 1, 2013. Charles was born Jan. 13, 1918, the son of Howard R. and Esther B. Fonda. He graduated from B.F.A. and studied architecture at Syracuse University. He was a WWII veteran] having served in Japan with the 1179th Engineers. He spent his working career with the W.B. Fonda Co. in St. Albans, where he eventually became President. Charlie was an established musician who played saxophone and clarinet for several dance bands, including Sterling Weed's Imperial Orchestra, traveling throughout the state and Canada in the 30s and 40s. In later years he played the organ and continued to entertain family and friends. An avid outdoorsman, he loved to hunt and fish. Along with his first wife, Mildred, he built a camp on Lake Champlain in 1949 that continues to be enjoyed by several generations of Fonadas. In his retirement years he and his second wife, Ann, took great pride in their landscaping and gardens. Believing strongly in giving back to his community he served as a Deacon of the First Congregational Church and Chairman of the City School Board. Upon moving to the Town of St. Albans, he served on the Town Planning Commission and was a Town Grand Juror. He also served many years as a Justice of the Peace. Charles was predeceased by his first wife, Mildred Macy and his second wife, Ann Kalahan Pare. He was also predeceased by two sisters Doris F. Carter and Vera F. Teague and a step-daughter, Christine Pare. He is survived by two daughters Mary Jane Raser and husband, Roger, of Florida and Cheryl Voytek and husband, Peter, of Virginia; four grandchildren Scott Gallagher and Lisa Orendorff of Colorado, Kristin Voytek of North Carolina and Peter D. Voytek of Georgia State and six great grandchildren. Additional survivors include stepson, Glen Pare of North Carolina, three step-grandsons Joe Malboeuf and Jon Malboeuf, both of St. Albans, and Eric Pare of California, three step-great grandchildren; a niece, Judy Carter Shanafelt and nephews William Teague, Alan Fonda Carter and James Ross Carter. Charles also leaves behind a very close friend and companion, Alan McFeeters, who was with him frequently in his final months. A joint graveside funeral service for Ann and Charles will be held on Friday, July 19, 2013, at 11 a.m. at the family lot in Greenwood Cemetery on South Main Street, St. Albans, when members of both their families will be gathering at the Fonda family compound on Lake Champlain. At Charles' request, memorials made in his memory may be made to a charity of one's choice. Interment in St. Agnes Cemetery, Cohoes. Relatives and friends may call Friday afternoon from 3 o'clock on. Troy NY Times Record, Friday, July 2, 1965]; [Man Found Dead of Gun Wound - A young Cohoes man, who had been under a doctor's care, apparently took his life yesterday afternoon with a single rifle shot through the chest. Charles H. Fonda Jr., 25, of 98 Willow St., Cohoes, was found lying in a second floor hallway by his mother; Mrs. Mary Fonda, about 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Fonda told police her son had been ill and despondent the past few weeks. She discovered her son's body when she returned home from work and immediately called Rev. Bernard J. Gustas of St. Agnes' Church. Father Gustas notified Sgt. Theodore Kalski at Central Police Headquarters. Police believe the unemployed Cohoes man was shot with a .22 caliber rifle found in a gun rack in the hallway near the body. There was one discharged shell in the weapon's chamber. Police at the scene theorized Fonda loaded the gun in the rack, leaned against the muzzle and pulled the trigger, sending a single bullet into the left side of his chest. Albany County Coroner Leo Sorel is withholding a decision as to cause of death pending further investigation. Chief John Kielb supervised operations at the scene and directed the investigation conducted by Capt. Harold Smith, Chief of Detectives; Lt. Clarence DeLude, Det. Sgt. William Woods and Det. Louis Bedinotti. Besides his mother, Fonda is survived by a sister, Mrs. Vito DiSalvi of Amsterdam, and two brothers, James F. Fonda of Cohoes and Pvt. Robert J. Fonda of the U.S. Army, Alabama. He was the son of the late Charles H. Fonda Sr.,

Teacher; [American International School of Johannesburg - Lauren Fonda, Grade 4C - My name is Lauren Fonda, and I'm Canadian, eh. I was born, and grew up in a “two dog town” called Medstead, in the province of Saskatchewan. After graduating from high school, I attended the University of Saskatchewan in Saskatoon. After three years of teaching, I decided more education was desirable, but that was not to be, and so for the next nine years I was the cook/baker/bookkeeper/payroll clerk/rock picker/caterpillar driver/gopher for Fonda Construction, and for excitement, I played keyboard in a band. In early September, 1990, I got a chance to get back into teaching. I was more than ready! I packed my spaniel, Murphy, my musical instruments, and a few other items into my dad’s Mercury, and off to Vancouver Island I went, where I lived for the next seven years, teaching everything from Grade Six/Seven Math, Science, French, to Special Ed., Music and Art. I also tried my hand at deck-handing on commercial salmon fishing boats during the summer. In 1997, I jumped at an overseas teaching opportunity in Balikpapan, Kalimantan Timur, a progressive and highly charming city on the east coast of Borneo, in Indonesia. I loved living and working there. For the next five years, I delivered the Music and Art programs, and learnt how to scuba dive and speak Bahasa, Indonesia. Ho Chi Minh City was my next destination, where I taught Elementary Art classes, plus a Grade Six Math class, and a Middle School Enrichment Class. Vietnam was fun, but friends and family called me home to Canada where I worked full-time as the pastry chef in a restaurant called SoBo in the Tofino Botanical Gardens. And now I'm here in Johannesburg, South Africa, ready for a new adventure in an exciting country; with a job at a fabulous school.] >> www.fonda.org <<

[People v. Fonda - 712 P.2d 1067 (1985) - The PEOPLE of the State of Colorado, Plaintiff-Appellee, v. Mark Henry FONDA, Defendant-Appellant. No. 83CA0645. Colorado Court of Appeals, Div. I. July 25, 1985. - Certiorari Denied (Fonda) January 21, 1986. SMITH, Judge. Defendant, Mark Henry Fonda, appeals the judgment entered on his conviction by a jury of attempted murder and commission of a crime of violence. Fonda claims the trial court erred (1) by admitting his spontaneous statement made in the presence of the arresting officers; (2) by failing, sua sponte, to give a jury instruction limiting the effect of testimony concerning defendant's previous malicious acts against the victim; (3) by accepting, as voluntary, defendant's waiver of his right to testify; and (4) by sentencing defendant to a period of incarceration at the high end of the presumptive range. We affirm. Fonda first met the victim, Fechuch, in 1978. In 1980 bad feelings arose between the parties after Fechuch and Fonda disagreed about repairs Fechuch performed on Fonda's car. Fonda accused Fechuch of breaching his contract and claimed that Fechuch owed him several hundred dollars. A few weeks later, police officers arrested Fonda for firing two shots into Fechuch's parked truck. At trial for that shooting, the court found Fonda incompetent to stand trial. Fonda was thereupon committed to the state hospital where he remained until his release in February 1982. Thereafter, he reappeared before the court and pled guilty to a misdemeanor charge of malicious mischief arising from the destruction of certain property owned by Fechuch. (...) We thus conclude that the rule in Curtis, supra, was substantially complied with and that this assertion of error is without merit. Fonda finally argues that, in light of his mental condition, the trial court abused its discretion by imposing an excessive sentence. This argument is without merit. In deciding upon an appropriate sentence, the trial court is invested with wide latitude in arriving at a synthesis which reflects the interests both of society and of defendant. People v. Hotopp,632 P.2d 600 (Colo.1981). And, inasmuch as the sentence was within the presumptive range for the crime charged, defendant has failed to show that the court here went beyond the ambit of its discretion. Hence, the sentence imposed will not be overturned on appeal. Triggs v. People, 197 Colo. 229, 591 P.2d 1024 (1979). The judgment is affirmed. http://www.leagle.com/xmlResult.aspx?xml=19851779712P2d1067_11752.xml&docbase=CSLWAR1-1950-1985]

[Fonda Commander of State CAP Wing - Washington. Jan. 18 (AP) - A. Paul Fonda, Fairchild aircraft plant executive at Hagerstown, was named today as commander of the Civil Air Patrol's Maryland wing. Maj. Gen. Lucas V. Beau, CAP national commander, tapped him to succeed Col. Bennett Crain, Washington attorney who resigned. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz, retired former Air Force chief of staff and now chairman of the CAP executive board, hailed the appointment of Fonda as "giving impetus" to the CAP program. Fonda, who began flying as a hobby in 1928, is assistant manager of customer relations at Fairchild. A native of Kansas City, Mo., he holds an airline transport pilot rating and first class radio broadcast engineers license. Frederick (MD) News, 1954-01-19]

[Bride Loses Mate On Island Of Bali - New York - Mrs. Evelyn Fonda, was back home alone and under her maiden name today from a honeymoon in the South Sea Islands. She left her husband in Bali, and she thinks he is still there, "looking at those Balinese women." The husband, Harry Fonda, is a cousin of the movie star, Henry Fonda. "No husband," Mrs. Fonda said... "should ever be taken to Bali on a honeymoon. At least I could not stand the competition." On the manifest of the steamship President Polk she was listed as Evelyn Delbario, her name before her marriage last September. She is the daughter of a sugar and cotton planter. The ill-fated honeymoon started Jan. 1. Mrs. Fonda said she was on her way to Florida for a divorce. Olean (NY) Times Herald, 1939-08-02; [Another article had this: Mrs. Fonda's husband is Harry Fonda, said to be distantly related to Henry Fonda, the Hollywood actor. Harry Fonda owns a large plantation near Memphis, Tennessee, which should make him a most compatible male for Mrs. Fonda, who is the daughter of a wealthy sugar plantation owner in Cuba. Evelyn says he was ideal and that everything was perfect until they reached Bali.]

[Fonda Rites Held Friday In Nelliston - Private funeral services were held Friday for Richard Fonda, 54, of Arnold Lane, who died Friday night at his home of lung cancer following a long illness. A native of Cherry Valley and a graduate of Oneonta High School, Mr. Fonda was a professional musician for many years, playing in the trumpet sections of the Joe Sanders, Abe Lyman and Mel Hallett orchestras. He later headed his own local orchestra. Mr. Fonda had been employed the past 16 years as manager of the Valley Bowl. He was a member of the Gloversville local of the American Federation of Musicians; was active in the Fort Plain Small Fry League, and was a communicant of St. James Catholic Church. Early this year he was presented a plaque from the Montgomery County unit of the American Cancer Society for spearheading the "small towns fight cancer day" at the Valley Bowl which netted almost $6,500 for the cancer crusade. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Cuddihy Fonda; two sons, Joseph Fonda, a student In Boston, Mass., and Jeffrey Fonda, Nelliston; a daughter, Miss Dickelle Fonda. Brownsville, Tex, his father, Andrew Fonda, Nelliston; two brothers, Paul Fonda, Canajoharie, and Sheldon Fonda, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.; a sister. Mrs. Doris Boyce, Phoenix, Ariz.; an aunt and two cousins. The Rev. John J. Sullivan, pastor of St. James Catholic Church, celebrated mass Friday night for the immediate family and the Rev. Robert Hess, pastor of the Fort Plain Reformed Church, conducted a prayer service. Mr. Fonda had bequeathed his body to medical science and it was taken to Albany Medical College by the Gray Funeral Home. Burial will be at a later date in Fort Plain Cemetery. Schenectady Gazette, Wednesday, December 12, 1973

[Mary Diefendorf - Nelliston - Mrs. Mary Diefendorf, 61, of Nelliston, died at her home late Saturday afternoon after an illness of four months. She was born June 13, 1932, in Troy. The daughter of Joseph Cuddihy and Alice Millmgton, Hoosick Falls. A graduate of St Mary's High School in Hoosick Falls, she began a professional music career in Albany and later under the name of Mary Maloy was a featured vocalist in the orchestras of Abe Lyman, Mal Hallett, Joe Sanders and others during the Big Band Era. In 1945, she married Richard Fonda, Cherry Valley, who played trumpet in the Sanders Band and in the late 1940s, the couple moved to Fort Plain where Mary Maloy and Her Men of Note were favorites of dancers in the Mohawk Valley for a number of years. Mr. Fonda died in December, 1973. She was married to Robert H. Diefendorf, Fort Plain, on June 11, 1976. Mrs. Diefendorf was a trustee of the Fort Plain Free library and a member of the auxiliary unit of Mohawk Valley Post No. 3275, Veterans of Foreign Wars. She also was a member of St. James Catholic Church and had taught catechism classes at the church. In addition to her husband she is survived by two sons, Joseph Fonda, Middletown, Conn., and Jeffrey Fonda, Nelliston; a daughter, Ms. Dickelle Fonda-Simmons, Evanston, Ill.; two grandsons, Richard Joseph and Jesse Fonda, and a granddaughter, Corriene Fonda; a brother, Raymond Cuddihy, East Syracuse; aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and cousins. The Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated by the Rev. John Roos, pastor of St James Church, at the church on Tuesday at 4 p.m. Funeral arrangements were in charge of the Gray Funeral Home. Interment will be made in the spring in the Fort Plain Cemetery. Memorial contributions may be made to the Fort Plain Free Library, Willett Street, or the Mid-County Volunteer Ambulance Service, Canajoharie. [Activism is more than just 'Blowin' in the Wind' - Medill Reports - Chicago, IL - by Jess Wangsness - May 31, 2007 - The four Chicago area women--a grandmother, a physician, a poet and an expectant mother--dropped to their knees in the Dirksen Federal Building and took turns hitting a Tibetan meditation bowl while singing the names of dead Iraqi women and American soldiers. The sound echoed through the lobby. After 15 minutes, security guards removed the protestors, handing them citations for disturbing the peace. The following morning, when an affiliated anti-war group arrived there, they discovered that the doors were locked. Dickelle Fonda, 57, of Evanston, passionately recounted the event from her candlelit home-office, still emotionally affected by last winter's dust-up with the law. Though she managed to avoid being ticketed, Fonda was as intimately involved as the others. After all, she orchestrated it. (...) In fact, Fonda inherited a penchant for social justice causes from her parents, both jazz musicians who traveled the country in the 1930's and 40s, exploring the patchwork of regional American lifestyles. Once Dickelle was born, the family settled in Amsterdam, N.Y., where her father frequently monologued about progressive politics at the dinner table. When Dickelle was in grade school, she rallied the neighborhood children to organize a carnival to raise money for underprivileged families. "My parents had this openness about the world and what was happening in it," she recalled. "What I do--what I've always done--is organize. I bring people together, and I do that around a particular need. It's just in me. It's part of who I am." In high school, Fonda became distracted by the anxieties of adolescence: joining the cheerleading squad to vie for the affections of boys on the football team, experimenting with hair and make-up, suffering the woes of acne and the tribal power of cliques. But the conservatism of the early sixties eventually yielded to the protest spirit that stormed the country as the women's movement gained momentum and the Vietnam conflict became a televised war. While a sociology major at the College of St. Rose in Albany, N.Y., Fonda rekindled her activist spirit and took to the streets in defiance. "While in college, I remembered who I was," she said. "That was during an especially charged time, so I put a lot of energy into those causes. All I knew was that my peers were dying. The young men at that time didn't have a choice about going to war." Fueled by her desire to help others, Fonda earned a master's degree in clinical social work at the University of Iowa, where she met her husband, Jevoid Simmons, a sculptor, who is African-American. The couple moved to Chicago in 1980, where she organized sexual and domestic anti-violence campaigns, while working for pay in women's services at the YWCA. (...) After Fonda's son, Seth, was born in 1985, she established the Interracial Family Network, an organization in Evanston that helped families cope with racism. More recently, she successfully lobbied park directors and city council members for a fenced-in dog park on McCormick Boulevard. (...) Still, Fonda laments the lack of activist involvement in today's younger generations and said that the trip to Washington D.C. was eye-opening for her daughter, who had never before participated in a social justice cause. In such a consumer-driven culture, Fonda believes that kids are more concerned with bad cell phone reception than with how many soldiers die in the desert each week. "The climate around this war, as opposed to Vietnam, is very different because most people in this country are not affected. They're just not impacted," she said. "People my age in college were in the streets. We're still in the streets, only now we're the parents, and our kids aren't with us because they're not invested. There's nothing to lose from their point of view. They know they won't be drafted, so why should they care?" But in the quiet of her upstairs office, she took a sip of evening tea and leaned back in her rocking chair. Through the window, she gazed down at the empty street, as if to visualize a mass of people gathering on the pavement to protest in the night. When she becomes enraged by the U.S. occupation in Iraq or the challenge of inspiring a younger generation to care about the world, she thinks about her cabin in the woods in Wisconsin's Kickapoo River Valley. She thinks about a book she's writing about her three Siberian Huskies, Tymber, Dakota and Hunter, who are "such unique beings." "I figure, even if I live to a hundred, there will still be something to be involved in, something I can mobilize people around," she said. "If I could wave a magic wand, I would want us to treat each other like human beings. I think that then it would be harder for people to kill each other, and then we might actually have to sit down and have a conversation. It would be harder for people to forget or to tune out." 2001 - 2007 Medill Reports - Chicago, Northwestern University. [Cadence Magazine, 1999 Joe Fonda Interview Taken and transcribed by Robert Spencer
Robert Spencer: When and where were you born? Joe Fonda: Amsterdam, New York, 12/16/54. Amsterdam, New York, is between Albany and Utica. Upstate New York, Mohawk Valley region. Robert: Was your family musical? Joe: Actually, I had a very talented father and a very talented mother. My father was a trumpet player, a very good trumpet player, and my mother was a singer, and it just so happens that they fell in love on the bandstand! They were in the same band, it was during the World War II, and it was a swing band called the Joe Sanders Orchestra. They met on the bandstand, stayed in the band for a few years, and then I think my mother got pregnant, and they decided that it was time to get off the road. They moved to upstate New York, where my father was from - he was from Cherry Valley, so they moved up there. Yeah, my father and mother were both very musical people.]

[The Fonda/Stevens Group 20th Anniversary Recording by Joseph Andrew Fonda - Over the past 20 years and in the course of twelve CDs, The Fonda/Stevens Group has quietly evolved into one of the most accomplished ensembles on the jazz/improvised music scene. Straddling the line between bebop, post-bop, contemporary, composed music and free improvisation, The Fonda/Stevens Group has continued to come up with consistently satisfying albums "by honing a group-based methodology that stands on its own." The group has performed over 25 European tours including radio broadcasts in Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and Netherlands and festivals in Germany, Belgium, Slovenia, Czech Republic, Slovakia, and Romania. - Joe Fonda has performed with his own ensembles throughout the United States, Canada, Europe and Asia. He has collaborated and performed with such artists as Anthony Braxton, Archie Shepp, Ken McIntyre, Lou Donaldson, Bill and Kenny Barron, Leo Smith, Perry Robinson, Dave Douglas, Curtis Fuller, Bill Dixon, Han Bennink, Bobby Naughton, Xu Fengia, Randy Weston, Gebhard Ullmann, Carla Bley, Carlo Zingaro, Barry Altschul, Billy Bang. Fonda was the bassist with the renowned Anthony Braxton sextet, octet, tentet, from 1984 through 1999. Fonda also sat on the Board of Directors from 1994 to 1999, and was the President from 1997 to 1999 of the newly formed Tri-Centric Foundation. He has also performed with the 38-piece Tri-Centric orchestra under the direction of Anthony Braxton, and was the bassist for the premiere performance of Anthony Braxton's opera, Shalla Fears for the Poor, performed at the John Jay Theater in New York, New York, October 1996.]

Staats Fonda were married on Oct. 22, 1933 in Ohio, and shortly thereafter moved to California, first to Oakland and Berkeley before settling in Sacramento. Mrs. Fonda worked for a variety of companies including River Lines in Sacramento, Sturchs Furniture in Fair Oaks, and Breuners as a bookkeeper. She and her husband opened an ice cream store on 16th and P streets, she worked as an interior decorator for Mason and Dubey Paint Store, and they opened a deli in South Lake Tahoe. She then worked for the state of California, Department of General Services, Office of Procurement, retiring after 20 years. Following retirement, she worked for Robert C. Powell Properties and Hank Fisher Properties. Mrs. Fonda was active in community affairs, starting the La Purissima Christmas Club and active in CSEA Chapter 2 and Camellia City Ballet League. The Fondas bought a lot in South Lake Tahoe and built a log cabin there, filling it full of memories for their children and grandchildren. But eventually retirement beckoned, and they moved to Rossmoor in Walnut Creek where they joined an RV club and enjoyed a lot of traveling. Then it was back to Sacramento and Elk Grove. For the past two and a half years she has lived with her daughter in Rancho Cordova. The Fondas were married 54 years before he passed away. Also preceding her in death were her daughter Kaye Strike, son Fred Fonda, sister Betty Brenner and granddaughter Kimberly. Mrs. Fonda is survived by her son Frank Fonda and wife Pat of Concord; daughters Linda Combs and husband Michael of Rancho Cordova and Patricia Fonda of Carmichael; 15 grandchildren; 17 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren. [Arthur Williams Fonda - Resident of San Jose - Arthur Williams Fonda, fun loving father, grandfather, son-in-law, brother-in-law, uncle and husband of Willy Fonda, passed away at the Los Gatos Terraces following complications due to Alzheimer's disease. Play was his game; tennis, skiing, golf, bridge, but the high watermark in his life was the coaching of recreational youth basketball during the past 45 years, 40 of which were in the Almaden Valley. Born in Salt Lake City to Arthur Henry Fonda and Cora (Williams) Fonda. He graduated from East High School and the University of Utah. During that time he worked on the ski patrol at Brighton Ski Resort. Art married Elinor Bartlett and had two sons, Steve and David. While living in Southern California he met and] married Willemina "Willy" Ryke. After the birth of their son James, Memorex brought them to San Jose where their daughter Juliana was born. The family settled in Almaden Valley and has been there for 42 years. Art worked for various electronic companies and he and Willy started their own manufacturing company with worldwide distribution of proprietary memory boards. They retired after the sale of the company. Art is survived by his wife Willy of 48 years and their children James Arthur Fonda of San Jose and Juliana Fonda of New York City. He is also survived by Steven Fonda of Prescott Valley, AZ and David Fonda (Michelle) of South Jordan Utah. He leaves behind 5 grandchildren who will miss his blue eyes and infectious smile. A private burial was held on Saturday, April 26, 2014 at the Mt .Olivet cemetery in Salt Lake City. A Memorial Fund has been established in his name at the local Alzheimer Activity Center, 2380 Enborg Lane in San Jose, CA 95128. This is a local SJ treasure offering days off for caretakers of Alzheimer patients. Published in San Jose Mercury News/San Mateo County Times on May 14, 2014.]

The child was taken to St. Mary's hospital where he was placed under the care of a physician. The extent of his injuries had not been fully determined last night, but included a broken leg and possible internal injuries. It was reported that the driver of the automobile, whose name was given as Fuller, stopped the machine when he heard the child scream as the back wheel caught him; then apparently confused, pulled ahead, the wheel passing over the child again. The parents of the child reside in an apartment at Fifth and Nevada streets, Police had not secured the details of the accident this morning.]

[Cleveland Heights - Memorial services for Margaret L. Fonda, a retired Cleveland schools art teacher, will be at 10 a.m. today at the Alcazar Hotel, 2450 Derbyshire Road, Cleveland Heights. The 89-year-old Cleveland Heights resident died Aug. 24 in her home. Fonda believed in giving her students practical as well as classroom experience, often taking them on field trips to Washington, D.C., and Greenfield Village in Detroit. Devoted to her students, she worked late many days to help students with projects and displayed their works at the annual May Show at the Cleveland Art Museum. In 1967, she received the Martha Holden Jennings Award for excellence in teaching. Her teaching career began in the Tupper Lake school system near Lake Placid, N.Y. After she married Army Lt. Donald Fonda in 1943, his military assignments took the couple to New York City and Atlanta, where she also taught. Her husband died in 1974. Fonda began teaching in the Cleveland schools in 1946. She taught art at Patrick Henry, Harry Davis and Charles W. Elliot junior high schools. She retired in 1972. In retirement, Fonda remained active as a member of the Seniors Scholars Program at Case Western Reserve University. A son, Charles of Beachwood, said his mother had been completing a book, "Early Schoolhouses of the United States." Fonda was born in Cleveland and graduated from Cleveland Heights High School. She received an education degree from the former Western Reserve University and a degree from the Cleveland Institute of Art. Surviving with her son is a sister, Jane Edwards, of Aurora. Donations may be made to the Cleveland Institute of Art, 11141 East Blvd., Cleveland 44106, or the Cleveland Museum of Art, 11150 East Blvd., Cleveland 44106. [Inland Valley Daily Bulletin (Ontario, CA) - May 3, 2002 - When Mary McNellis Fonda died February 2001, her son, Upland resident Ed Fonda, feared her passion for healing, education and animals would die with her. To perpetuate his mother's fine qualities, which others shared, Fonda established the Mary McNellis Fonda Scholarship fund. The scholarship will be awarded each year to a Cal Poly Pomona student majoring in animal and veterinary science. Additional criteria for the scholarship include being a United States citizen and holding at least a 3.0 grade-point average. First consideration for the scholarship will be given to graduate students. Fonda is a professor and the chairman of the university's animal and veterinary sciences department. He started the fund with a personal $10,000 donation which was matched 50 percent by the Kellogg foundation. The first recipient will be chosen in late May by a committee made up of the agricultural department's faculty. The amount of the annual scholarship will vary from year to year depending on interest earned from the principal, Fonda said. He chose this type of scholarship because his mother was born on and raised on a farm; and Cal Poly's picturesque setting, rolling hills and lush landscaping would make the perfect backdrop for his mother's lasting tribute. "My mother would have loved this place,' said Fonda about the university where he has taught for more than 20 years.

Fonda's mother was born in 1913 and grew up on her family's farm in Iowa. She was one of three children whose parents valued education. Though she was a young woman who became college age during the depression, her father insisted she further her education. She graduated from Iowa State University with a bachelor's degree in nursing. McNellis married Ed Fonda Sr. and the couple had two children. She worked as an Registered Nurse until her husband died in 1953 [Note: It appears that Ed lived until 1996, and re-married, so they must have divorced.], then she packed up her kids and moved back to the farm. She loved the outdoors and the animals.
Fonda said his mother believed that her children would benefit greatly from growing up on a farm as she had. The Fondas raised cattle, pigs and turkeys. Their farm also grew such crops as wheat, soybeans and corn. "She was tiny and she was tough,' Fonda said of his mother. "She could drive any type of farm equipment work any piece of heavy machinery. She was amazing.' Though his mother valued the practical education her children were receiving from farm life, she held formal education in the highest regard and moved back to the city where she believed there were more educational opportunities, Fonda said. McNellis Fonda herself went back to school and earned two master's degrees: one in nursing and the other in nursing administration. She eventually became the the director of nursing at a large hospital in New Orleans. Her example influenced both her children. Fonda has a bachelor's degree in biology from Tulane University in New Orleans, a master's from Louisiana State University in reproductive physiology and a Ph.D. in animal science and reproductive physiology from the University of Georgia. Fonda's sister, Jean Westin-Legotic has a Ph.D. in art history from Pennsylvania State University and a law degree from the University of Florida. "My mother was a great lady and I miss her greatly,’ Fonda said. It was because of all his admiration for his mother that Fonda wanted to create a lasting memorial for her. "There were so many things I could have done, but I wanted to do something that really represented what she was all about,' he said. "I couldn't think of anything better than something that helped students further their education especially in an area she held so dear.’ Diana Sholley can be reached by e-mail at d_sholley@dailybulletin.com or by phone

It should be no surprise that the Raiders under their first-year coach play the same way. To help their coach earn her third career win since taking over for 25-year mentor Bill Voves, host Glenbard South beat Naperville North 3-1 thanks in large part to its aggressive base running. "That's the only way we're going to score some runs. I don't know any other way. That's how I played, and that's how I coached," Fonda said. "We will lose games sometimes because I run us out of them, but we will win games because I run us into them." The Raiders (3-2) stole six bases with three of those swipes coming in a pivotal second inning. Trailing 1-0, Glenbard South scored all three of its runs by moving runners into position and coming up with clutch hits. The last run came when the Raiders executed a first-and-third double steal that confounded the Huskies..."

   [Charles Andrew Fonda joined his parents, Charles Joseph and Mae (Lawless) Fonda on Wednesday morning, September 13th. He was 93. Chuck Fonda was born in Berwin, IL in January 21, 1913 before the First World War. He grew to manhood and music during the Great Depression and served his country during Second Great War where he sang and played tenor sax with trumpeter, Ray Anthony, and the Submarine Force Band. Chuck and longtime buddy, Larry Storch, entertained sailors and soldiers on bandstands across the Pacific Theater. After the War, Chuck returned to Chicagoland where he married Dorise Landbeck on January 7th, 1947. Chuck pursued] his music while he and Dorise built an interior decorating business and raised two sons. Afterwards, they moved to Santa Fe, established their home and were blessed with so many wonderful friendships. Chuck delighted in toting his wit and tenor to local Santa Fe gatherings. His five grandchildren always loved coming to New Mexico to be with their very cool grandpa. Charles Andrew Fonda is survived by Dorise, his loving wife of over 50 years along with sons David and Michael and their wives, Linda (Tracy) and Barbara (Hamlin). He also says farewell to his loving grandchildren: Rachael, Katie, Tyler, Stephanie, and Garrett Fonda and two great-grandchildren: Luca and Massimo Franceschina. We will celebrate Chuck's memory between 1 - 3 p.m., on Saturday, September 16th at 28 Tano Trail. Santa Fe New Mexican, The (NM) - September 16, 2006

Dorise grew up in Western Springs, Illinois during the Great Depression. In that sad time, her father and mother passed away, and she was raised in the Illinois Masonic Children’s Home in LaGrange. After World War II, Dorise met Charles Andrew Fonda, and they married and established an interior design business in the suburb of Cary outside Chicago. Dorise was a loving wife and mother, and professional designer. She was also a volunteer leader in her community where she served many years on the School Board of District 155 and taught Sunday School at the First Congregational Church of Crystal Lake, Illinois. In 1979, Dorise and Chuck moved to Santa Fe where she turned her time and talents to the Santa Fe Garden Club and Chapter AF of the P.E.O. Sisterhood. Dorise is preceded in death by her parents and her beloved Chuck. She is survived by sons: David (Linda) and Michael (Barbara), along with five grandchildren and two great grandchildren. She moved to Sacramento about a year ago, which makes this the center of the Pink Week Universe. One day in 1993, for artistic reasons that can never be fully explicated, deconstructed or otherwise explained, Fonda decided she had acquired enough pink clothes that she could - and therefore should - wear nothing but pink for an entire week. A friend, now her husband, was tickled pink at her decision. Since he is also an artist, he expressed his approval by making a Pink Week Poster to mark the occasion. A holiday was born, along with the lofty concept of holiday as art piece. Best of all, this is an agenda-free holiday - with no political, profitable, religious or social purpose. [The John Fonda Gallery located at Theatre Project is dedicated to providing the contemporary visual artist of Baltimore a vital venue to present shows featuring paintings, drawings, sculpture, photography, and fiber arts. This arrangement of gallery and performance space creates an opportunity for dialog as visual artists and performing artists exhibit their work side by side. The John Fonda Gallery at Theatre Project was dedicated on January 14, 1993 to the memory of John Fonda, who served as curator of the gallery and nurtured Baltimore arts and artists]; [Syracuse Mall Holds Fascinating Art Galleries - The Syracuse Mall, on South Salina Street at Clinton Square, contains two galleries plus the continually fascinating Village Square with its varied assortment of mini-shops manned by working craftsmen. Also on the lower level of the Mall is Artifact, the most “with-it” gallery in Syracuse and environs. For the first time in many months Artifact if featuring a new exhibition - "Works in Clay for 76" by John Fonda and David Mac- Donald. John Fonda received his M.F.A. this year from Syracuse University and teaches ceramics at the Everson Museum. As part of his degree program he developed a process whereby photo images can be integrated with the clay surface printed on the piece in under-glaze colors by means of a photographic rather than a printmaking process. City Scene in Photo Image - The object is usually a slab plate, raku fired with characteristic crackling and rough, unfinished edges. Some are totally flat, some gently curved into shallow bowls. The images, usually segments of bare trees, are printed in black, brown or dark green on pale grey or off-white. Several wall pieces by Fonda resemble in shape the front of television receivers. Each of these pieces has a photo image of a city environment: “Interchange,” “Street Scene,” “After the Last Snow.” Other pieces by Fonda include two slabs decorated with stars and stripes and another with chevron stripes. The wall piece “Distant Thunderstorm” is a collection of grey cloud forms effectively arranged on a white background and framed in silver. Syracuse Herald-American, 1976-07-04]

[John Fonda, artist and Santa, dies - Baltimore's Santa Claus -- a gentle man named John Fonda whose gifts to local artists are too long for any list -- died of heart failure Thursday as his friends prepared to honor his life's work. A master of ceramics who co-founded the annual SoWeBo arts festival near the Hollins Street market, Mr. Fonda died at St. Agnes Hospital. He was 63. A memorial service for Mr. Fonda, a vehement opponent of censorship, will be held at 1:35 p.m. Monday in the square at the foot of Broadway in Fells Point. "John made most of his money playing Santa Claus and spent most of his money supporting the arts in Baltimore,” said Teddy Getzel, owner of the Cultured Pearl cafe. "He always had an encouraging word for young artists unsure of themselves." A resident of Fells Point since the late 1970s, Mr. Fonda worked for the past 11 years as "the real Santa" at White Marsh Mall. His likeness to the true Saint Nicholas was so uncanny that he needed nary a prop to conjure the good man of Christmas. Crinkling his eyes and holding a finger aside of his nose was enough. Although he embraced the likeness -- his phone number was 685-HoHo -- Mr. Fonda saw the blessing as mixed. "Santa Claus kept him alive for most of the year," said Marc Fonda of Ontario, one of his two sons. "He would get requests for photo shoots from the Eastern Shore to New York. But when he wasn't doing the gig, he'd sometimes be chagrined to be recognized as Santa Claus across the country." What he loved most was making art: ceramics and in later years "paintings of fantastic studies in color," according to Mr. Getzel. A collector of erotic art and works by women, Mr. Fonda was renowned for rousing others -- young, old, poor, handicapped and those disenfranchised from tradition and the establishment -- to find the art inside themselves. "John was hope," said Ellen Dontigney, longtime impresario of outlandish art events. "As an artist on the outside you often feel like you're nobody, but he made you feel like you were somebody. He created opportunity for many, many people."]

Updated October 2022 1440
She added: "I can't believe John's gone. He was ho-ho-ho-ing just last Christmas." On Sunday, Oct. 25, the "Fonda-Rama" art and music extravaganza will be held at the Lithuanian Hall, 851 Hollins St., to raise money in Mr. Fonda's name. The event was planned to endow him with a retirement fund. The money raised will now be used to benefit local artists. Born in Gloversville, N.Y., in 1929, Mr. Fonda graduated from high school in Seattle. He served in the Navy during the Korean War and after his 1952 discharge earned a degree in cartography from the University of Washington. After working as a map maker for Rand McNally in Chicago, he taught at Syracuse University, where he earned a master's degree in ceramics. He began taking odd jobs in the 1970s after committing his life to art and moved from Washington to Fells Point in 1979. "He was so good to so many younger artists that some of us lost track of how brilliant an artist he was himself," said Megan Hamilton, associate editor of Art in Progress. Mr. Fonda is survived by a second son, Gerd Fonda of Brunswick, Maine; two sisters, Gary Ridley of Seattle and Joyce Harshbager of Henderson, Nev.; and his former wife, Margot Finke of Brandon, Manitoba. Contributions to the John Fonda Memorial Fund can be sent in care of the Theater Project, 43 W. Preston St., Baltimore, Md. 21201. Sun, The (Baltimore, MD) - October 17, 1992

[Willard Clark Fonda - June 14, 1920 ~ February 18, 2012 - Pebble Beach - Willard Clark Fonda, fondly known as “Bill”, passed away peacefully on February 18, at the age of 91 with his beloved family holding vigil. Born in Seattle, WA on June 14, 1920, he was a proud father, grandfather, great-grandfather and loving husband to his wife of 65 years, Jeanne, who preceded him in death. No greater love existed. Our extraordinary patriarch was wise, generous and profoundly loving, exuding confidence with loving advice, comforting and supporting his precious family at every opportunity. In 1942, while attending Washington State University, Bill was drafted into World War II and trained as a pilot. Promoted to Captain, he bravely led 50 air missions in the European African Middle Eastern campaign, Operation Torch, which was designed to push the Germans back to Germany in anticipation of D-Day. Operation Torch included General George S. Patton, and Britain's General Bernard Montgomery. Captain Fonda was forced to crash-land his plane, successfully, after completing a mission on the Sicilian Coast. A recipient of the Silver Star, Air Medal, Oak Clusters and seven other medals, he then considered applying for the Jet Fighter Squadron, but instead flew to visit his high school sweetheart and proposed to her that very day. They were married July 29, 1944. Bill lost his beloved Jeanne on January 1, 2009. Bill and Jeanne raised their family in Pacific Palisades, where he owned and operated two Baskin Robbins ice cream stores. In 1970 they relocated to Pebble Beach, where he established Sundance Shutters, installing unique shutters in many local hotels, schools and private homes. He loved woodworking and created unique gifts for his family. Bill loved golf and volunteered for 20 years as a course marshall at the AT&T Pro-Am golf tournament, previously known as "The Crosby." He is survived by his daughter, Lynne Fonda, of Colorado Springs and son, Robert Fonda, M.D., of Newport Beach. His youngest daughter, Laurie Fonda Gile, passed away in 1991. In addition to his children, he is survived by nine grandchildren, Zoe Dombrowski, Beka Gordon Chinery, Jeremy Caraway, Jason Caraway, Zachary Phillips, Scott Gile, Jacob Gile, Clark Fonda, Emilia Fonda; granddaughter-in-law, Topaz Kosorek; plus 13 great-grandchildren and former son-in-law, Vincent Kosorek. The family would like to thank the staff at Sunrise Senior Living, for their extraordinary care and compassion. We would also like to thank Dennis Taylor, at The Monterey County Herald, for his marvelous feature on Dad, which was published September 5, 2011. Memorial services will be held at The Little Chapel by-the-Sea in Pacific Grove on Saturday, March 17 at 1:00pm. He will be interred at El Carmelo Cemetery beside his wife and daughter. on January 1, with her beloved husband of 65 years, Bill, at her side. She was 87. Born in Asheville, North Carolina, Fonda graduated from Stephen's College for Women in Columbia, Missouri, and later was proud of being one of the original American Airlines stewardesses from World War II, during which time the airline ferried only dignitaries and military leaders. She continued her relationship with her airline colleagues in the Kiwi Club, within which she formed a dance troupe, staging performances for charity that included the famous Ebsen sisters, Helga and Vilma, sisters of Buddy Ebsen. Jeanne and Bill were wed shortly after his return from piloting 50 combat missions in the Mediterranean theater during World War II. They had three children: Lynne Fonda of Colorado Springs; Robert Fonda, M.D., of Newport Beach; and Laurie Fonda Gile, who predeceased her mother. After moving to Pacific Palisades in 1954 and raising their children, Jeanne and Bill relocated to Pebble Beach, where they opened a small business. Fonda found joy as an active member of the Jesters Club, the fundraising arm of the Monterey Museum of Art. Her charm, exquisite taste, and joie de vivre were blessings to everyone she met. Fonda loved and enjoyed her grandchildren, Zoe Dombrowski, Beka Chinery, Jeremy Caraway, Jason Caraway, Scott Gile, Jacob Gile, Zak Phillips, Clark Fonda and Emilia Fonda; and 13 great-grandchildren. Notes for family of Addie Belle FONDA and Frederick G. ENGEL: Marriage per obituary of Addie's brother Francis Fonda in 1944 (listed as Mrs. Frederick Engle)... but shown as Frederick's sister in 1940 Census, living together with her son, Melvin... she could be a sister-in-law since Frederick's sister was Mrs. Catherine Siebe... however, according to his obituary, Frederick married Alice Z. Hagan in 1943... so, the entry in Francis' obituary must have been wishful thinking.

[Franklin Clark Fonda, son of the late Nathan L. Fonda and Matilda Edna (Clark) Fonda, was born January 8, 1934, in Randall, New York, and departed this life on August 25, 2009, in his home near Long Lane, Missouri. He was at the time of his passing 75 years, eight months and 17 days of age. Frank was reared in the farming community of Randall, New York. He joined the U.S Air Force, serving in Korea and Vietnam. During his service years he lived in Guam, California, North Carolina and Louisiana, before moving to Springfield, Missouri, where he retired as a Senior Master Sergeant. He was united in marriage with Alice Chevalier on July 7, 1957, in Lamonte, Missouri, and to this union two sons were born, both of whom survive him. Following his retirement he started working with the U.S. Postal Service. He then moved to a farm near Long Lane, Missouri. Frank retired from the postal service in the late 1990s as head of maintenance. Frank accepted Jesus Christ as his Savior in 1964, and faithfully served until his passing. He was a member of Bennett Springs Church of God, where he was an elder and led the announcements. Frank was also a devoted member of the local Gideon Camp. Frank lived his life and was a dedicated husband, father and grandfather. This dedication was shown through his selfless sacrifices and the guidance he gave in providing support, shelter and love in a truly Christian home. He loved reading his Bible, other religious works, and satisfying his sweet tooth with Whitman Candy while reading historical and technical books. His farm, Black Angus cattle, and John Deere tractors were a major part of his life. ]

[The Rev. Donald A. Fonda Jr., a Baptist minister in churches throughout the region over three decades, died of...]

cardiac arrest Oct. 11 in his sleep at a hotel in Venice. He was 70. Rev. Fonda was born in Washington, D.C., and moved to Ridgewood, N.J., as a child. He graduated from Ridgewood High School in 1956. In 1962, he graduated from Alderson-Broadus College in Philippi, W.Va., with a degree in history. In 1966, he received his master of divinity degree from the former Colgate Rochester Divinity School in Rochester, N.Y. That same year, Rev. Fonda was ordained as an American Baptist minister in the Gaines-Carlton Larger Parish of Albion, N.Y. Rev. Fonda went on to serve churches in four states over 35 years, including Warrenville Baptist Church in Ashford, Conn., from 1966 to 1969; First Baptist Church of Youngstown, Ohio, from 1969 to 1971; First Baptist Church of Northampton, from 1971 to 1986; the Federated Church of Bolton, from 1986 to 1995; First Baptist Church of Beverly, in 1995 and 1996; and the Church of the Master in Providence, from 1997 to 2000. Rev. Fonda was also active in the American Baptist Churches of Massachusetts. With that organization, he served twice as interim area minister, from 1996 to 1997 and from 2000 to 2001, providing support and resources for local churches, including multi-ethnic congregations. After retiring in October 2001, he continued with the group as a project coordinator, working with two Portuguese-language Baptist seminaries in Lowell and Marlborough until 2006. He then became watchcare mentoring coordinator for the group, preparing Baptists for ordination. In addition, Rev. Fonda was a volunteer with the Greater Lawrence Habitat for Humanity from 2002 to 2004 and was a board member of the Refugee Immigration Ministry in Malden, from 2005 to 2006. While working with the Malden group, Rev. Fonda offered support to refugees, immigrants, and those in need of asylum. Rev. Fonda and his wife, Jeanne (Dancey), lived in Haverhill. The couple enjoyed going to concerts and the theater, traveling, gardening, and being grandparents. Since he was a teenager, Rev. Fonda had also been interested in genealogy research. At the time of his death, he was in Venice with his wife celebrating his 70th birthday, meeting Italian relatives, and investigating his Dutch family’s roots, which Rev. Fonda had been studying for the last eight years. “He was full of life, love, joy, and a deep, humble concern for people,” his wife said. In addition to his wife, Rev. Fonda leaves a daughter, Debbie of Pelham, N.H.; a son, Douw of the Netherlands; and four grandchildren. A memorial service was held Wednesday at First Baptist Church of Beverly, where Rev. Fonda had been a member since serving as interim minister in the mid-1990s, said the Rev. Craig C. Collemer, one of the ministers at the church. “Don was a wonderful gentleman filled with great joy,” said Rev. Collemer. “He had a marvelous sense of humor, and he was deeply committed to those who are on the margins of society.” He said he often used Rev. Fonda as a bellwether for his sermons. “He was the most responsive parishioner I’ve had during my sermons in 37 years of preaching. He often would sit on the edge of his pew, smiling, nodding, and he would often offer an amen out loud. If he wasn’t giving those kinds of signs, I knew I was in trouble.” Copyright 2008 Globe Newspaper Company.

[E. Darlene Nielsen, 59, passed peacefully into eternal rest on Sunday, September 23, 2018, with her loving family and friends by her side. Darlene was the daughter of the late Carole Fonda and Albert Crandall. She previously worked for the New York State Education Department and joyfully joined her husband in retirement in 2011. Darlene thoroughly enjoyed doing crafts of all kinds as well as pursuing her family's genealogy. She was particularly proud of volunteering with the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society, for which she received several recognitions and honors. Darlene served as past president of the Dutch Settlers Society of Albany and was previously an active member of the Danish Sisterhood, Lodge #78, in Troy, NY. Through her extensive genealogy work she was recently bestowed membership with the Daughters of Union Veterans of the American Civil War. And during the Second Gulf War she co-founded "Operation A Touch of Home" in support of American troops overseas. Darlene is survived by her loving husband, Larry, a son Bradley (Heather) Nielsen, and her beloved grandchildren, Gianna and Gavin Nielsen. She is also survived by her sister, Tammy, her brother Wayne, as well as nine additional step brothers and sisters, along with very dear aunts and uncles. A celebration of her life is being planned for family and friends in the near future. Darlene will be interred in the Gerald BH Solomon Saratoga National Cemetery in Schuylerville, NY.]

[Eighteenth century Nantucket whaling : as compiled from the original logs and journals of the Nantucket Athenaeum and the Nantucket Whaling Museum / [by] Douglass C. Fonda, Jr.; 30 p., 23 cm., Published Nantucket, Mass.: Douglass C. Fonda, 1969]

[Whaling Rules Bog In Politics - Nantucket, Mass. (UPI) - The leviathans of the sea are being threatened with extinction by whaling fleets, notably Russian and Japanese, which send factory ships with fishing fleets to process whale products. So far, international efforts to curb the practice of using ocean-going factory ships, so-called pelagic fleets, have been futile, according to Douglass Fonda, founder of the Whaling and Marine Manuscript Archives in Nantucket, a New England Island which once sent out dozens of whaling ships. The 14-nation International Whaling Commission IWC is the chief organization concerned with protecting the world's whale herds, and for more than a decade the IWC has tried to have observers placed aboard whaling vessels. (...) "The idea is to have an occupation and an income for people in a large, varied area of the world without decimating the whale population," he said. "Although the land stations would kill a few whales, there would still be thousands upon thousands of creatures who would propagate and these herds would build." Kingsport News - December 16, 1971, Kingsport, Tennessee]

[Whales fate rests with Russia and Japan - The whaling museum was started in early 1970. Fonda, a former rare book and antique dealer who has nurtured an interest in the sea and the "man - versus - largest - mammal" challenge since his childhood days in West Orange, N.J., utilizes the basement of a "Starbuck house" - one of the houses Joseph Starbuck built for his three sons - for the archives. The documents are kept in a temperature and humidity-controlled vault. Some of it on microfilm and others are original manuscripts. Contributions have ranged from the University of Hawaii to the British Museum and the Scottish archives. There also is a small amount of whaling memorabilia. The last whaler to leave Nantucket, Fonda said, was The Oak which headed off Nov. 16, 1869 and was sold in Panama in 1872. Lowell Sun - December 16, 1971, Lowell, Massachusetts]

[New York Passenger Lists, 1820-1957 - Name: Lois R Fonda, Arrival Date: 30-Aug-1948, Estimated Birth Year: abt 1924, Gender: Female, Port of Departure: Southampton, England, Ethnicity/Nationality: , Ship Name: Queen Mary]; [New Hampshire Symphony Orchestra - 06-07 Board of Trustees - Lois Fonda - Rye, NH]; Portsmouth Herald [To Russia with Love, By Jim Hofford - RYE - Most Granite Staters would think twice about traveling 10,000 miles in January to help 2,000 orphans and needy children celebrate the Russian Christmas. Particularly, if the traveler had just turned 80. Lois Fonda, of Rye (formerly of Portsmouth), had to think about it only once. "Don't think age," she said. "Think children!" A peripatetic globe-trotter and veteran of overseas-aid programs for homeless children, Fonda is no stranger to the ranks of Christian missions. She averages three short-term journeys each year. The oldest missionary with the Christian aid group, Eastern European Outreach of Murrieta, Calif., Fonda, a widow, began her work in 1989 when she helped smuggle Bibles into China and then began to bring in EEO relief supplies for children and needy families in Germany, Poland and Ukraine - areas that were still behind the Iron Curtain... Rye resident Lois Fonda hugs an orphan girl, one of 700,000 children in Russian orphanages. About 133,000 children are abandoned in Russia each year. For many, the situation is desperate. Just three months ago, Russian President Vladimir Putin lamented huge numbers of Russian homeless children as "a national catastrophe." Official estimates average two million to three million. Estimating that her team visited "about 2,000 children," Fonda stressed the excitement of encouraging the sponsored families with faith - to "lift them up from despair."... Fonda remembers it all with great joy. "None of us can ever forget the reactions of those precious children," she said. "Especially when they realized that we had flown over 5,000 miles to see them."

"You came over the ocean just to see us?" exclaimed one girl. "Why?" Lois Fonda loved to tell why. "We want to give you the joy of Christmas, yes," she said, "But even more, we want you all to know that celebrating Jesus' birthday means sharing his spirit of giving. After all, he gave his life for us, right?"]

[Sally Joanne (Smith) Fonda, 84, of Decatur (formerly of Sanger) went to be with the Lord on Tuesday, March 17, 2020, at her home surrounded by her loving family. Born on September 30, 1935, in Kountze, Texas, she was the daughter of Odis Franklin Smith and Gracie Amber (Coon) Smith. Sally managed the offices for the Sanger Mobile Home Park for several years and was a member of the Pilgrim's Way Baptist Church. She loved Jesus and loved to tell others of His love. Sally loved to sing. She was part of a gospel group called the Spirituallettes. They sang for nursing homes, the elderly, and their church. As other members of the group began to move on or pass away, the group disbanded. Sally loved all six of her children. Many others were not her children, but she loved as though they were her own. To this day, most of them still call her, Momma. She loved her grandchildren and having fun with them. A visitation for Sally will be held on Friday, March 20, 2020, from 6:00 pm to 8:00 pm at Coker Funeral Home in Sanger. Funeral services will be at Pilgrim's Way Baptist Church on Saturday, March 21, 2020, at 11:00 am with Walt Grunwald officiating the services. Notes for Gloria V. PANETTI: res. Rensselaer, NY; [Applicant's Request for Copies of the Videotaped Proceedings - Finally, the Applicant requested a copy of the videotape produced during the hearing on September 5, 1996. According to the Applicant, Gloria Fonda from the City of Rensselaer Improvement Committee (the Improvement Committee) made the videotape. Although a verbatim transcript of the proceeding was taken on that day, the Applicant expressed concern that the videotape includes the off-record discussions. The Applicant objects to any future tapings of the proceedings. The Town objected to the Applicant's request for a copy of the videotape from the September 5, 1996 hearing. The Town argued that the Improvement Committee and Ms. Fonda are not parties to this proceeding. According to the Town, the Applicant offered no authority that requires the disclosure of the tape from these non-parties. The Town contended that the transcript of the proceeding will provide a record of the proceeding.]; [A whole lot of shakin' going on - Belly dancing is all the rage among seniors who want to stay fit while having a good time - By Ken Thurman, Staff writer - Thursday, January 4, 2007 - Rensselaer, NY - Gym class was never like this - Over at the Rensselaer Area Senior Service Center, belly dancing has become the latest craze with those up in years who are looking for a fun way to wiggle their way into shape. (...) Gloria Fonda, director of senior services for the Rensselaer County Department of Aging, which contracts to put on the class and other activities at the center, said the belly dancing class for seniors is believed to be the only one of its type in the area. "We're always looking to bring in interesting programs for our seniors that are fun to do, because as we age, it's increasingly important to stay in good physical condition," Fonda said. (...)      [Expansion Proposed
     For Library - Thursday, January 5, 2012 - A major expansion has been planned for Moss Memorial Library in Hayesville (NC). The proposed 3,221 square feet addition includes a genealogy room, multi-purpose workroom and Friends of the Library Book Store. Preliminary cost estimates for construction range from around $400,000 to $480,000, and money will be needed for furnishings and associated expenses, according to Librarian Mary Fonda. "We don't know the costs until we do final designs, but we do know it will be between $125 to $150 per square foot, "she said. "Of course we're hoping it comes in on the low end." The library has $312,738 in hand which leaves approximately $167,000 to be raised by other means which include applying for grants and individual donations. In December the library got a big boost with a $28,700 grant from the Percy B Ferebee Endowment, and coordinators are hoping the community will pitch in with donations to help reach their financial goal. Fonda said they would like to have all the money in hand before construction begins. She said construction is planned to start this year and should take about six months to complete. Plans include a separate genealogy room in which all genealogy materials, archival scanner, shelving, family history database computers and furniture will be moved to one area. This will in turn free up floor space in the main part of the library. "A separate genealogy room will provide a secure space to house and archive family histories for patrons doing research as well as an area for conducting related workshops," Fonda said. e-edition of the Clay County Progress.] >> www.fonda.org <<

[CentreDaily.com - State College, PA - Thu., May. 17, 2007 - Local woman has cats in every corner - By Sara Ganim - After years of being known as Centre County's go-to lady for rescuing cats, Shirley Fonda wants out. She has shuffled more than 630 cats in and out of her Patton Township home during the past six years. At times, her home has held 100 cats at once. They rule her house, said Fonda, 71. And now she wants her home back. "Each of my rooms has a little colony of cats," Fonda said. "I just don't know what to do. It's getting to be a desperate situation." Fonda has most of her belongings packed away. She has boarded up her cabinets and shelves. She can't go on vacation. She loves the cats, but taking care of them is draining -- physically, emotionally and financially, Fonda said. It's not good for the cats either. Fonda said she just can't give them all the love they need. She advertises the sale of the cats at Petco each Saturday, but she hasn't been able to adopt the cats fast enough. "I pet each one as I go in the room. They swarm around me. When I go to leave, I'll look and some will cry for me to pet them more."

"They'd do better in homes," she said. Fonda was one of the volunteers who rescued more than 100 cats from an abandoned home in Potters Mills in 2005. She has been called upon to rescue cats from various places around the county, including Toftrees, a car dealership, a hotel, Bellefonte and elsewhere. Police are among those who call upon her for cat rescues. Fonda has been able to find homes for many of the cats, but 67 still remain, taking over every crack and crevice of her home. Fonda had a room just for things she didn't want the cats to get into -- but now that room has cats, too. Her husband's workplace in the basement has cats. Her bathroom houses the kittens. The garage has two cats as well. "Everybody says I'm a sucker that I can't say no, but I've got to say no, for my sake, healthwise," Fonda said. "A lot of it's lifting heavy bags of food and litter. We're not getting any younger." She promised her husband a year ago she'd only take in pregnant mothers and kittens. "I thought that would cut down, but I didn't know what I was talking about," Fonda said. Instead, she ended up with 87 kittens. She has been able to cut back on the number of cats in her home, but not enough. "I just feel I've got to do something more with my life," Fonda said. Right now, she spends five to six hours of her day just feeding the animals. "I'm tired of waking up in the morning thinking, 'four hours to go,' " she said. Fonda said she has spent hundreds of dollars on medical bills and is charging $40 per adoption to help cover that cost. "We got them all neutered and spayed and vaccinated and everything," Fonda said. "The ones I have, most of them are just really super cats, young cats. All named." Sara Ganim can be reached at 231-4616.

[San Diego Virginia Lowe Fonda, 88, went home to be with the Lord on Friday, March 1, 2013, in San Diego. Born in New York, she was the daughter of the late James and Helen Rooney. She was preceded in death by her husband, Douw Valentine Fonda. "Ginnie" is survived by her son, Kenneth Douw Fonda and his wife, Tricia, of San Diego; a daughter, September B. Morn, of Shelton, Wash; grandson Rick Gifford and his wife, Nancy; and great-grandsons, Jack and Ben Gifford, all of Harwich, Mass. She is also survived by two sisters, Patricia Dopman and her husband, William of Salisbury, Sheila Rooney, of Sun City Center, Fla.; a cousin, Philip Lowe, of Barefoot Bay, Fla; and several nieces and nephews. Mrs. Fonda served her country in the WAACs, as a Therapist, at the end of World War II and was awarded the WWII Victory, American Service, and Good conduct medals. Later, living in Cape Cod, she became the first woman Charter Boat Captain on the East coast, in East Dennis, while also owning a Sports and Hobby Shop and Marina there. But, she was also widely known for her many artistic talents, including watercolor and oil paintings, wood carvings, pine needle woven baskets and pen and ink sketched cards. She exhibited in four states, and in Salisbury at the Art Institute and Gallery, and the Ward Museum. She was also a member of the Attic Artists and Red Hat Ladies. Ginnie was especially fond of

Attended Vassar College, Poughkeepsie, NY, 1960, Actors Studio, NY City, studied with Lee Strasberg. She was named after one of Henry VIII's wives, Lady Jane Seymour; since coincidently, her father's middle name was Jaynes and her mother's maiden name was Seymour (also, a great aunt is named Jane Ford Seymour); Born in New York City to legendary screen star Henry Fonda and NY socialite Frances Seymour Brokaw, Jane Seymour Fonda was destined early to an uncommon and influential life in the limelight. Although she initially showed little inclination to follow her father's trade, she was prompted by Joshua Logan to appear with her father in the 1954 Omaha Community Theatre production of 'The Country Girl'. Her interest in acting grew after meeting Lee Strasberg in 1958 and joining the Actors Studio. Her screen debut in Tall Story (1960) marked the beginning of a highly successful and respected acting career highlighted by 2 Academy Awards for her performance in Klute (1971) and Coming Home (1978) and 5 Oscar nominations for Best Actress in: They Shoot Horses, Don't They? Newark Community Union Project. He was also witness to the city's race riots, and wrote the book Rebellion in Newark: Official Violence and Ghetto Response (1967). Hayden also played a key role in the protests and violence surrounding the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago, Illinois. There he was arrested as part of the "Chicago Seven," with other protesters including Abbie Hoffman and Jerry Rubin, and charged with conspiracy and inciting riots. He made several high profile trips as a peace activist to Cambodia and North Vietnam during America's involvement in the Vietnam War, including an especially controversial one in 1972 to North Vietnam with his former wife, actress Jane Fonda. Hayden later served in the California State Assembly (1982-1992) and the State Senate (1992-2000). (Classmates.com: Peter Fonda; Brownell - Talbot High School, Omaha, NE, 1954-1958); attended the Fay School in Southboro, MA and the University of Omaha in Omaha, NE; left a year before graduating; [Peter Fonda, a longtime friend of Thomas McGuane, first saw MT during the filming of 92 in The Shade (1975), which McGuane wrote and directed. Fonda married Portia Rebecca Crockett (McGuane's ex-wife) in 1977 and moved to Livingston, MT soon after. They have been permanent residents ever since; Blessed with the appealing, all-American looks of his father, Henry Fonda, Peter began his big screen career playing romantic leads in teen-appeal vehicles like Tammy and the Doctor (1963) and The Young Lovers (1964). As the swinging Sixties progressed, Fonda abandoned the mainstream and created a sensation starring in the 1966 Roger Corman biker flick The Wild Angels (his costar was fellow celebrity progeny Nancy Sinatra). He also began experimenting with drugs—which inspired not only his 1967 film The Trip but also Beatle John Lennon, who shared an LSD experience with Fonda and immortalized some of his acid-addled pronouncements in the song "She Said She Said." In 1969 Fonda produced and costarred in the definitive 1960s anti-establishment statement, Easy Rider for which he shared an Academy Award nomination for Best Original Screenplay. His Hollywood career since that time has been spotty; he's acted mainly in sub-A action pictures. In 1971, Fonda directed and starred in the critically acclaimed Western The Hired Hand and followed with the sci-fi oddity ID Transfer (1973), in which he did not appear, and Wanda NV (1979), playing a gambler who wins young Brooke Shields in a poker game; father Henry made a brief appearance in the picture, marking the only time father and son worked together. Popular in Japan, he made a sci-fi film called Daijobu, Mai Furendo (All Right, My Friend there in 1983. In recent years his own child, Bridget Fonda, has become a star and was recently directed by Peter's old crony Roger Corman in 1990's Frankenstein Unbound Peter made an amusing (and fleeting) cameo appearance in his daughter's 1993 movie Bodies, Rest & Motion—as a biker. He then took a supporting role in Deadfall (also 1993)]

[Fonde Named Michigan Aide - Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan 16, 1959 (AP) - The University of Michigan hired Henry (Hank) Fonde, Ann Arbor High School football coach today. Fonde will handle the backfield under the university's new head coach, and Fonde's one-time Michigan teammate, Chalmers W. (Bump) Elliott. NY Times, Jan 17, 1959]. [Hank began coaching football for Ann Arbor High in 1949. He coached for ten years and his teams won 69 games, lost six and tied four. He won nine 6-A league titles. His teams had four perfect seasons and three seasons without defeat but a tie. Hank was a starting halfback for the University of Michigan and earned three letters for football. He also earned his Masters degree in the process. Born January 13, 1924, in Knoxville, Tennessee, Hank attended Staunton Military Academy and earned All-State honors. Fonde also served in the Navy. [Former U-M football player/coach Henry Fonde dies - Published: Wednesday, May 06, 2009 - Former University of Michigan football player and coach Henry Fonde, who also coached the Ann Arbor High School football team for 10 years, died at the age of 85 early Sunday morning of complications brought on by Alzheimer's disease. A visitation for Fonde will be held on Thursday from 4-9 p.m. at the Vermeulen Funeral Home, located at 46401 W Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth, followed by a funeral service at First Presbyterian Church in Northville at 11 a.m. Friday. A native of Knoxville, Tenn., Fonde came to the University of Michigan in 1944 as part of the Navy's V-12 program and studied engineering while contributing to the strong Wolverines football teams of the mid-to-late '40s. Known to many as Hank, Fonde's highlights as a player included scoring the lone touchdown in Michigan's 7-3 victory over Ohio State in 1945 and tossing a 45-yard touchdown pass in the 49-0 win over Southern California in the 1948 Rose Bowl. Fonde compiled a 69-6-4 record (with four of his losses coming in his final season) coaching the Pioneers from 1949-1958, after which he joined Bump Elliott's staff at Michigan. "It still amazes me how many people know the name 'Fonde' and it's because of him," Fonde's son, Chuck said. "He made such a mark in this community, both through Ann Arbor High School and the University of Michigan. A lot of people knew him, a lot of people loved him." Fonde remained on the staff at Michigan through the 1968 season and became an academic advisor for the football team when Bo Schembechler replaced Elliott in 1969. "I just remember him being one of the nicest gentleman I've ever met in my life," said longtime Michigan assistant Jerry Hanlon, who arrived on campus with Bo in 1969. "He was that kind of a person. He had everybody's best interest at heart. The players loved him, and when he decided to leave Michigan as academic advisor, I thought it was a big loss." [Dad Relents, Son-in-Law May Go Free - New York (UP) - A forgiving father Wednesday asked dismissal of an abduction charge he had brought three years ago against the man who took his 15-year-old daughter away and married her. In Ridgeway Felony Court the father, William Smink, clasped hands warmly with his son-in-law, Charles M. Fonda, 33, and said he was convinced the marriage was a happy one. Early in March 1954, Fonda left with Elizabeth Smink and the couple got married in Reno, Nev. Subsequently the couple settled in a cottage at Monte Vista, Calif. Elizabeth's father filed an abduction charge against Fonda. There were no further developments in the case until Elizabeth, now 18, returned to her parents' home for a visit a few days ago. She told them that she and her husband were very happy, that he has a good job as a machinist and that they are expecting a baby in October. The father relented and asked authorities to drop the charge against Fonda. He was told however, that Fonda would have to appear in court here before it could be dismissed. Fonda returned Wednesday after waiving extradition in California and father, daughter and son-in-law met happily before Queens Magistrate Cornig G. McKennee. Family attorney Thomas LaFauci told the story. The Magistrate promptly paroled Fonda in Custody of LaFauci pending a routine hearing April 25, before which the district attorney's office must make a formal check on the case and Fonda's background. With that, father, daughter and son-in-law left arm-in-arm for the Sminks' home, Astoria, Queens. Long Beach (CA) Press-Telegram, April 18, 1957]

John Burt Fonda, 87, of Stanton, a retired sheet-metal worker, died July 9, 2005, of cancer. Services: 10 a.m. July 23, The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Orange. Arrangements by the Neptune Society of Orange County, Costa Mesa. Daughter, Joan Rubadue; son, Charles; five grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; [John Burt Fonda was born 30 May 1918 in De Smet, Kingsbury County, South Dakota to John Simrey Fonda and Anna M. Hartle. He passed away 9 July 2005 in Santa Ana. John was preceded in death by his wife, Alice Cleveland in 1981, and his sweetheart, Lucille Moyer in 2003. He is survived by 2 children, Joan Rubadue and Charles Fonda, 5 grandchildren, and 5 great-grandchildren. He is also survived by his stepchildren, Carole Miller, David Allen and their families and by Lucille's daughter Charlene and her family and the family of Lucille's deceased daughter, Laverle. John was orphaned at a young age and struggled growing up alone with his brothers. He joined the Marines where he served in the Philippine Islands. There he specialized in cooking and photography, skills he enjoyed his whole life. He came to Orange in 1942 and learned the sheet-metal trade. In 1949 he established Fonda Sheet Metal in Santa Ana and, with David's expertise, expanded into air-conditioning. His son, Charles, and Carole's son, Don, had the privilege of being tutored in the business by John and David. He belonged to the Elks Lodge, Isaac Walton League, and the Orange County Outboard Club. John enjoyed ocean and lake fishing. He and Lucille went to their Salton Sea home as much as possible. A memorial service will be held Saturday, July 23, 10:00 A.M. at The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, 674 S. Yorba, Orange, 92869. Because of his own difficult childhood, John had regularly donated to charities that benefited underprivileged children. Therefore it is suggested that in lieu of flowers, a donation to Salvation Army or any charity assisting children be given in John Fonda's honor. Published in the Orange County Register on 7/14/2005.]

Age is the period of all periods in one's life when one's nature should be sweet and mellow and loveable. It is the period of all periods when one's heart and spirit should be calm, rich in tenderness, when one's mind should be high and virtuous. It should not be a period of distressing doubts and disquieting fears and vain regrets. Rather it should be a period of blissed hopes of precious inspirations and of tender memories. She was born in Grand Rapids Michigan to Katherine and Glenn Ryder. She was the oldest of three children. She has a younger brother, Richard, and a younger sister, Lois. The home was filled with music and the love of the Lord. ]

Beverly accepted Jesus as her savior at age 6 and was baptized at age 13. She played the violin, piano, and the French horn. She also had a lovely singing voice. She and her family moved to California in 1948. They settled in the Modesto/Ceres area. She married on December 17, 1955 to Edwin Fonda. Two years later they started a family by welcoming four sons and a daughter in their next seven years. Beverly worked for the Modesto City Schools until her retirement. She also started the “We Care” Singles Ministry in 1979. She was preceded in death by her father Glenn Ryder and her mother Katherine Ryder. She is survived by her 5 Children Donald Fonda (Joan), Doreen Rutherford (Ken) of Modesto, David Fonda of Ceres, Douglas Fonda (Bobbie) of Lodi, and Daniel Fonda (Jennifer) of Modesto, 10 grandchildren Aaron Fonda, Sean Fonda (Stephanie), Evan Fonda, Laura Rutherford, Andrew Fonda, Blake Fonda, Lucas Fonda, Jason Hewitt (Kayla), Rylee Lemas, and Molly Fonda. She is also survived by her brother, Richard Ryder (Dixie) of Turlock, and sister Lois Shearer (Gordon) of Banks, Oregon. Visitation will be Tues. (MAACCE) Annual Conference. Layla Blackwell received a Student Award, while Clifford Fonda won a Volunteer Award. (...) Fonda, who owns a photography/art business, began volunteering at the South Baltimore Learning Center (SBLC) in November 2007. "I was raised to value service to the community. Of the various choices in Baltimore, SBLC aligns most closely with my own values and beliefs," Fonda said. "Specifically, it is the focus on learning and education that resonates with me. It's an example of the, 'Give a man a fish' versus, 'Teach a man to fish' option." A South Baltimore resident, Fonda began volunteering at SBLC one night a week. He has increased his hours and now volunteers two mornings each week. On average, he volunteers double the hours of almost every other SBLC volunteer each week. Many learners come twice a week for assistance working through their assignments or to ask him questions. As a volunteer in the drop-in lab, he also provides supplemental one-on-one and small group instruction to pre-GED and GED learners. "Very quickly, Cliff turned into one of our most consistent volunteers," said Margaret Bullamore, SBLC's volunteer/outreach coordinator. "Cliff has impacted many learners through his constant encouragement and support, and we are thrilled to have him as a volunteer at SBLC." If you ask Fonda, he'll say he's the one who is benefiting most from the experience. "There is a special feeling to helping people learn and understand something they once thought was beyond their reach," Fonda said. "The moments when they realize that math does not have to be confusing and it is something they can understand and use are what I treasure."

She weighed 60 pounds at the time of her death, which was officially determined to be from complications associated with her chronic multiple sclerosis. According to her daughter Colleen Thompson, Fonda’s health problems began about 20 years ago - not long after she began drinking an average of 8 to 12 diet soft drinks each day. Since contacting Mission Possible, Thompson has been attempting to convince the state of Nevada that her mother died of aspartame poisoning, or Rumsfeld's disease. An autopsy would not only prove the role aspartame played in her mother’s death, it would also help to prove the innocence of Diane Fleming. After a sham trial, Fleming was convicted of fatally poisoning her husband Chuck with an unopened gallon of methanol-containing windshield washer fluid. She is currently serving a 50-year prison sentence when forensic data can prove when Chuck actually poisoned himself to death with aspartame.] >> www.fonda.org <<

[Robert Fonda, a 53-year resident of California and a 17-year resident of Joshua Tree, died May 29, 2016, at Desert Regional Medical Center. He was 53 years old. The son of Elizabeth Blanchard and Robert C. Fonda Jr., he was born Feb. 22, 1963, in Bakersfield. He was a software and network engineer for 20-plus years, a rock climbing guide for 15 years and a solar power and home electrician and computer consultant for 10 years. He loved rock climbing, Joshua Tree National Park's Search & Rescue Team, playing guitar, music and sound engineering, all things computers and his good dogs. He was preceded in death by his father and grandparents. He is survived by his wife, Hilde Fonda, of Joshua Tree; his mother, Elizabeth Blanchard, of Burbank; and his brothers, John DeWitt, of San Jose, and Ted DeWitt, of Seal Rock, Oregon. Robert was much loved by friends from several communities, including climbers, IT, desert rats, musicians, solar power, construction and other walks across the U.S. and abroad. The family has been tremendously uplifted by an outpouring of] fond, funny and touching memories and photos from friends and extended family. In the words of some of his many friends, "I have yet to meet a more foul-mouthed, brilliant and generous individual. I always enjoyed the days he would come into Nomads like a whirlwind and leave customers not knowing what just hit them but they always had a smile." ... "I remember a winters morning at Trashcan Rock, and seeing Chaco tracks in the snow. Went on setting up for a navigation class and here comes Robert strolling across the desert wearing Chacos in the snow. Should have known." ... "Thank you for showing me how the real world works, how the truth hurts and how it can be painful, but also to appreciate some aspects of life that some people just don't understand ... and never will." The family is very grateful to all who donated to help with his medical expenses. In lieu of flowers, we suggest that donations be made to the Desert Cancer Foundation or your favorite charity. Celebrations of Robert's life will occur but are not yet planned. Live long and prosper. 2016 Hi-Desert Star, June 2, 2016

[Collamer Bandits Hunted - Three bandits were being hunted today after robbing a small Collamer grocery and folding a couple at gunpoint. The trio, their faces covered by silk stocking masks and blackened with burnt cork, last night eluded one of the largest roadblocks set up in Central New York. State Police said the men held Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fonda at bay with two sawed-off shotguns while they robbed the store cash register of $40. Mrs. Fonda told troopers she was alone at 9:10 p.m. in the store located about one mile east of Collamer on Rt. 298. Her husband was in back cleaning pheasants. She said two men ran into the store and a third raced around back to cover her husband. Fonda, who heard his wife scream at sight of the gunmen, started into the store but was halted by one of the men. Fonda said the bandit pointed a shotgun at his stomach. After he was pushed inside the store, the proprietor and his wife stood side by side as the men worked with precision to execute the theft. Fonda said one of the men snarled: "Get back or I'll drop you". As one held the Fonadas at gunpoint, a second gunman stood watch at the front door. The third scooped up the money. Mrs. Fonda told troopers one of the men tried to calm her by saying, "Don't worry, I'm not going to shoot you." After they had the money, Fonda said, two of the...]

men raced toward their car. The third man backed out, holding his gun on the couple. The men were in their 20s, the Fondas told police. One was about five feet, nine inches tall, stocky and was wearing a black leather jacket. Another was stocky and wore a yellow and black plaid shirt. The third was not identified. The couple agreed the trio appeared experienced, confident and showed no signs of nervousness. Within 20 minutes of the holdup, troopers, sheriff's deputies and city police had thrown up nearly 20 roadblocks. The bandits' success in evading the blocks was realized shortly after midnight when the getaway car was found in Wadsworth Park. The car, a 1950 tan and white sports coupe, was found by Patrolman G. E. Massett. The auto was stolen earlier and police believe the trio continued their fight in another stolen car. The recovered auto was brought to police headquarters where experts went over it for fingerprints and other clues. Authorities suspect the car was one of two stolen from Vocational High School, where hundreds of cars were parked during an adult education class session. During the peak of the manhunt, all available deputies, troopers and city police took up stations. City police converged on Thompson Rd. and covered intersections leading through Thompson Rd., from the city line as far as Erie Blvd. Other roadblocks were manned on roads leading to Fayetteville, Kirkville, Bridgeport and the Thruway. In addition, rarely used side roads were watched. The Fondas told police the bandits' stocking masks were knotted at the top, hampering identification. Neither Mr. nor Mrs. Fonda reported any bodily harm. They said though they lost $40 a larger sum was saved. Syracuse Herald Journal 1957-10-17

[Stewart H. Fonda Jr. was born December 12, 1924, and grew up in Syracuse, NY. He enlisted in the Navy during World War II, and was stationed in Hawaii, where he was sent state side to Milwaukee, WI as an officer training candidate at Marquette University. He received a bachelor's degree in civil engineering, but, since the war had ended, was not commissioned. While in Milwaukee, Stu met Hazel at a USO dance and they were married on December 26, 1944. He took his wife Hazel and toddler son Stewart to Coulee Dam, WA, where he worked at his first job as an engineer with the Bureau of Reclamation installing a new power plant at the dam. While there, he was called up by the Navy, and served on the aircraft carrier USS Boxer during the Korean War. After the war, he moved to Detroit, MI to work with the US Army Corps of Engineers. He later transferred to the Chicago office, where he spent the bulk of his career on water projects for the Great Lakes. In the mid-1970s he joined the State Department as an engineering advisor to The International Joint Commission tasked with advising and monitoring projects which affected both Canada and the United States. He retired in 1979 to Parker, CO. During retirement, Stewart had an excessive amount of free time, so he took up real estate sales until he moved to Loveland, CO in 2008. Stewart's interests included serving as a Boy Scout troop master. At the time, his troop had more Eagle Scouts than any other troop in the Chicagoland area. He was also active in church activities. He enjoyed fishing, elk and deer hunting, skiing, hiking, dancing and taking long vacations by car. Stewart is survived by his sisters Ruth Lyke, Jane Winks and Janet Baum of Syracuse, NY, and brothers Howard Fonda of Syracuse and Clayton Fonda of Auburn, WA. He is also survived by his children Stewart Fonda III (Barbara) of Englewood, CO, David Fonda (Kathy) of Parker, CO, and Kathleen (Fonda) Gingery (husband Kevin) of Ft. Collins, CO. [Hazel Emma Violet (Blue) Fonda passed away in Loveland, Colorado on March 3, 2018. Hazel was born July 17, 1924 in Saskatchewan, Canada, where she lived until her family moved to Milwaukee, WI when she was a teenager. In 1950 Hazel became a citizen of the United States. During World War II, Hazel met Stewart H. Fonda Jr. at a USO function. They were married on December 26, 1944 and had 3 children. Hazel was a talented hostess and loved to host gatherings. Their home held many family barbeques and holiday meals, as well as dinners for friends and neighbors. She and her husband were members of Trinity Lutheran Church in Loveland. She had a big heart for serving others. She volunteered at church, Parent Teacher Association, the American Field Service (a foreign student exchange program), the Smithsonian Museum in Washington D.C., and several women's civic service groups. In Loveland, she continued her service at Good Samaritan Village by volunteering at the front office, greeting many residents and their families. [University of North Carolina [George Fonda, Sigma '63, from Cazenovia, New York, north of Philadelphia, joined Chi Psi the following year. He and Pete became close friends. They often drove north together to their respective hometowns for their breaks from academic chores. Tim recalls that "Pete in college was the all-American boy. He had (and still has) the appearance, smarts and athletic abilities one would admire???. He was - and is - a delight to be around, never taking himself seriously and always a gentleman in the highest traditions of Chi Psi and the Navy. Things came easily for Pete - particularly academics. He NEVER studied, but his grades were superb. I would struggle with my accounting exercises and he would be playing bridge or poker and blasting out Victory at Sea on the stereo." Fonda reports that his buddy loves to bet - on everything - and enjoys teasing him with bets even today. Bother George recounts one episode that typifies their relationship. On a day in 1961 as they started their spring-break drive home from the Lodge at 9 AM, Pete was to drive and offered to bet George that they would be in Richmond by Noon. George knew that it took more than three hours to reach Richmond, where they always checked their watches with the reliable clock tower on the Main Street Union Station, adjacent to U.S. Routes 1 and 301. George took the bet. When they had already been on the road for three and a half hours and still well short of Richmond, George was already planning on how to spend his apparent winnings. Thing took a different turn when they passed the station clock, which showed 11:45, although their watches registered 12:45. It was apparent that the railroad clock had not been advanced with arrival of Daylight Savings Time, a fact with which Pete was obviously aware. George says that Pete "grinned like a Cheshire Cat all the way to Philadelphia."]

[Fonda, Letitia "Tish" - August 15, 2008 Letitia "Tish" Fonda died on Friday, August 15, 2008, at her home on Marco Island, Florida. Her husband George Fonda and her daughter Heather Moore were at her side. Tish was born and raised in Sydney, Australia. She was 63 years old at the time of her death. George Fonda and his family were longtime residents of Cazenovia and the Syracuse area. When recently diagnosed with a reoccurrence of the melanoma first discovered and treated surgically in 1980, she chose to remain positive about her condition and took comfort in the fact that she had had a productive and rewarding life for the 28 years she continued to live. As Manager of Exhibits and Special Events for Comsat Corporation in Bethesda, Maryland, she was afforded the opportunity to travel extensively throughout the world and work with colleagues, many of whom became lifelong friends. She was able to see her daughter, Heather grow up, graduate from college, get married to Timothy Moore, and enjoy her two beautiful and handsome grandchildren, Sophia and Anthony. Her doctors in Naples, Florida marveled at her upbeat, positive attitude while treating her for this horrible terminal disease. Always beautifully dressed and adorned, she displayed great style, dignity, poise, and humor amongst them. They did all that could be done for her. She married Navy Lieutenant George Fonda in Sydney Australia in 1968, while he was stationed there with the Vietnam R & R office. She was able to return every year to Sydney, sometimes twice a year, to continue her very close friendship with her childhood friends. Graveside services will be held at the Woodlawn Cemetery in New York City and All Saints Church in Sydney, Australia at a time convenient to her family. In lieu of flowers, it is Tish's wish that those who would like to, make a contribution in her memory to the Marco Island Parks and Recreations Department, 1361 Andalusia Terrace, Marco Island, Florida 34145 USA.]

point, the future was questionable at best. John Fonda recalls the day when there were eight houses in the Midwest similar to John Day Co. that split their time between the agriculture and industrial business. Slowly, they started to go out of business as implement dealers became fewer and fewer in the Midwest, and as the farming base shrank. At the same time, John Day Co. watched as pressures on margins continued. Today, John Day is one of the last remaining dual houses. "I'm not sure if they went into bankruptcy or if there was no one interested in taking over the businesses, but we were a family business and we wanted to stay in business and make a go of it,” says John Fonda. Notes for Wanda Jean CAIRNCROSS: res. Upland, CA [Account established to benefit man whose conviction was overturned - Will Bigham, Staff Writer will.bigham@inlandnewspapers.com 10/25/2009 ONTARIO, CA - An Upland schoolteacher has established a bank account to benefit a man recently released from prison after a federal judge overturned his attempted-murder conviction. Though Rafael Madrigal calls freedom after nine years "unbelievable," his family has been hurting financially since the death of his father in January. (...) After learning of Madrigal's financial hardships, a middle school teacher who once taught Madrigal's oldest son set out to establish a bank account for people to donate to Madrigal's family. Wanda Fonda, a history teacher at Grace Yokley Middle School in Ontario, established the account last week and deposited the first $100. "If everybody just donates just a little bit to help them out it could help them stay in their home," said Fonda, 57. "And this happened through no fault of his own." Madrigal, 34, was convicted of attempted murder based on eyewitness testimony that he was involved in a July 2000 drive-by-shooting in East Los Angeles. In overturning the conviction, a federal judge faulted Madrigal's trial attorney for failing to sufficiently prove Madrigal's seemingly ironclad alibi: he was at work at a Rancho Cucamonga factory at the time of the shooting. (...) "There's still a lot of good people in this world," Madrigal said. Madrigal said he was "speechless for the first five minutes" when he met Fonda last week. "I saw her two days ago in the bank when she was going through the whole process," Madrigal said in an interview Friday. "I couldn't thank her enough." "Even the smallest of help would be worth millions," Madrigal said. (....)

She'd just moved into the village in May, many of her family's belongings still in boxes in their basement when Tropical Storm Irene hit the area. "We lost a lot of the kids' things, we lost Christmas presents, a lot of our belongings, so we're slowly starting to replace these as time goes by," said Fonda. And for that, she goes to the old Guilford Mills warehouse where the not-for-profit organization Care for New York State has set up shop for flood victims to pick up much-needed supplies for free. (..) "My house would still be in shambles," said Fonda. "I would not be able to make my house comfortable for my kids. My kids would not be sleeping in their warm comfortable beds, with warm comfortable blankets, or have the clothes on their back." "Seeing her so happy makes us happy, and that's what we're here for," said Moore. (..) But Fonda says she leaves here with more than just new belongings; also with a feeling of normalcy. "It feels really good. It's like getting a piece of your life back, that we're not victims, we can survive," she said. http://hudsonvalley.ynn.com/content/top_stories/580146/supplies-still-being-stocked-for-flood-victims/] >> www.fonda.org <<

[Gloversville - A 39-year old widow and mother apparently shot herself to death Saturday after trying to kill a man friend in a bedroom of his home, authorities said yesterday. Sheriff's deputies said it appeared the woman used the same shotgun with which her husband killed himself last year. Dist. Atty. H Andrew Schlusberg said the wounding Saturday of Patrick Buanno, 45, and the death of Mrs. Philomena Fonda of nearby Johnstown apparently was a case of attempted murder and suicide. Buanno was reported in fair condition at Nathan Littauer hospital where he was undergoing treatment for shotgun wounds in the abdomen and right hand. Schlusberg said Buanno told police that Mrs. Fonda came to his home and entered his bedroom, carrying the shotgun. After a brief quarrel, he said, she shot him and he ran from the house to a brother's home across the street to call police. Police found Mrs. Fonda's body in the living room of Buanno's home. Schlusberg said it appeared that she had placed the shotgun under her chin and fired. The Fulton County sheriff's office said Mrs Fonda's husband, Melvin, killed himself in June 1962, apparently with the same gun. The couple had two teenaged sons. Utica NY Daily Press, Monday, September 2, 1963; [...]Mrs. Fonda was born in Fonda on Sept. 15, 1924, a daughter of Joseph and Irene Mezzio Conte and had lived in Johnstown since August of 1962. [Sugar Grove garage burns - Smyth County News & Messenger - Marion VA - January 21, 2003 - Fire broke out in a well-known Sugar Grove business Friday, Jan. 17, destroying the entire property and its contents. Bob's Garage, in business for five years at 5488 Sugar Grove Highway, began burning about 7 p.m. and smoldered all weekend, according to Smyth County Sheriff's Office Investigator B.C. "Chip" Shuler. Robert Fonda Sr., owner of Bob's Garage, apparently lost all his property in the fire, including tools he estimated to be worth $100,000, due to lack of renter's insurance. He has leased the building for many years from property owner Christine Blevins. "Five years' work gone in three hours," Fonda said Tuesday morning as he waited for investigators. "I didn't know something you worked so long and hard on could disappear in a matter of minutes and hours." Fonda doesn't know what he'll do next. "People ask me that, but that's hard to answer. I'm still trying to get over what happened," he said. "People say, 'Aw, you'll move away now.' And I tell them, 'you're stuck with me. This is home for me.' Home for Fonda used to be upstate New York, and he'd cut short visits to Tennessee to spend some time in Smyth County before moving to Sugar Grove's Quarter Branch Road and opening the garage. As he stood waiting for the investigators to arrive and sift through the remains of that garage, a neighbor ambled across the parking lot. With a chuckle Fonda called to the man. "No service work today."]

Glen Ave., Syracuse. The plays take a light-hearted look at the Christmas season. Jon Wilson directs Patricia Clapp's "The Toys Take Over' Christmas," in which a skilled but hard-hearted toymaker (Rob Fonda) won't sell any of the dolls he creates. But the toys, which are so well-made that they're almost human, decide to revolt so they can find their way into children's homes. Rob Fonda plays the Toymaker. Shannon Tompkins directs Jimmy Brunelle's ' 'Couch Potato Santa." Santa (Fonda) has gotten addicted to cable TV, and for a month he's done nothing but lie on the couch working the remote. He won't move or even shower, and he's certainly not going to deliver toys for Christmas. But Mrs. Claus (DeAnna Bay) takes extreme measures to get him back at work. Performances are at 8 p.m. Friday and 2 and 8 p.m. Saturday. Syracuse Post Standard, 2003-12-14]; [Emotions run wild in 'Sinner' - Tuesday, October 10, 2006 - Provocative, emotionally charged theater delivered intensively by a fine cast. That is what awaits theatergoers with "Never the Sinner: The Leopold & Loeb Story," which Rarely Done Productions is introducing in its Central New York premiere. It was called "The Trial of the Century" when the twentysomethings of the title were charged with the brutal slaying of Bobby Franks, who was a cousin of Loeb. It was done as a lark in which Loeb persuaded Leopold to participate in return for sexual favors. Both youths were wealthy, so money had no part in the plot. Sex was what Leopold sought; Loeb sought fame, which could elevate him in the eyes of his mother, to whose apron strings he clung. The case brought out renowned attorney Clarence Darrow to battle with Chicago prosecutor Robert Crowe. The latter favored the death penalty; Darrow did not. Although Darrow is prominent, "Sinner" belongs to Rob Fonda as Leopold and David Simmons as Loeb. Their relationship simmers, boils over and then takes a new tack as the works progresses. Both actors are equal to the task, with chemistry crackling between the pair. (...) "Sinner" plays Fridays and Saturday through Oct. 21 at Jazz Central.] >> www.fonda.org <<

Ken Didion - Lightning Strikes-Suffolk County - ECOs Vernon Fonda and Jason Curinga were checking fishermen at a popular spot in Shoreham as a thunderstorm approached. The officers had separated in order to complete their checks before the storm arrived. ECO Fonda was talking with a fisherman when a person ran toward him screaming for help. ECO Fonda ran to where he saw a woman lying on the ground. The woman's family members said she had been standing in the water when lightning struck nearby. A quick check revealed that the woman was not breathing and did not have a pulse. Officer Fonda immediately began CPR and the woman began to breathe on her own. When ECO Curinga arrived to assist, the woman lost her pulse and ceased breathing again. ECO Fonda resumed CPR, assisted by an EMT who had just arrived. The two rescuers revived the woman, and she was transported by helicopter to Stony Brook Hospital. http://www.dec.ny.gov/pubs/39320.html] >> www.fonda.org <<

[Tuesday, September 26, 2006 - PoughkeepsieJournal.com - Reverend, friends ready to adopt a block again - The Rev. Marlow Dunham is once again employing what he calls his "Ready, Fire, Aim!" strategy. About six months ago, Marlow and some of his parishioners from the River Church in the City of Poughkeepsie showed up, more or less unannounced, in a neighborhood on the city's north side, threw an all-day party and announced they were there to help the residents in whatever way they could. The event was Poughkeepsie's first installment of a nationwide program called Adopt-a-Block. [...] "To see the defenses come down on both sides as we get to know each other, that's really been rewarding," said city resident Liz Fonda, a River Church member who attended the first block party. [...] Fonda, who was one of the chief cooks at the first party, said she planned to be wielding her spatula again next month. "Last time, we cooked about 400 hamburgers and hot dogs," she said. "This time we're planning for about 1,500." Her husband, Steve, who has used his skills as a carpenter to do some repairs in the neighborhood, said Adopt-a-Block had been one of the more gratifying projects he'd ever participated in. "I've fixed a few porches and gates for people who didn't have the resources to do it themselves," he said. "I didn't have much when I was younger. I know how it feels. Now that I'm doing better, I'm glad to help people who are still struggling."

Administration mortgages to customers with all kinds of credit histories. Fonda said personal interaction is crucial to customer satisfaction. "As we see the Internet business explode, so many customers deal with out-of-state agents, and when it gets to the closing, they aren't getting what they asked for. The accountability is lost," Fonda said. The branch has six full-time employees, all local residents. It opened officially Aug. 14, Fonda said. Alliance Mortgage Banking Corporation, founded 28 years ago, is a national company with offices in 32 states. Its headquarters are in Levittown, Nassau County. Regan said the company tries to maintain a local feel. "It's a family business, and we treat people like family," she said. The Fishkill office is open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m., but appointments can be made outside of regular hours. On Nov. 14, the Poughkeepsie Area Chamber of Commerce will hold a ribbon-cutting ceremony with food and refreshments from 4-6 p.m.]

KDP officials arrested Robert Alleva, Michael Fonda, Alexandre de Ponte and Russian YPG fighter Semyonov as they were returning to their home countries. Michael Fonda stated that he is from Centreville, Virginia, and his name in Rojava was Demhat irvan. Fonda fought in the US army in Iraq and wanted to join YPG in order to fight against ISIS and liberate Kurdish and Arab towns from ISIS occupation. After being released as a result of the diplomatic efforts of the American Embassy in Hewler (Erbil), Fonda reported that KDP officials held them in the same prison cell with ISIS gangs for 23 days despite the fact that they had told the officials about their membership in YPG. Fonda ended his statements by criticizing the Turkish government’s collaboration with ISIS, and called upon KDP officials to treat better those who were fighting against ISIS. Robert Alleva is another YPG fighter from the US, and stayed in Rojava for three months to fight against ISIS. Alleva noted that YPG was composed of Kurds, Arabs, and Christians, and thanked the people of Rojava for their hospitality and struggle for humanity in the face of ISIS barbarism. http://en.hawarnews.com/kdp-puts-ypg-fighters-in-same-prison-cell-with-isis-gangs/] >> www.fonda.org <<

Daniels, WV; [New Brew Pub to open in Cool Ridge - Southern West Virginia’s newest craft beer brewery is just months away from opening its doors. Weathered Ground Brewery in Cool Ridge is under roof, and owners Sam and Aryn Fonda plan to open in April. They are calling it a Family Friendly Brew Pub. In addition to their tap room, they will have an event space suitable for everything from birthdays to wedding receptions. They plan to have 8 beers on tap and are perfectly placed for catering to commuters. There’s a lot of traffic that go up and down this road, Flat Top Road, people commuting to work from Princeton and Beckley and everything,” said Sam Fonda. “They usually ride home, go to their fridge and pull out a beer when they get home. So we’re hoping to get those people to stop here and get a beer and take some home with them and support local.” When they open their doors they plan to be open in the evening on weekdays and longer on the weekends. Follow them on Facebook and Instagram for the latest updates on where you can sample their beers. http://www.wearewvproud.com/story/34193284/new-brew-pub-to-open-in-cool-ridge

1106. Stewart Herrick FONDA, III (Stewart Herrick, Stewart Herrick, Harvey Truman, Jackson Abner, Peter Cortland, William, Peter Johannes, Johannes Peter, Pieter Jansen, Jan Douw, Douw Jellis, Jellis Douw), born 5 Jul 1945, in Milwaukee, WI. He married Barbara Ann HAVERSETZER. Barbara Ann HAVERSETZER was born 5 May 1949.

[Outstanding Section Leader - Stu Fonda, Rocky Mountain Section - The Rocky Mountain Section recognizes Stu Fonda, a section leader who has achieved an outstanding level of commitment to our organization. When it comes to dedication and involvement, the RMSAWWA/RMWEA salutes Stu Fonda for his leadership and contributions to the Rocky Mountain Section of the American Water Works Association. Stu Fonda received a B.S. degree in math from the U.S. Naval Academy in 1967 and spent four years in the Navy during the Vietnam War. During this assignment, he served on a minesweeper, a river patrol boat, and an aircraft carrier. At the end of his military service, he met his wife-to-be Barbara in Seattle. Barbara is currently a professor at Metropolitan State College, where she teaches microbiology. They have two daughters - Meg, a student at Columbia University, and Amy, who is in her third year of high school. After earning an M.S. in environmental engineering from the University of Illinois in 1973, Stu moved to Denver to ski. Between runs, he accepted a position with Black and Veatch, where he completed a variety of water and wastewater projects, specializing in rate and management studies. While completing a water rate study for the City of Englewood in 1977, the Utilities Director position opened, and Stu has been in that position since. In 1985, the Littleton/Englewood Wastewater Plant became a part of the Utilities Department, vastly increasing his involvement in the water field. In 2000, Englewood's Allen Water Treatment Plant was upgraded and the addition was dedicated to Stu in recognition of his contributions to the City of Englewood. From 1978 to 1987, Stu served in all of the officer positions for the Rocky Mountain Section of AWWA. In 1988, he received the Fuller Award, a high honor for AWWA members. From 1994 to 1997, Stu served as the Section Director, and he was elected to serve as AWWA Vice President in 1996. Stu is currently serving on the Board of Directors of the American Water Works Association Research Foundation and is a member of the AWWA membership committee. Being a member of the Rocky Mountain Section of AWWA has been a rewarding experience for me. It has provided me the opportunity to support the industry we are a part of. More important than that has been the opportunity to form so many friendships with people in both AWWA and WEF. As the TV commercial says, “that has been priceless.” With sincere appreciation, we salute you, Stu Fonda! Size Me - Posted: 6/3/2004 - By: Meg Fonda - Today 4 or 5 corporations own most of the business in the US. We have less and less choice over what we are able to buy. Marketing is a huge industry. Combine the fact that just a few corporations control the markets and the money they are able to pour into marketing and its not difficult to understand what is going on. As long as profit is the bottom line whether what we are sold is good for us does not matter to the thieves ready to take our $ and many people are just like lambs to the slaughter. It takes a strong individual to avoid the trap. Marketing ploys assault most of us hundreds of times daily making simple living choices seem dull and boring. On the contrary, simple choices are the most satisfying and getting back to basics is the most healthy choice anyone can make. Corporations lose their power when the individual refuses to take the bait. Simple, ride a bike and smile like a Chesire cat as you ride by the gas station, take a bus, drink tap water instead of Coke or bottled water, cut up your credit cards and grin as you pass the banks, eat unadorned natural unprocessed foods, watch your body trim up and go to the thrift store and buy a smaller pair of jeans. Get back to basics and be healthy and happy and let all those other suckers pay and pay and pay and get fatter and fatter and fatter.

Having carved out a name for himself as a singer and songwriter in Central New York over the past 20 years, Harvey Fonda decided to take a break from the live music scene a couple of years ago to focus on writing songs. Never Be The Same (Pooka Toonz) represents the fruits of his recent labors. The disc takes an upbeat, adult look at life and love. Fonda laid down more than 20 tracks for Never at Liverpool's Bus Stop Studios. After handing out copies to family and friends for input, he honed down the collection to 12 songs that put a positive spin on contemporary music. The material on the disc oscillates between the festive style of Van Morrison and storytelling of Joni Mitchell or David Crosby, employing familiar song structures that make the most of his talents and those of his sidemen. Even back in his days leading The New Times Banned in 1994, Fonda demonstrated a penchant for singing warm melodies and maintaining an easygoing air of diplomacy. His knack for good vibes and good times attracted a who's who of the Syracuse music scene to help him out on Never.

Douglas, NE; [Hastings College Men's Tennis Defeats Gpac Rival Doane College 8-1 - Apr. 12---The Hastings College men's tennis team defeated fellow GPAC rival Doane College 8-1 Wednesday afternoon in Hastings, Nebraska. Here were the scores from the event: Doubles: 3. James Fonda/Jason Huff, HC, defeated Epp/Jenson, DC, 10-2]; [At 'Defy Gravity' events, the party gets weird - Omaha World-Herald, June 27, 2013 - Bobby Barajas and James Fonda realized early that they were good at throwing a party. (...) Crampton attributes the success of the events in part to the recent popularity of electronic dance music - something Barajas agrees with, even though it wasn't really a movement he and Fonda were trying to capitalize on. "We just kind of caught the wave," he said. "We didn't even realize we were paddling." What they did have, though, were friends and ideas. Fonda was the social butterfly of the two, the man who knew everyone. He now is in California studying to be a Navy Seal. Barajas was the one whose mind was always in event-planning mode. Fonda, who grew up in Omaha, wasn't terribly social in high school. But when he transferred to the University of Nebraska at Omaha his sophomore year of college, he decided to expand his circle. He joined a fraternity. He was a member of the tennis team. He hung out with members of groups that didn't normally mix. (...) The events draw mostly a college-age crowd, and many of Defy Gravity's early fans have graduated and moved on from Silly String, tempera paint and late-night dancing. Fonda said he expects that Defy Gravity eventually may evolve, too; he can envision it one day becoming a music festival or similar event. (..]) >> www.fonda.org <<

resident of the area. In 1967, he enlisted in the United States Army. Joe was an extremely devout veteran and truly risked his life to protect our freedom. He was a decorated combat veteran who fought on the front line and in one of Vietnam's worst attacks, The Tet Offensive. He received one of the military's highest honors, The Purple Heart. He received not only one Bronze Star but two, one of which was with the "V" for Valor. Joe also received: The Combat Infantry Badge, The Vietnam Service Medal, Overseas Service Bar, Marksman Award, Vietnam Campaign Medal, and the National Defense Service Medal. He also belonged to the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion. Joe often enjoyed spending his days helping his friends and getting help in return from his friends in the Amish Community, who were very much part of his everyday life. He enjoyed the outdoors and would often hunt or go for a ride on his motorcycle. Joe belonged to the 1st BN (M) 5th Infantry Society of Vietnam Combat Veterans, The Combat Vets Motorcycle Club, the Military Order of the Purple Heart, the NRA and the Disabled American Veterans. Joe is survived by his loving wife of 43 years, Charlene Fonda Mathewson; beloved daughters, Stacy L. Fonda and Carrie Ann Fonda; beloved grandchildren, Hannah Eleale Philomena Freese and Joseph Rocco Freese; his brother, Michael Fonda (Joyce); his sister-in-law, Cathy Visscher (Michael). Several nieces, a nephew and several cousins also survive. The family invites relatives and friends to attend a memorial graveside service Sunday, November 3, at 2 p.m. at Maple Avenue Cemetery, Route 5S, Fultonville, NY 12072. In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions can be made in Joe's memory to his grandchildren's college fund (Hannah and Joey). Donations can be mailed to Charlene at 453 Logtown Road, Fultonville, NY 12072. Joe's family has entrusted his care to Jackson & Betz Funeral Home, 15 Main St., Fultonville, NY 12072. Notes for Alika MEDEIROS and Ashley L. FONDA: m. Hawaii; [Dating Naked’ Cast Members Wed. Marriage A Publicity Stunt For VH1 Series? - Kpopstarz.com August 29, 2014 by Toby Robboy - Reality TV dating shows are infamous for their general failure to set up successful relationships, but it looks like the newest kid on the block, VH1’s Dating Naked, has already managed to beat the odds and send one couple down the aisle. Participants Ashley Fonda and Alika Medeiros tied the knot earlier this month, in what was, naturally, a naked ceremony. The Wedding was filmed to be aired on the VH1 in September, raising the question; is this all a publicity stunt to generate viewership for the network’s newest franchise? The couple met during the filming of their first date in May. For the episode, they went on a naked surfing adventure, and apparently really hit it off. Fonda says of the experience, "We deeply connected and he taught me things," adding that "we realized we both have the flower of life tattoo," and that she “told one of the producers I'm going to marry this man." The couple wed on August 6, in a ceremony officiated by a shaman. Before stripping down, the blushing bride walked the aisle in a custom Nicholas Anthony gown. Neither the bride's nor the groom's family attended the the ceremony, which will air on September 18."

While teaching I spent evenings at University of Central Florida getting a Master's Degree in School Guidance and Counseling. During that time, I met my husband (also a teacher at the time) on a blind date set up by my roommate. After 5 years, we decided to start a family. In 2000, my first bundle of "boy" arrived and I couldn't bear not being with him 24/7. As a result, my husband left teaching and I became an official stay-at-home mom. Eight years later (and another bundle of "boy" later) I was ready to get back to the second most challenging and rewarding job available...TEACHING. Elsge DOUWES was born 1590, in Netherlands.

Notes for Douw Janszoon VANARENTSVELT: b. Harlingen, Friesland, Netherlands; d. Leiden, Friesland, Netherlands; was a master glazier (glassware merchant) who settled in Leyden soon after 1600; where he met and m. Maria Janse, dau. of Jans of Wassenaer, from Roozenberg, widow of Vechtor Vechterzoon Cuyper, also a glass worker. Douw became Burgess (Mayor) of Leyden in 1615 and also head of the glassmakers guild. He had many apprentices and at his death had many houses in the Kort Rappenburg part of Leyden, east side; full name Douw Janszoon deVries VanArentsvelt which means Douw s/o Jans of Vries from Arents Field; Douw's second son was Gerard Douw (also known as Gerrit Dou), a popular Dutch genre and portrait painter of Leiden. Gerard was apprenticed to an engraver and worked from 1628 to 1631 in the studio of the young Rembrandt Harmenszoon van Rijn. Although he occasionally borrowed Rembrandt's themes, he was more detailed and meticulous in his execution. His scenes of domestic, middle-class life were tremendously popular and often imitated. Among his most famous works are Evening Light (Rijks Museum), Young Man (The Hague), The Cook (Louvre), and a self-portrait (Metropolitan Museum). He was born at Leiden on 7 April 1613, the son of a glass-engraver. He was apprenticed to an engraver and then to a glass-engraver before entering the glaziers' guild in 1625. On 24 February 1628 he entered Rembrandt's studio, ... remaining there probably until his master's removal to Amsterdam in 1631/2. He then became an independent master. In 1648 he was a founder member of the Leiden guild. He painted genre and history subjects, portraits and still lifes in a meticulous style which was lavishly rewarded by noble patrons who included Christina of Sweden, Archduke Leopold Wilhelm of Austria and Charles II of England (whose invitation to London Dou is said to have refused). He was the founder of the school known as the Fijnschilders ('fine painters') whose influence lasted into the nineteenth century. His whole life was spent in Leiden, where he owned four houses, and where he was buried in February 1675. Gerrit Dou never married and had the reputation of being obsessively neat and detail-oriented. He died in Leiden in 1675 and was buried in the St. Pieters Kerk on 9 February of the same year.; [R074a] The Mayflower Descendant >> www.fonda.org <<

1129. Everardus² BOGARDUS (_ALLIED FAMILIES_), born 27 Jul 1607, in Veenendahl, Utrecht, Netherlands, died 27 Sep 1647, in Bristol Channel (shipwreck), buried in Body lost at sea. He married Anneke JANS 29 Jan 1635, in New Amsterdam, New Netherland. Anneke JANS was born 15 Jan 1605, in Norway, died 27 Feb 1663, in Beverwyck (now Albany), NY, buried in Albany Rural Cemetery, Menands, Albany Co., NY.

Notes for Everardus BOGARDUS: Everardus Bogardus (1607-1647) arrived in New Amsterdam on the ship "de Soutberg" in 1633. He was the second Domine (Minister) of the Dutch Reformed Church of New Amsterdam (now New York City). He was born in Veenendahl, Utrecht, Holland as Evert Bogaert, the son of Willem Janszen Bogaert and his second wife Susanna Adriaensdr van Reyteveild. He studied at the University of Leyden, matriculating in 1627, to pursue a course in literature. After serving as a voorleser (clerk) in Guinea, West Africa, he was ordained a Domine in the Dutch Reformed Church by the Classis of Amsterdam in 1632. The next year he was sent to New Amsterdam to preside over the church there. In 1638 he married Anneke Jans. He went back to Holland on a trip to visit the Classis of Amsterdam aboard the ship "De Princesse" (The Princess) which sailed from New Amsterdam in August 1647. However, he did not reach his fatherland, as the ship was wrecked in Bristol Channel (off Wales) and Everardus was drowned in September 1647. >> www.fonda.org <<

Notes for Anneke JANS: b. NOR; ANNEKE JANS (1605-1663) emigrated to New Amsterdam with her 1st husband, Roelof Janszen, on the ship "de Eendtacht" (The Unity) in 1630. Anneke was allegedly the granddaughter of William the Silent - (William I, Prince of Orange, 1533-1584 the father of the Dutch Republic). Both Anneke and Roelof were Norwegians by birth, but may have been of Dutch ancestry. They remained in New Amsterdam for a short time and then moved to Rensselaerwyck, on the Hudson, where Jan served as a farm superintendent for the wealthy Killian Van Rensselaer, a Director of the West Indies Company. In 1634, they moved back to New Amsterdam where Jan received a grant of 62 acres of land on the North (or Hudson) River, which is now Manhattan Island. After Jan's death in 1637, Anneke married the Domine Everardus Bogardus (the Latinized form of Bogaert) in 1638. Bogardus died in 1647 and in 1657, Anneke moved to Beverwyck (Albany), N.Y. She died in 1663 and is buried in the Middle Dutch Church Yard on Beaver Street, Albany, N.Y. Harper's Magazine in May 1885 had a very full and interesting account of Anneke Jans' farm on the Hudson (known as "Domine's Bouwery"), which became the property of Trinity Church causing a huge land dispute, finally dismissed in the 1920's. >> www.fonda.org <<

Notes for Evert Jansen WENDELL: b. Emden, Hanover, GER; d. Albany, Albany Co., NY; Evert Jansen Wendell was born in 1615 at Emden, a town of about 12,000 inhabitants, located at the mouth of the river "Ems", in the northwestern part of East Friesland (Hanover) Germany. His widowed mother was buried at Upleward, 10 miles from Emden where she died 23 Feb 1657. He came to America about 1640 and settled in the Dutch colony at New Amsterdam (later New York City). He emigrated to New Netherland under the Dutch West Indies Company. On Feb 8, 1647 he purchased a lot in an area called the "Graft" (now Beaver Street, New York, NY). In 1651 he moved his family to Fort Orange (Albany) where he died in 1709. His farm was on the south side of the city of Albany. Later he moved to a home on the west corner of James and State Streets where he remained until his death in 1709. He was a leading merchant in Fort Orange, a tailor by trade. He was a Deacon in the Dutch Church, an Orphan Master in 1657 and Magistrate from 1660-1661. >> www.fonda.org <<

Notes for Isaac Jesse DEFREEST: b. Leiden, HOL; s/o Jesse DeFreest and Marie DuCloux; d. New York City; In 1621, the Walloons and Huguenots of Leyden, Holland planned to follow the Puritans to America (then called the West Indies). Jesse de Forest was acclaimed the leader and spokesman for the band when the exiles approached the British Ambassador at The Hague regarding their settling in Virginia. The English turned down his petition to establish a colony in Virginia. It was Jesse's desire to establish a Colony in the New World, so that the Walloons could practice their Reformed Religion without persecution. He then sought permission from the Dutch to establish a colony in what is now New York City. He was granted permission and soon assembled approximately 60 families of French-speaking Walloons and Dutch for the settlement in New Amsterdam, New Netherland. The first permanent settlers arrived in New Amsterdam in May 1624. Isaac de Forest, Jesse's son, arrived from Leyden, Holland, March 5, 1637. Isaac made the voyage aboard the ship, Rensselaerwyck. This ship was jointly owned by Isaac's uncle, Gerard de Forest, and Killian VanRensselaer. The original name, de Forest, underwent several transformations due to the Dutch and English influence. The name became DeForeest because of the Dutch. Spelling at that time was not as important as to how the name was pronounced. If it sounded a certain way, it had to be spelled a certain way. To the Dutch, this was the correct way. Philip DeForeest, Isaac's son was born July 28, 1652 in New Amsterdam. Philip eventually settled in Beverwyck, NY. Today, Beverwyck is known as Albany, Albany Co., NY. It is here that the name was once again transformed. DeFreest became the common spelling of the de Forest name in the Albany area of New York State. It was in Greenbush, NY, across the Hudson River from Albany, that most of the DeFreest family had lived. It is in their honor that the Hamlet of DeFreestville received its name. >> www.fonda.org <<

Notes for Pieter Casparszen VAN NAERDEN: b. Naarden, Noord-Holland, Netherlands; d. New Amsterdam (New York), New Netherland; bur. Dutch Reformed Church, New York City, New York; All we really know about the parentage of Pieter Casparszen van Naerden is that his father was named Caspar, and that he was born in a place that was either called or sounded like Naerden. There are no records of Pieter Casparszen ever using any surname. In fact, the first use of the Mabie surname in any form by proven members of his family occurred in New York in 1687. A search of the records for the Dutch Reformed Church in Naarden, Noord Holland, has proved fruitless. It has long been speculated that Pieter was of French extraction (a Huguenot), with the name Mabie having been derived from the French name Mabille. The Mabie surname appears to have surfaced in Scotland shortly after the Norman invasion. So, perhaps the name is originally from France after all. However, there may have been a few detours en route to New Amsterdam The name of Pieter Casparszen van Naerden appears in a few records that have survived the years. He is listed in a 1660 census of New Amsterdam. In 1657, he was listed as a “Small Burgher”, a status which conveyed certain rights to the individual. In 1653, he was named as one “of the most influential citizens and inhabitants of this city” in the council minutes. Also, in 1653, he was a corporal in the Burgher Corps of New Amsterdam. From the baptismal records of the New Amsterdam Reformed Dutch Church, we know that Pieter was in New Amsterdam by February 1647, and that he was still alive in December...

German Palatines - The German Palatines were natives of the Electoral Palatinate region of Germany, although a few had come to Germany from Switzerland, the Alsace, and probably other parts of Europe. Towards the end of the 17th century and into the 18th, the wealthy region was repeatedly invaded by French troops, which resulted in continuous military requisitions, widespread devastation and famine. The “Poor Palatines” were some 13,000 Germans who came to England between May and November 1709. Their arrival in England, and the inability of the British Government to integrate them, caused a highly politicized debate over the merits of immigration. The English tried to settle them in England, Ireland, and the Colonies. The English transported nearly 3,000 in ten ships to New York in 1710. Many of them first were assigned to work camps along the Hudson River to work off their passage. Close to 850 families settled in the Hudson River Valley, primarily in what are now Germantown and Saugerties, New York. In 1723 100 heads of families from the work camps were the first Europeans to acquire land west of Little Falls, New York, in present-day Herkimer County on both the north and south sides along the Mohawk River. Later additional Palatine Germans settled along the Mohawk River for several miles, founding towns such as Palatine Bridge, and in the Schoharie Valley. Origins - Throughout the Nine Years War (1688-1697) and the War of Spanish Succession (1701-1714), recurrent invasions by the French Army devastated the area of what is today Southwest Germany. The depredations of the French Army and the destruction of numerous cities (especially within the Palatinate) created economic hardship for the inhabitants of the region, exacerbated by a rash of harsh winters and a poor harvests that created famine in Germany and much of northwest Europe. What triggered the mass emigration in 1709 of impoverished people to England was the Crown's promise of free land in the American Colonies. Parliament discovered in 1711 that several “agents” working on behalf of the Colony of Carolina had promised the peasants around Frankfurt free passage to the plantations. Spurred by the success of several dozen families the year before, thousands of German families headed down the Rhine to England and the New World.

1710 Palatine Immigration - Background of 1709/1710 Group - The first large group of Germans to North America after the initial Germantown colony was the large exodus of Germans in 1709-1710 to New York. These emigrants began arriving in England in May 1709. Conditions in London and Rotterdam were not good because of the large numbers of emigrants that had to be provided for. Some returned to their homes (including all the Catholics), went on to other parts of England or Ireland (821 families), North Carolina (840 families, 650 going to the New Bern settlement), and West Indies. Of the 13,000 Germans who reached London in 1709, about a quarter of these continued on to New York. Most of the Palatines for New York began boarding ships in Dec 1709, but did not leave England until April 1710. About 3,100 emigrants sailed on 11 ships to New York and were accompanied by the Governor-Elect Hunter. About 470 Germans perished on the voyage and another 250 after landing. An estimated 2,500 disease-laden emigrants had to be provided for in New York. Notable passengers included: Georg Dachstatter, age thirty, his wife and child Georg Adam Dachstatter, are listed on the sixth list of arrivals, a 4 July 1710, subsistence list along with any who appear to have been part of their households. Johann Christ Gerlach, a passenger also listed, was the listmaster on the ship James & Elizabeth which arrived 16 June 1710, captained by Captain Henry Gravener. His name on this list, indicates that the people on this list were probably passengers on that ship. Out beside Georg's name, Project notes read: name originally spelled Tachstetter; arived on Howlentzen's ship in Holland. 4th group of arrivals in London.

The price of this house and lot was 2,325 guilders. In 1660 he returned to Holland; 1661 as agent for Dirk De Wolfe, merchant of Amsterdam, he erected a salt kettle on Coney Island, which being claimed by the inhabitants of Gravesend, he brought a suit before the governor and council to make good his claim to it, and being beaten, abandoned the enterprise; 1663 leased his bouwery at Schenectady to Symon Groot for 6ys., at 500 guilders rent; 1664 Harmen Vedder, William Teller and Sander Leendertse Glen petitioned Gov. Stuyvesant to have their lands surveyed at Schenectady; 1668 being in Holland with other merchants from the province of New York, he purchased goods and chartered the ship King Charles and petitioned the king of England for permission to send the same to New York, which was granted; 1667 he lived in Albany in a house belonging to Dirk De Wolfe of Amsterdam, who, having returned to Holland, Gov. Nicolls ordered the house and lot to be confiscated; his village lot on the north side of Union Street, was the same as occupied by the late Doct. Alexander G. Fonda, 51ft. front and 404ft. deep Amsterdam measure, extending to Front Street; he purchased it of the heirs of Reinier, son of Domine Schaets of Albany, after his massacre by the French and Indians in 1690. His son Johannes occupied it after his death, which probably took place about the year 1715, for on the 3d of May that year, Arient Vedder, his brethren and sister petitioned the common council of Albany for the renewal of a release (“burnt at Schenectady when it was cut off”) of a lot owned by their late father Harmen Vedder deceased, lying on the south side of the city of Albany. 1152. Volckert Jansen DOUW (Douw Janszoon, _ALLIED FAMILIES_), born 1610, in Leeuwarden, Friesland, Netherlands, died 1681, in Beverwyck (now Albany), NY, buried in Albany Rural Cemetery, Menands, Albany Co., NY. He married Dorothe Janse VANBREESTEDE 19 Apr 1650, in New Amsterdam, New Netherlands. Dorothe Janse VANBREESTEDE was born 1630, in Breestede, Denmark (now Germany), died 22 Nov 1701, in Albany, NY, buried in Albany Rural Cemetery, Menands, Albany Co., NY.

[Captain Volckert Janzen Douw was the son of Jan Douw. He married Dorotee Janse Van Breesteed, daughter of Jan Janszen and Englete Jans, 19 April 1650 at New Amsterdam, New York. He died in 1681 at Beverwyck, Albany Co., New York. Captain Volckert Janszen Douw was supossedly persecuted for his Mennonite beliefs and driven to Friedrichstadt, Denmark, a city that allowed religious liberty. About 1637, Calvinists again waged war against this hunted sect, and as the Holland colony of New Netherlands was already flourishing enough to attract emigration, many fled for religious freedom, including Volckert, his brother, two sister, cousins, and other relatives. He held the rank of Captain in the Dutch army. He settled for a few months at Catskill, going to Beverwyck late in 1638. He dealt largely in real estate and owned several of the islands in the Hudson river below Albany. He bore arms and these are [or were] on a window in the old Dutch church (at Albany?). In 1640, he received a conveyance of lands from the Indians, which was confirmed to his widow in 1693. He owned a large brewery that he sold to his nephew Harman Rutgers. He was called "Honorable Volckert Douw, Burgher of the village and master (Heerschaps) of the Bowery lying in the colony of Rensselaerwyck." He was deacon in the church and guardian of the widows and poor in 1654, and was magistrate from 1654 to 1660. He owned much land at Esopus, New York, and was one of the original patentees. For a time, he was commissary and was continuously the Indian commissioner. At different times he was attorney and guardian for large estates. In 1663 he and Jan Thomas Witbeck, his real estate partner, bought from the Mahikanders, Schotack or Apjen's Island and the mainland lying east of it. He also owned Constaapel's Island, lying opposite Bethlehem, half of which, in 1677, he sold to Pieter Winne. He owned Papsknae Island where he had a summer home. However, in 1666, an extraordinary flood wiped the place out, and the family barely escaped. That same year he purchased "Douw's Point Wolvengheack," just below the village of Greenbush. In 1672, he owned Schutter's Island below Becren Island, which he sold to Barent Pieterse Coeymans. He made his will in 1680 and died by 1686.] >> www.fonda.org

She married (2) Barent GERRITSEN 1660. Barent GERRITSEN was born 1620, in Netherlands, died 7 Jun 1663, in Wiltwijk, Ulster Co., NY. She married (3) Teunis Dirckse "Poentie" VANVECHTEN 21 Mar 1670. He was the son of ALLIED FAMILIES. Teunis Dirckse "Poentie" VANVECHTEN was born 1610, in Vechten, Utrecht Province, Netherlands, died Jan 1685, in Albany, Albany Co., NY.

[Aafter Jellis' death, Hester m2. Barent Gerritsen in 1660 who died in 1663 (killed by Indians); then she m3. Theunis Dirckse VanVechten in 1670; Hester's maiden name was VanArentsvelt; the Dutch family tree lists her as Hester Douwedr, using her father's first name in Dutch tradition; another source lists her father as "Douwe Janzoon deVries VanArentsvelt". Another lists Jans as Hester's maiden name, which is from her mother, Maria Jans; Barent Gerritse married Hester Fonda, widow of Jllis, sometime between 1656 and 1661 and was killed in the second Esopus War in 1663. Hester and daughter Sara were taken prisoner by the Indians. The widow eventually returned to Albany, her name appearing in occasional Albany records, as late as 1681. She had apparently made a third marriage to Theunis Dirckz Van Vechten, sometime before 1672]

Yet examination of the baptismal sponsors of the children of Grietje and her husband Adam Vrooman show a connection between Grietje and the children of Takel. [Van Santvoord, Cornelius, clergyman, born in Holland in 1637 {1687}; died in Schenectady, New York, 6 January, 1752. He studied in the University of Leyden, came to this country about 1718, and became pastor of the Reformed Dutch church of Staten island, organized in 1690. He was here from 1718 till 1742, preaching both in French and in Dutch, many of his hearers being French Protestant refugees, settled on the island. In the latter year he removed to Schenectady, and became pastor of the Reformed Dutch church there, in which place he remained until his death. His intimate friend, Theodorus J. Frelinghuysen, who came to this , country from Holland two years after him, settling at Raritan, New Jersey, and arousing much opposition by his bold and earnest evangelism, found strong support in Mr. Van Santvoord, who published in his detente a small volume entitled "A Dialogue between Considerans and Candidus." He was a friend and had been a favorite pupil of the eminent Professor John Marck, of Leyden university, two of whose works he translated--one a "Commentary on the Apocalypse," with added notes and reflections, the preface being written by Professor Wesselius of the same university (Leyden, 1736); the other " A Dissertation on the Slaughter of the Innocents at Bethlehem," designed to establish the literal interpretation of prophecy.--His great-grandson, Staats, clergyman, born in Schenectady, New York, 15 March, 1790; died in New Baltimore, New York, 29 May, 1882, was graduated at Union in 1811 and at New Brunswick theological seminary in 1814, ordained to the ministry of the Dutch Reformed church, and was pastor of the church of Belleville, New Jersey, in 1814-'28, of the church in Schodack, New York, in 1829-'34, and thence removed to New Baltimore, where he resided until his death. He retired after completing his fiftieth year in the active ministry of the Reformed Dutch church. In 1864 he was in the service of the Christian commission at Nashville, Tennessee His last public appearance was in his ninety-first year, when he attended the 200th anniversary of the Dutch Reformed church at Schenectady, of which his ancestor was pastor, delivering the benediction in Dutch. Union gave him the degree of D.D. in 1876. He published several sermons, and "A Spiritual Gift," a series of fifteen discourses (New York, 1851).--Staats's son, , Cornelius, clergyman, born in Belleville, New Jersey, 8 April, 1816, was graduated at Union in 1835, and :studied at New Brunswick and Princeton theological seminaries. He became pastor of the Dutch Reformed church in Canastota, New York, in 1838, subsequently filled charges in New York state, was chaplain in the United States army in 1861-'5, associate , editor of the "Interior," Chicago, Illinois, in 1869-'71, and commissioner of schools in Ulster county. New York, in 1871-'6. Rutgers gave him the degree of I. D. in 1855. He was a special correspondent of the "New York Times" during the civil war, has published numerous magazine and newspaper articles, "Discourses and Miscellanies" (New York, 1856), and "Memoirs of Eliphalet Nott," with contributions by Professor Tayler Lewis (1876).--Another son of Staats, George, lawyer, born in Belleville, New Jersey, S December, 1819; died in East Albany, New York, 6 March, 1863, was graduated at Union in 1841, studied law in Kinderhook, and removed to Indiana, but returned to the former town and practised there in 1846-'52. In 1852 and 1856 he was a member of the state assembly, and in 1860-'3 district attorney of Rensselaer county. He was killed in a railroad accident. He wrote for the "Democratic Review" lives of French revolutionists, and is the author of "The Indiana Justice" (Lafayette, 1845); "Life of Algernon Sidney" (New York, 1851); "Principles of Pleading in Civil Actions under the New York Code" (1852-'4; enlarged edition, with additions, 1855; with appendix, notes, and references, 1858); "Lives of the Chief Justices of the United States" (1854); "Precedents of Pleading" (1858); and "Practice in the Supreme Court of New York in Equity Actions" (Albany, New York, 1860-'1). http://famousamericans.net/corneliusvansantvoord
