Preface

Greetings to fellow Fonda Family members who are exploring their lineage... and to others who are doing genealogy research, or are just browsing for information. The Fonda Family in America has a rich heritage and there are many fascinating stories of perseverance, integrity and achievement... a truly great American legacy which is still unfolding. I hope you find this report useful and that the database continues to grow as more people contribute.

This project is limited to just the Fonda surname (and its spelling variants), which includes those born with the Fonda surname and their spouses; wive's parents and daughter's children are not included.

There are currently about 3600 Fondas in the Main Family Line (5100 including spouses) over a 400-year time span. There are another 1600 Fondas identified, but not yet placed (Strays, for the lack of a better term).

There are separate sections broken out for Allied Early Families (about 450 ancestors of pre-1800 marriages) and Other European Immigrants (over 1200 Fonda immigrants not in the main family line).

There are also about 120 African-American Fonda's in the Strays section, with some links back to their likely slave owners prior to the Civil War. There is good evidence of at least four family lines of former slaves who retained the Fonda family name.

As of 2005, there are approximately 900 households world-wide with Fonda surnames listed... about 500 in America, 200 in Italy, followed distantly by France, Slovenia and Canada. The entire American line is descendant from Jellis Douw Fonda (1615-1659) who migrated from Holland to American in 1651. Currently the lineage can only be traced back to 1632 in Holland. Legend has it that the family originated in Italy but the link has not yet been found.

Recent additions include the 1950 Federal Census records, all United States military records, many new immigration and ship passenger records, all available court, land & probate records, all available Canadian phone & address listings, many historical newspapers, city directories, the British and Irish Census, all available info from classmates.com and correspondence with dozens of distant cousins.

Future work will concentrate on more research into Italian/Slovenian roots and current Rest-of-World branches. I am seeking gravestone photos and pre-1950 family photos.

I have enjoyed putting this project together, and I was gratified to find so much information... thanks to some excellent previous work, collaboration with other researchers, some great library resources and the ever-expanding Internet mass of information.

Please feel free to send me an e-mail with comments or questions... this is a living document and is never totally complete. I am currently working on more recent generations based on public records and feedback from our many Fonda cousins who have found the website or database.

The Rootsweb on-line database does not display people born after 1950, but the GNO, GED and PDF files linked above all have everything included. Although this is all public information, please respect other people's privacy.

The latest update of the database files are posted at www.fonda.org and www.ancestry.com (subscription required).

A. Main Family Line

1. Jellis Douw[1] FONDA, born 1615, in Eagum, Friesland, Netherlands, died 1659, in Beverwyck (now Albany), NY. He married Hester Douw JANS 10 Feb 1641, in Diemen, Noord-Holland, Netherlands. She was the daughter of Douw Janszoon VANARENTSVELT and Maria JANS. Hester Douw JANS was born 1616, in Leiden, South-Holland, Netherlands, died 1690, in Albany Co., NY.

[R038a] The Dutch Settlers Society of Albany Yearbook: "The Fonda Family 1. Jellis Douwes Fonda first appears in the Rensselaerwyck records on October 19, 1651 when he requested permission to distill liquor in the Green Bos, in the house belonging to Evert Pels, next to the brewery. The date of his arrival in the colony or on what vessel he arrived is not in the records. According to the publication of the banns for his marriage to Hester Douwess on Jan. 19, 1641, he was from Agum or Eagum, a small village in the present municipality of Idaarderadeel in the Province of Friesland, the Netherlands. He was at that time 25 years old and his parents were deceased. Hester was from Amsterdam and 24 years old. Her stepmother Elsgen Douwes assisted her at the banns. They were married at Diemen, on February 10, 1641. Diemen is a place close to Amsterdam."

[R048a] Old Dutch Families: Fonda Family (De Halve Maen Quarterly): "The Fondas were important in up-state New York during the Colonial period and in the early development of the State. Presumably the family is of Frisian origin and one genealogist has outlined European background for the Fondas giving them a really illustrious descent. However, these stories apparently come from tradition rather than substance. The emigrant ancestor of this family was Jillis (Jellis, Gillis) Douwese Fonda whose name first appears in Albany records in 1651 and last in 1654. His only son, Douw Jellise, became the ancestor of all Fondas in this country."

[R100b A History of the Schenectady patent in the Dutch and English times - The first settler of this name, Jillis Douwese Fonda, was in Beverwyck as early as 1654, with his wife Hester. In 1666 she was the widow of Barent Gerritse. Douwe Jillise, son of Jillis Douwese Fonda, married Rebecca --. He owned land at Lubberde's landt [Troy], in 1676; and died Nov. 24 (27), 1700. Besides other children he had a son Jillis, who married Rachel, daughter of Pieter Winne of Albany, Dec. 11, 1695, and about 1700, removed to Schenectady. He was by trade a gunstocker. At the date of his will made Sept. 8, 1737, his wife and eight of his eleven children were living. Of his sons, Douw removed to Caughnawaga where he was slain by Sir John Johnson's Indians in 1780; Pieter was a shoemaker and tanner and lived upon the south corner of State street and Mill lane (now the site of the Young Men's Christian Association building), and had his tan vats in the rear; Abraham was a carpenter and in 1752, built and occupied the house No. 27 Front, now owned by his great-grandson Mr. Nicholas Yates. Jillis Fonda's farm was next west of the "poor pasture" and his house at the easterly end of Front street was within the memory of many persons marked by two huge elms, which throw their arms across the whole breadth of the street. This lot commenced at the centre line of Mohawk street and extended easterly along the street 480 feet to the Arme wey and north to the Mohawk river, comprising latterly 6.43 acres; the land opposite this lot on the south side of the street extending easterly as far as the canal culvert and southerly across the canal and Fonda street, likewise belonged to this farm. He also owned a farm of kreupelbos land on the north side of the river about a mile north of Freeman's bridge, now in possession of Mr. Charles Ellis. Besides this he owned the island called "Fonda's island," next west of Van Slyck's island, containing seven morgens, which he bought about 1736 of Philip Livingston, and devised in his will of date Sept. 8, 1737, to his three sons,-to Pieter two morgens,-to Abraham four morgens,-and to Jacob one morgen. This island originally belonged to Symon Symonse Groot, and was patented to him in 1694. For a hofstede to this island farm he had two morgens of land on the mainland near Claas Gravens' hoek, which in his will was devised to his son Douwe. In addition to this, Reyer Schermerhorn [trustee] conveyed to him 10th April 1702, Kruisbessen (gooseberry) island, containing one morgen, more or less, by virtue of the Dougan Patent of 1684, which island he sold to Hendrick Vrooman and Arent Danielse Van Antwerpen, 22d Sept., 1706,-two morgens, more or less. Jillis Fonda also owned a village lot on the north side of State street, extending from the canal to the centre of Wall street, at present owned by Messrs. Robert Ellis and Vandebogart brothers. On the 6th April, 1709, he sold this lot to Arent Danielse Van Antwerpen for L48 [$120]; it was "then bounded on the east by the house and lot of said Arent Danielse [now Given's hotel lot], west, by the lot of Willem Appel [what was not taken by the canal now belonging to the estate of the late Peter Rowe], north, by the lot of Gysbert Gerritse [Van Brake1] and south, by the [State] street; -length on the east side, 393 feet, -and on the west side, 348 feet, -breadth on the south, 80 feet, behind on the north, 83 feet, wood measure."]

[Minutes of the Court of Rensselaerswyck, 1648-1652 - Court Proceedings, October 19, 1651 - [91] Gillis Fonda earnestly requests permission to support himself by distilling liquor in the Greenen Bos, in the house belonging to Evert Pels, next to the brewery. His request is granted on condition that he enters into a contract in regard to the duties to be paid to the honorable masters.]

[R038a] The Dutch Settlers Society of Albany Yearbook: "2. Douwe Jellis Fonda, bp. 24 Nov. 1641 in Amsterdam probably came with his parents to Rensselaerwyck about 1651. He first appears in records on October 1, 1661, when his stepfather, Barent Gerritse, acknowledged a debt to him. He was not quite 20 at the time and was living with Jan Tysse Goes. In 1664 he assisted his mother at the sale of some distiller's kettles to Jan Costersen Van Aken. On October 24, 1672, he purchased "a house, barn, hay rick, orchard and 3 morgans of land" from Margarita Schuyler, widow of Philip Schuyler. In March 1675 he was sued by Geertruydt Barendtse and ordered to fense his land at Lubberden Landt. Therefore, his land was on the East side of the Hudson river in what is now Rensselaer County."

[R048a] Old Dutch Families: Fonda Family (De Halve Maen Quarterly): "Douw Jillesz Fonda was born about 1643 and died in 1700. His father apparently died when he was a boy and a record shows that Douw was dwelling with Jan Tyse (Jan Tyse Goes of Kinderhook) in the Colony of Rensselaerwyck in 1661 and that his step-father, Barent Gerritse, owed him 33 beavers. There are few records to illustrate the activities of Douw Fonda but in 1676 his land at "Lubberden Landt" within the area of the present city of Troy) is mentioned and in 1684 he was nominated for magistrate at Albany. Douw Fonda (1643) had four sons leaving male progeny, Jan, Jillis, Isaac and Nicholas, but the male line in Nicholas' family died out early so the descendants of Jan, Jillis and Isaac are those who carried the name down to late generations. The Fonda family was one of decided influence in the upper Hudson River districts and the Mohawk Valley. Fondas ocupied important positions in the governmental affairs of the up-State settlements in Albany, Schenectady, and the Mohawk Valley. They were early settlers in what is now the Troy district, as well as Hoosic, Albany and Schenectady. One branch of the family maintained a substantial shipping business between Columbia County and New York. In Dutchess County there were persons of importance from this branch of the family."

[Note from [NYG&B] records of Innes Getty: "In printed genealogies, other than [Williams], Douw Jellis Fonda's wife is given as Rebecca Conyn of Leendert Philipse Conyn, but in no instance is any reference cited, nor any circumstantial evidence adduced to justify the assumption. In the list of nine children of Douw Jellis Fonda, of whom we have records, not one bears a Conyn name; Philip; Leendert; Caspar; Agniet; nor is a member of the Conyn family sponsor at any of the three baptisms recorded in the Church at Albany. Furthermore, in the list of sixty three grandchildren of Douw Jellis Fonda, not one bears a Conyn name, and in no instance is a member of the Conyn family a sponsor. Rebecca is not a Conyn name. There is nothing of record to prove the parentage of Rebecca, wife of Douw Jellise Fonda, and the records of the Conyn family prove beyond a reasonable doubt, that she was not the daughter of Phillipse Conyn and Agneietie Caspers. The sole clue, ever so slight, is found in the Schenectady Church records. i.e.- Douw of Jellis Fonda and Rachel Winne bapt. September 1, 1700. Wit. Douw Fonda. Rebecka Janse (Rebecka, dau of Jan ---?)"; [The confusion could be the result of a baptism record where Douw Fonda and Rebecca Conyne were listed together as sponsors for the baptism of Benjamin Romeyn on 8/4/1774 at the Caughnawaga DRC (parents Thomas Romeyn & Susanna Van Campen). However, these two witnesses were not husband and wife, just co-sponsors. Rebecca Conyne (nee Wemple) was the wife of Peter Conyne married on 10/23/1741. Thomas Romeyn was the first pastor of the Caughnawaga DRC, where Douw Jellis Fonda (1700-1780) and his second wife, Debora (Peggy) Wemple Veeder (Fonda) as well as Peter and

Rebecca (Wemple) Conyne attended. The Douw Jellis Fonda (1641-1700) who has been attributed to have married Rebecca Conyne was the grandfather. However, his wife's name was Rebecca Janse as established in the Innes Getty Collection (see above).]

[A painting of COL Johannes Knickerbocker Jr. and his wife, Rebecca Fonda, appeared in from Harper's Magazine, Vol. 54 (Dec. 1876), p.42; reproduced from a painting in the east room of the old Knickerbocker Mansion at Schaghticoke; [Johannes Sr. built the Knickerbocker Mansion (25 miles northeast of Albany) after 1709 with boards from his own sawmill; Johannes Jr. is in the SAR Patriot Index Edition III; he is the younger brother of Wouter Johannes Knickerbocker b. 1712, who married Elizabeth Fonda (Rebecca's cousin) in 1735; Johannes was a COL, commanding the 14th Albany Co. Regiment of NY Militia, Gen. Ten Broeck's Brigade; he was wounded at Saratoga, 16-Oct-1777 and he died in 1802; This is J. F. Knickerbacker's account of his great grandfather: "He was engaged in several of the Indian wars of the Colony and was attached to the staff of Lord Howe in the expedition against Ticonderoga in 1758. He was Commissioned COL October 20, 1775, and fought under General Arnold at the Battle of Saratoga where he was wounded in the right arm. He was a member of the State Legislature in 1792 and died August 16th, 1802."The present register of the Dutch Church at Schaghticoke begins with the date of marriage of Col. Knickerbacker taken from some older book saying that he was married by Rev. Theo. Frielinghuysen and that his wife was the daughter of Col. Claes Fonda. No military record higher than that of sergeant seems attached to the name of Claes Fonda, but he was Constable in Albany in 1706 and High Constable the following year, so perhaps "Col." should read "Con." Of Rebecca Fonda, the church record states that her life was full of "good works and almsdeeds which she did." The stones of both these excellent people are in good order over their graves in the family graveyard at Schaghticoke, close to a quiet road which is too far from the center of things to be much of a thoroughfare.]

[Douw moved from Schenectady to Caughnawaga in 1751. He was an aged widower and resided in a large stone dwelling which stood on the flats between the present turnpike and the Mohawk River. The cellar of this dwelling, which had wings on each side, can be seen at the present race track of the Montgomery Co. Agric. Assoc. in Fonda; Douw was killed by Sir John Johnson's Indians on 22 May 1780. His house was plundered & burned, sons John & Adam were made prisoners and taken to Canada and held for two years. Douw Fonda had been a close personal friend of Sir Wm. Johnson and had always been on good terms with the Indians, but his life was taken as "heartlessly" as though he were an active enemy. He was 79 yrs. old; at the time of Douw's death, another house, in the center of town, on Cayadutta Street, was being built; it was completed after his death (1781) and occupied by son John and family.]

[Lived on southerly side of State St. and Mill Lane and had his vats in rear of his lot]; [his Will: In the name of God, Amen. I, Peter Fonda, of Schenectady, in Albany County. All debts to be paid, and my executors may sell as much real estate as necessary. I leave to my eldest son, Jellis Fonda, 12 shillings, NY money, for his birthright, "wherewith he is to be satisfied and contented." I leave to my daughter Angentie f50, with a set of household furniture, to the value of f30; "also my household furniture as now in my possession, except 1/2 of the clothes and household furniture, that is to come from her mother, Alida Fonda." The f50 is to be paid in two years after my wife's decease. "I leave to my stepdaughter, Janeca Truex, the other half of her mother's furniture and 1/2 of her mother's clothes, and one cow." All the rest of my estate I leave to my son, Jellis Fonda. It is my express will, and I do order that my wife Alida shall stay in full possession of my real estate, during her widowhood, and she is to make no waste. I make my two brothers, Abraham Fonda and Jacob Fonda, and my nephew, Christopher Yates, executors. Dated September 2, 1771. Witnesses, John Peck, wheelwright, John Mynderse, Isaac Roosa, blacksmith. [Gysbert Fonda was born in 1720. He was the eldest son of Albany residents Claas and Anna Marselis Fonda. Growing up in Albany's second ward, he learned the ins and outs of the fur trade and then followed his father in business and in community service. Appointed firemaster in 1747, he was elected assistant alderman for the second ward four times - first in 1761. In October 1753, he married skipper's daughter Elsie Douw. Over the next two decades, the marriage produced seven children who were baptized in the Albany Dutch church where both parents were pewholders and baptism sponsors. These Fondas settled into "a good house" on Pearl Street. In 1759, he was one of the managers of the city lottery. Gysbert prospered in business - being counted among the wealthiest Albanians during the 1760s. In 1766, he stood with his neighbors in opposition to the Stamp Act. However, ten years later, this cautious merchant was identified by the same neighbors as opposed to the American cause, refused to sign the non Importation association, and was ordered disarmed. In 1778, he refused to swear allegiance to the United States and was threatened with deportabanishment to the British. With much to lose, Fonda then took the oath! Those reservations aside, Gysbert Fonda survived the war and even was granted a bounty right in conjunction with the Albany regiment of the county militia. The end of the war found him back to business, supporting his church, petitioning the city government, and standing with other Albanians in opposition to the proposed Federal Constitution. However, the resurgance would be short-lived as Gysbert Fonda died in August 1788. He had lived sixty-eight years. On September 8, he was buried in the Dutch Church cemetery plot. Later, his remains were moved to Albany Rural Cemetery where his grave is today! His will probated in December 1788 named his wife, son Nicholas and daughter, Lyntie Lush as heirs.]

[New York Wills and Probate Records - Name: John P Fonda; Probate Date: 21 Aug 1834; Probate County: Rensselaer]; [moved from Albany to Brunswick in 1750, The Fondas lived on what was called the "Flatts," a district along the Poestenkill Creek on the east border of Troy, near the bridge crossing the creek and leading to Albany. They owned a large estate in this vicinity, over 500 acres, it is said. Where the present pond is formed by a mill dam connecting with a collar shop, was an orchard, and the house was near the present bridge. This family was one of the first settlers of Brunswick, Rensselaer Co., NY]; [Gazetteer and business directory of Rensselaer County, N.Y., for 1870-71 - Brunswick - John Fonda came from Albany to this town in about 1750. He took up 500 acres of land on the Van Rensselaer Tract. Mr. Fonda was robbed by the Tories during the Revolution. Some of these Tories were executed, and Mr. Fonda took from one of them a pair of silver knee buckles, which had been previously stolen from him by this Tory. Jenett {Tanneke} Fonda, daughter of John Fonda, married Samuel I. McChesney, the first Assemblyman from the town of Brunswick. She was one of three who first attended school in Troy. ["The Livingston Republic" of July 30, 1874, pg 3, col. 2 reads as follows; "Death of a Centenarian - Three score year and ten is the allotted period of a man's life, but occasionally persons are permitted to live long beyond this period and their lives become full of interest not only to their immediate friends and relatives, but to the world at large. Such a person was Mrs. Jane Whitbeck, who died at the residence of Franklin Carter, in Lima, on Saturday evening last, in her 99th year. Mrs. Whitbeck was born on the 9th day of July 1776, 5 days after the Declaration of Independence by the American colonies. Her history is therefore contemporary with that of our country, and it's interesting to reflect on the progress which the republic has made during her life time, the advancement it has made in arts and science, its growth in intelligence, its accumulation of material wealth, and influence it has exerted in civilizing and Christianizing the world. During her lifetime genius has wrought out some of the greatest problems of life, and the world has emerged into the full light of the highest civilization. The steam engine had been perfected, the steam cars, the magnetic telegraph, ocean cables, and steamships have been invented, and the deepest mysteries of the heavens and the earth and boundless wastes of the ocean have been read by the light of science. Such a life, covering a century of progress, as well as of existence, is full of material for thought and speculation, which we can only suggest without discussing at length. Mrs. Whitbeck, in company with her husband, and family, came to western New York forty-nine years ago, from Herkimer County. Her husband Peter Whitbeck died twenty - five years ago, and since then she has walked life's pathway alone, save for the watchful care of her children, among whom are Mrs. Franklin Carter, Dr. J. P. Whitbeck and J. B. Whitbeck of Rochester, and V. P. Whitbeck of Groveland. The late L. P. Whitbeck of Pittsford was also one of her sons. Mrs. Whitbeck was a kind, loving and dutiful mother, and no unkind act of hers embitters her memory in the hearts of her children. She retained her mental faculties to the last, and though for years ready to pass to that incomparable rest beyond the grave, she never murmured because of her suffering, or grew impatient. Thus illustrating what a true life should be, she never outgrew her usefulness, but continued always to exert a sweet, refining influence over those about her. If patience, fortitude, sweetness of temper and true Christian character are ever rewarded, hers is a happy lot in that eternal home prepared by the hand of the Father."]

The document was witnessed by Lenton Hicks and Ebenezer Fitch and Eli Smith recorded it April 6, 1813. Nine years later, in 1822, it is recorded that Abijah Comstock and Asa Cornell, overseers of the poor, were called upon to examine the said "Lun" and "Kate," his wife, "to see if they were of sufficient ability to provide for and maintain themselves?" They issued a certificate of freedom in issuing which they took pains to state that it was their pleasure "to encourage acts of humanity" and an entire willingness that "all should enjoy the inalienable right of liberty." [Died, universally regretted, at Caughnawaga, in Montgomery County, on Thursday last, aged 64, the Hon. Jelles Fonda, Esq. and on Saturday his remains interred in the Family Burrying Ground by a numberous and respectable consourse of citizens from Montgomery, Albany and Schenectady. In public life he supported the character of firm patriot and friend to the true interest of country; and in private, he was universally esteemed a valuable member of society, and displayed those amiable qualities which endeavor unto man. He has left to bemoan his legacy a numerous train of dependant strangers, a widow and respectable offspring, as well as relatives and intimates. Albany Register (Albany, NY), Monday, June 27, 1791]

[Albany, June 27 - On Thursday last, departed this life, in the 65 year of his age, Jellis Fonda, Esquire, of Montgomery county. The character of this gentleman, as a friend to liberty and his country - hospitality and philanthropy, are universally known and admired. - A very numerous concourse of citizens attended the interment of his remains, on Saturday. 1791-07-04 Daily Advertiser]

[Jellis was the first merchant in the Mohawk Valley, was prosperous, owned 600 acres, had $10,000 on his books, and the British (under Sir John Johnson) destroyed $60,000 worth of his property; his trade was with both the Indians and white settlers in the valley as far distant as Forts Stanwix, and even Oswego, Niagara and Schlosser, his traffic was chiefly in blankets, ammunition and supplies of a general character, and his pay was generally peltries, ginseng and potash]; [R048a Old Dutch Families: Fonda Family (De Halve Maen Quarterly): "Major Jellis Fonda (1727-91) was the most prominent of the early Fondas. He was the first Mohawk Valley merchant west of Schenectady and the period immediately previous to the Revolution. He was one of the outstanding figures in that sector. He was a close friend and associate of Sir William Johnson and accompanied him on his military expeditions as commissary. He served in the French and Indian War under Sir William Johnson in command of Scouts (Lieutenant in 1755 and Captain in 1756) and was commissioned Major in 176? spending much of his time during this period in Indian country. Jellis was one of the four assistant judges of Tryon Court, elected 1773; State Senator, Western District, 1777-81 and 1788-91; Fulton County Judge 22-Mar-1784 and Commissioner of Indian Affairs. He was one of the executors of the will of Sir William Johnson and designated as guardian of the latter's children. Jellis Fonda is frequently referred to in the well known novel "In the Valley" by Harold Frederic and also in the novels by Robert W. Chambers dealing with Mohawk Valley and Tryon County history."]

[The Bloodied Mohawk - Additional Partisans - Jellis Fonda, Esquire. During the Revolutionary War he owned 150 acres of land in the Harmanus Van Slyck/Abraham DePeyster Patent (Garret Y. Lansing Papers 8:11). On November 21, 1768 he received title to Lowland Lot One and Woodland Lot 10 of the Captain Harmanus Van Slyck/Abraham De Peyster Patent from John Cruger, Philip Livingston, Leonard Lispenard, Henry Holland, and William Bayard Esquires of New York City, New York Trustees of the Estate of Abraham De Peyster; the deed contains valuable information on the bounds of the aforesaid patent and on the heirs of Colonel Abraham De Peyster, the former Treasurer of the Colony of New York (S. [Imprisoned in 1775 by Alexander White, the Sheriff of Tryon County, for striking one of White's servants in defense of his land... much to the displeasure of the Whigs, who some one hundred strong, went to the jail and forced his release. John and his brother Adam were captured by the British in 1780 when they came into the Mohawk Valley, raiding and burning houses. John was released in a few days but Adam was taken to Canada as a prisoner (with about 100 others)and held for over a year; upon his return, Adam settled on a farm near Fonda and John settled in the eastern part of Fonda; John Fonda who had been an officer in the early wars, served in the Associated Exempts under brother Capt. Jelles Fonda at the Battle of Oriskany. He also served as a committee man of Tryon County.]; [John Fonda, RWPA #W23046: He married at Smithstown in Tryon County, New York in February 1769 Angelica --. His widow had a sister who married as a Mr. Vosburg. He fought in the Battle of Oriskany. Victor Putman states Fonda was taken by the enemy in 1780.]

[Real Daughter of Revolution - Angelica Hansen Fonda Buried at Carthage 1846, was Widow of Captain of War of Independence - Carthage, Ill. June 9 - As has been noted, the Shadrach Bond chapter of the D. A. R. honored on Memorial day, a "real daughter" of the revolution, when a bronze tablet was placed on the monument of Mrs. Angelica Hansen Fonda, buried by her side is her son, Giles, and his wife, in Carthage cemetery. The following is an interesting story of her life, written about ten years ago by John Giles Fonda of Los Angeles, Calif. - Angelica Hansen Fonda. Born January 23, 1750: died January 30, 1846. Buried in the old cemetery at carthage, Ill. Married John Fonda 1768. She was a daughter of Captain Henry Hanson, who was an American captain and was murdered by the Indians and Tories during the raid by Sir John Johnson through the Mohawk Valley. May 21, 1780. John Fonda, born 1739, married Angelica Hansen 1768, died 1814. He was a private soldier in Colonel Fisher's regiment, Tyron Co., N. Y. militia. On account of this service his wife, Angelica was granted a pension by act of congress of July 4, 1836. John Fonda had a son, Giles Fonda, born June 13, 1789. Married Mariah Dockstader Dec. 1, 1811. He had a son, John Giles Fonda, born March 8, 1822, now living at Los Angeles, California - January 19, 1910. May 21, 1780, (Douw) Fonda, father of John Fonda, and Henry Hanson, father of Angelica Hanson, were murdered by Tories and Indians during a raid through the Mohawk Valley by Sir John Johnson. At the same time, John Fonda and others were made prisoners. After this party had started for Canada, a part of the prisonerse, among them John Fonda, were paroled. The evidence of this is found in the public

papers of Governor Clinton, first Governor of New York, Vol. 5, page 738, 1901, edited ny Hugh Hastings, state librarian, Albany, N.Y. Other evidence can be found in the Revolution, published by James A. Roberts, comptroller state of New York. The parole permitting two of the prisoners to return home is as follows: "I do certify that Messrs. Sampson Sammons and John Fonda are permitted to return to their respective homes at their own request, having flrst engaged to protect loyalists in the county of Tryon peaceable possession of their property. For the performance of which the remainder of the prisoners will be held hostages. Given under my hand at Kingsborough this 23rd day of May, 1780. John Johnson." [Jacob Glen Fonda, RWPA #R3632: born August 1761 in Schenectady, baptized August 29, 1761. Parents Abraham Fonda and Susanna Glen. He enlisted in Spring 1778 while living in Albany. During the war he served two weeks at the German Flatts, three weeks at Stone Arabia, one week at Fort Plain, six weeks at Fort Plank, two weeks at Fort Hunter, and ten days at Schenectady. Hermanus Peek states that he and Fonda, along with all the forces at Fort Hunter marched under General Van Rensselaer to Fort Plank 14 miles above Fort Hunter in August of 1779, and remained there for the whole of their six-week tour. He fought in the Battle of Klock's Field. Harmanus Wendell states he lived in the home of General John H. Wendell along with Fonda in 1780 or 81. Robert H. Wendell states that Fonda was a PVT in Captain Garret Groesbeck's Company of the Half Moon and Ballston District Regiment of Militia and that he and the said Fonda performed duties at Fort Plank, Fort Hunter, and Fort Plain together. After the war Jacob lived in Otsego and Montgomery Counties. In 1833 he was living in Schenectady Co., in 1839 in Broadalbin, Fulton Co., and in 1845 in Glenville, Schenectady Co.]

[Jellis J. Fonda, RWPA #S49266: born in Schenectady County, New York on January 13, 1751. He died in 1839 and is buried in his Family's Cemetery in Glenville Township, Schenectady County, New York (HSDRW). An October 20, 1833 deposition states Fonda was found to be incompetent and unable to a make a viable declaration for his pension by reasons of old age and loss of memory. In 1833 he was the only surviving officer of the unit known as the Greens. In June of 1780, he was in command of Captain Van Vorst's Company at Fort Plank. He was also stationed at Forts Plank and Plain for 21 days when the Fort Plank Settlements were burnt in August of 1780. He fought in the Battle of Johnstown. His captain's commission, which is contained in his file, calls him Jellis Ja. Fonda. His file contains depositions by Adam Vrooman, James H. Peek, Jacob Van Vechten and Jellis A. Fonda]

[Jellis was appointed Captain of a company of Associated Exempts (Minute Men) on 27-May-1775, which came to be known as "the Greens" because of the color of their uniforms; in January, 1776, and again in June he went to Johnstown; in the fall of the same year, he marched with his company to Stillwater where they were in camp for some time; from Stillwater they marched to Fort Ann, thence down Wood Creek to Skenesborough as guards for boats; he served with particular distinction in the campaign against Burgoyne and at the Battle of Bemis Heights; he served in many expeditions and on various garrison duties during the succeeding years of the war, being especially zealous in the discharge of his offices; while on guard duty at Schenectady he was spoken of as "attending roll call and giving orders every morning at daybreak, sometimes 2 hours before day." In 1777, when Sir John Johnson, with his Scotch retainers, had fortified themselves in Johnson Hall, Generals Schuyler, Ten Broeck and Herkimer, with a large body of militia, went there to reduce them. When, out of the whole number, General Schuyler selected Captain Fonda, from his known fearlessness of character, to command a forlorn hope of 200 men for the assault, of which his company of minute men formed one-half. the assailing forces were without cannon. But when this brave officer in the lead, under the eye and direction of the noble Schuyler, shouted on his column to the assault, with undaunted dash (for Fonda was in deadly earnest), Sir John immediately lowered his flag and surrendered without firing a gun. Fonda was ever afterwards called, wherever known, one of the most fearless of men; he was actively engaged in the battle of Johnstown in October 1781, and in the pursuit of the enemy, and on this occasion he "so highly distinguished himself that COL Willett addressed him a letter of thanks for his services and praising him for his intrepidity."; he was reappointed Captain on June 20, 1778, the commission being signed by Governor Clinton; he was a pensioner under the Act of June 7, 1832.]

[John Castle's father was Vincent Castle and some family trees show that Vincent married Rebecca Fonda, however Rebecca's maiden name was Morris, not Fonda. The confusion arose due to Vincent's grandson Peter Castle, son of Vincent's son John who was married to Hannah Fonda. Peter's mother's surname was known to be Fonda and some assumed Peter's father was Vincent when actually Vincent was his grandfather. (per Ron Lewis on 1/19/2025)]

[Derrick V. Leversee was born in the year 1814 in the town of Brunswick, Rensselaer Co., NY, on the farm where he now resides. The family of Leversee have occupied the farm since Jan. 8, 1773 - this being the date of the deed given by King George III, to his great-grandfather, William Leversee, the first settler. The business of the four generations who have occupied this farm has been strictly as farmers, and a view of the residence on another page of this work shows the result of industry, economy, and thrift. His father, Jacob Leversee, died in 1851. His mother died in 1861. Mr. Leversee was married in 1856 to Mary Fonda, of Saratoga, N. Y. In politics he is a Republican, and both he and his wife are members of the First Presbyterian Church of Lansingburgh, NY]

[while still in his teens, John joined the crusade for American liberties as an ENS in the 2nd Albany Rangers in June 1781; then as a QM in COL Marinus Willet's regiment of the 1st NY troops until 1783; records refer to his militia unit as "Fondey's Party", designating respect and affection of his troops; in 1779, his name first appeared on a city assessment roll; in 1780, he began to take his place in Albany society when he was appointed firemaster in the Second Ward; with the end of the war, he entered business (selling imported glass and ceramics) and began to acquire real estate along Foxes Creek; his name may have been misspelled by the Army and he decided to continue to spell his name Fondey to claim his many land grants given to him by the US Government as Revolutionary War bounty lands; John's brother, Douw J. Fondey (1759-) also had changed his name from Fonda, probably to differentiate himself from the Famous Patriot Douw Fonda, for whom the town of Fonda, NY is named, as well as several other men in the Mohawk Valley area named Douw Fonda; Fondey, John, ENS 2d New York, 29th June, 1781; transferred to 1st New York, 1st January, 1783, and served to 3d June, 1783 as QM.]

[1794 - The original military township of Cicero, No. 6, comprising the present civil town of Cicero and Clay, formed the extreme northeast corner of the great Military Tract, and like similar subdivisions of that vast territory was surveyed into 100 lots, which were reserved or drawn by soldiers for services in the Revolutionary war as follows: ... 35, Ensign John Fondy; ... The Town of Clay is advantageously situated in the center of the north part of Onondaga county, and originally formed a portion of military township No. 6, Cicero, whcih comprised one hundred losts of six hundred acres each. These lots, as described in a previous chapter, were drawn as bounty lands by veterans of the Revolutionary war, and like nearly all survey divisions of that great tract, passed again and again into the possession of non-residents or actual settlers, often for ridiculous remuneration, until many of the titleas became involved in protracted and costly litigation. Few of the original grantees ever occupied their claims; few indeed ever saw them. This then unbroken wilderness, inhabited by wild beasts and more or less by Indians, had no charms to lure those veteran soldires from eastern homes. Actual settlement, therefore, remained largely for that class of resolute men and women who are characteristic of pioneer communities. The present limits of Clay comprise fifty lots of the old military township of Cicero. These were drawn as follows: ... 35, Ensign John Fondy; ... Out of every one hundred lots six were reserved for gospel and school purposes, and is a noteworthy fact that all thus designated in the military township of Cicero fell within the limits of the present town of Clay, which left for this territory but forty-four grantees.]

[An Old Man Dies Where He Was Born - From the Daily Times, June 7 - Our Cohoes correspondent writes: Abram Lansing, who was more than eighty years old, died suddenly at 7 o'clock last night. Mr. Lansing was born in the house in which he died. The building is an antiquated structure, and has sheltered that branch of the Lansing family for many generations. Once a country farm house, the encroachments of the corporation have divided the acres into city lots, and the mansion is now hemmed in by Simmons avenue on the east and Columbia street on the south. Years ago Mr. Lansing sold milk in the then village, and was known to every inhabitant. Gradually his daily routes grew shorter, until finally he disposed of his dairy and became a recluse. A shrewd financier, Mr. Lansing accumulated a competency. One daughter has been an invalid for fifteen years. There are three surviving heirs, and no division of the property is probable.]

[from Kelsey Ref: John Lawrence Fonda, husband of Helen (Kelsey) Fonda, was captain of a sailing vessel, residing at Poughkeepsie, NY. It has been stated by some of the descendants that his residence was at one time in San Francisco, Calif. As the husband died in 1842, it does not seem probable that the statement applies to him, so it is assumed that his wife survived him and lived with her son, William Thomas, who mgrated to California.]

[An Historical Address Delivered before the Dutchess County Medical Society at its Centennial Meeting, at Vassar Institute January 10th, 1906 - The first evidence of real public spirit was shown by the society in 1812, when a committee of three was appointed to publish such information as it may be able to obtain in regard to the nature and methos of treatment of the prevailing epidemic... This epidemic was one of Cerebro-spinal Meningitis, or Spotted Fever. In a letter written by Captain Fonda (John L.), the grandfather of the present Cashier of the Merchants' Bank (Walter C. Fonda), to Dr. William Thomas, then in the army and stationed at Baton Rouge, he describes the scourge, and says that there has been forty deaths a;ready from it in the town. Poughkeepsie at that time had less than three thousand inhabitants, and forty deaths was a high percentage of mortality.]

[Harmony Lodge Papers - No. 6 - January 15, 1863 - Transcribed by Arlene Goodwin - There are but few more among, the signers of the by-laws of Harmony Lodge, whom I knew so well as to enable me to frame from their histories and sketch which would be interesting to the readers of the Recorder. Yet, I still recur to the time-stained package with mixed emotions of pleasure and sadness - that pleasure which we all have in the remembrance of earlier and happier days - that sadness which we all feel as the records bring home to our hearts the realization that the years have passed over us, and that we are old. (...) There was old Captain Drake - we used to call him Admiral - who became blind, and died in the Alms-house. Abram J. Fonda, Captains, Campbell, Britton, Ben. Hyde, and a host of others. These four were good story-tellers, the three last named being renowned for veracity, and they kept their reputations bright by the frequent recital of the wonders they had seen on the great deep, and in the far-off islands of the sea. (...) Brommy Fonda dealt less in the Gulliverean line, though he could tell some good stories. I remember an incident in the early life of Thurlow Weed, which he related, but which I would not repeat here it if probability had not been confirmed by a recent letter of Mr. Weed's, declining a public reception in New York in which he mentions having first visited that city as a cabin boy of a Catskill sloop. Fonda, who was sailing-master or skipper of the vessel, was one morning engaged in conversation with some of the passengers, when Thurlow, intent - as he even now is - upon acquiring useful information, stood listening with curious visage and tea-kettle in hand, to the colloquy. Being observed by Fonda, he was sharply rebuked, and ordered to duty. - Frightened and disconcerted by the reprimand, instead of filling his tea-kettle, he incontinently threw it overboard - a feat which, about these days, he seems desirous to perform for the Abolition branch of the Republican party.]

[An Old Man Dies Where He Was Born - From the Daily Times, June 7 - Our Cohoes correspondent writes: Abram Lansing, who was more than eighty years old, died suddenly at 7 o'clock last night. Mr. Lansing was born in the house in which he died. The building is an antiquated structure, and has sheltered that branch of the Lansing family for many generations. Once a country farm house, the encroachments of the corporation have divided the acres into city lots, and the mansion is now hemmed in by Simmons avenue on the east and Columbia street on the south. Years ago Mr. Lansing sold milk in the then village, and was known to every inhabitant. Gradually his daily routes grew shorter, until finally he disposed of his dairy and became a recluse. A shrewd financier, Mr. Lansing accumulated a competency. One daughter has been an invalid for fifteen years. There are three surviving heirs, and no division of the property is probable.]

[Brig. Gen. Henry Adam Fonda was an officer in Maj. Gen. Jacob Brown's Infantry Regiment, later in Maj. Gen. Henry Dearborn's Regiment and participated in the Lake Ontario Skirmishes during the War of 1812 against Canada and the British. He was appointed Brig. Gen. of the 11th Infantry in 1820. [One of the first signs of modern commerce in the Mohawk Valley was a cotton-mill, carried on for about five years by a company organized in 1811, consisting of John and Simon Veeder, G. VanDeusen, Henry Fonda and Myndert Wemple. A woolen-mill and carding-machine for custom-work was attached. Simon I. Veeder rented the building, and started a satinet factory in 1825, which he continued till 1830, when he sold to John Booth. The water-power afforded by Cayadutta Creek led, at a very early day, to the establishment of grist-mills at this point. One is said to have stood, previous to the Revolution, half a mile above the site of the Cayadutta, or "Upper" mill. Cayadutta Creek begins as a trickle in the hills some three miles north of Gloversville. It flows southward for more than 17 miles to the Mohawk River/Erie Canal, passing through the communities of Gloversville, Johnstown, Sammonsville, Berryville and Fonda]

[It is believed by the family that Andre Fonde came to America from France, but that the family originally came from the Lombardy area of Italy, and that Fonde was originally spelled Fondi. There is a town in Italy called Fondi, located on the west coast about halfway between Rome and Naples. David Fonde quotes the Chambers Encyclopedia, published in England, as describing Fondi this way: "A small town in Italy on the Appian Way between Rome and Naples, located near a pestiferous swamp and noted during the Middle Ages for its brigands and horse thieves."The family story is that during some political disturbance it became necessary for an early Fondi to escape from his own country if he could. This may have been when Napoleon overcame Venice and gave Northern Italy into Austrian (German) control. There is a poem written in Italian among the Fonde papers which lends some credence to this theory. According to a letter written by his great-granddaughter Elizabeth Fonde, Andre relocated in France, where he served as a scrivener, writing documents beautifully in more than one language. Later (between 1790 and 1794) he removed to America, probably to Philiadelphia, where records of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania document that he either made a Declaration of Intention (to become a citizen) or an Oath of Allegiance on February 16, 1798. (Philadelphia Naturalization Records, edited by Wm. Filby, Gale Research Co., Detroit, MI, 1982, page 197). His nationality is given as French. We have copies of letters that Andre Fonde wrote, one from New Orleans to his wife in Philadelphia, and another (1818) from Philadelphia to his son, John P. Fonde, who had recently moved to Washington, D.C. It is believed that Andre and Sarah Fonde moved to New Orleans before 1830 and that they are buried there. Although their marriage in 1794 and the baptisms and burials of several Fonde/Fondy children are recorded at Christ Church (Episcopal), Philadelphia, not all their known children are in these records. (Henry and John Philip are not recorded, nor is the birth of two Fondy children who were buried at Christ Church -- Calipso in 1803 and Andrew in 1801). I have made some estimates about the birth order of these children and their dates of birth. [Esling, the maiden name of Sarah Fonde, was found in the marriage records of Christ Church, (now known as St. Peter's, Episcopal) Philadelphia. We have copies of a letter written to Sarah by Andre after he had arrived in New Orleans while she was still in Philadelphia. The letter was written in French which leads me to believe that Sarah spoke French even though her name appears likely to be German. This may mean that she was Swiss (where both German and French is spoken) or Belgian (where Flemish and French are spoken). She may also have been married before and Esling could be the name of her first husband. Until I know otherwise, however, I will consider it her maiden name. The information from Christ Church was sent to me by my cousin David Fonde and is also found in "Record of Pennsylvania Marriages, Prior to 1810, Vol. 1, p. 92 and p. 83" originally published in volume VIII of the second series of the Pennsylvania Archives. b. Philadelphia, PA; d. New Orleans, LA; [Henry Fonde, youngest son of Andrew Fonde, Sr., aged 19 years, died at New Orleans 6 Apr. The National Intelligencer, 12-May-1827]; [Among the Fonde papers gathered by Dorothy Fonde there is a handwritten poem "On the Death of Henry Fonde". It may have been written by John Philip Fonde (or another Fonde sibling) on the death of this younger brother Henry. The year of birth for Henry was not known (his baptism is not recorded at Christ Church) until the newspaper record of his death was found. This gives his age as 19 when he died in 1827, so he would have been born in 1808. We knew there was a son named Henry from the evidence of the poem on his death, and from silhouettes of the Fonde children which Aunt Dot copied. One is labeled Henry, one Charles, one Harriet, and one Andrew. The silhouette labeled Henry looked older than the one for Andrew or Harriet so I had guessed that he was born in 1802. The poem on his death indicated that Henry died and was buried in New Orleans. If the poem is written by John P. Fonde as supposed, we estimated that Henry's death was before December 1831, when John P. died. Ref: Ancestors of Charles Henry Fonde website] >> www.fonda.org <<

[The Frankfort Banner - Saturday - May 13, 1893 - Pg 3 - Death of Mr. Fonda - Marcus Fonda, the old gentleman who has been employed about Frankfort for the past year, doing odd jobs, died Saturday at the Clinton House, where he was taken Thursday. Mr. Fonda came here from Muncie, and until about a week ago made his home with Sam Cosner. A few days ago he became afflicted with a carbuncle which became so intensely painful that his mind gave way, and it was deemed best to restrain him and he was sent to the County House for that purpose. Deceased was a man of whom his acquaintance knew little of his past history. He was a man of good habits, and had a splendid education, being a graduate of an eastern college. He was a soldier in the Mexican War, and with the pension he received from the government and the money he earned at odd jobs lived easy and comfortable. His age was 66 years. The funeral occurred Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, with interment at Green Lawn cemetery.]

[By Larry Hart, Gazette Reporter - Several weeks of pinstaking research by Dr. Louis Navias of 37 Front street has corrected a misconception generally shared by local historians concerning the former county property known as the "county annex." (...) These are just a few of the pertinent facts as regards the site of the county building: On May 1, 1838, the county purchased from Alexander G. Fonda and Hannah Edgar Fonda of Rotterdam some property next to the Mohawk Bank (later to become the Mohawk Club at the northwest corner of Union and Church streets.) The lot was 60 by 33 feet. The first mention of a "wood building" was in a deed of March 15, 1855 between Annabella Fonda and Chuncey Vibbard concerning a property transaction. It read, in part... "the northwesterly corner of the wood house, at present used as a county clerk and surrogates office." On May 25, 1869, the County of Schenectady purchased from Miss Annabella E. Fonda another portion of property adjacent to the west of the county site for the sum of $5,000. Schenectady Gazette, March 26, 1965]

Fonda. The President, Dr. N. I. Snow, in calling the meeting to order, said it is my duty, sad though it be, to announce to the society the death of one of its members. Dr. David E. Fonda died Friday, Jan. 12th. He had been a member of this society for thirty-two years, having joined it in 1851. He was well known to all of you, although of late his interest in the society has not been as great as in former years. He was born in the year 1817, in the city of Schenectady, where his father was a lifelong and highly esteemed physician, and at one time a member of this society. Dr. Fonda's first diploma was granted him Jan. 31st, 1837, by the Schenectady County Medical Suciety. The following year he graduated and received the degree of M. D. from the Fairfield Medical College. He practiced in the city of Schenectady eleven years. In 1848 he came to Albany, and here spent the remainder of his days in the pursuit of his profession. He never married. For years his familiar face has been seen moving about our streets ia his unassuming manner. Although for months he appeared somewhat enfeebled in health, his death finally seemed sudden. He was unpretentious, sincere and manly. It is suitable the society should take action comerning his death. Dr. C. H. Porter moved that a committee of five be appointed to draft suitable resolutions, and accordingly Drs. C. H. Porter, Henry March, S. H. Freeman, William H. Bailey and C. Devol were selected.]

[A very elaborate obituary of Alexander was in an unknown newspaper dated Saturday 9 Aug. 1873. A copy was given me by Mr. Clark Galloway. It read: Alexander P. Fonda "Acquackanonk township never held a better hearted man than the bearer of the name printed above. We remember an incident recalled to our mind and which happened years ago, illustrative of the character of him now no more. It occurred in a convention called to make a nomination, when there was little hope of success but when a good and strong man was needed to head the ticket. The president objected to several names and said some man with a good name and unquestioned integrity and against whom no objection could be raised, must be selected, and he must come from the township of Acquackanonk. Each coterie pressed forward its man until someone named 'Alexander P. Fonda as an honest man without an enemy in the world.' Instantly all the other names were withdrawn and a universal acclaim completed the nomination, and Mr. Fonda was admitted to be 'the man without an enemy.' we doubt if the like could have been said of another in the good old township of Acquackanonk and possibly of not another in the county. He was long a resident of our county and lived in the old township until it became a part of Paterson and his place had passed into the hands of the good sisters. Only a few months ago he referred to his beautiful grounds and to the trees and shrubbery which he had planted. 'I could hardly part from them' said he, 'but I knew the shady garden was going to give pleasure to the suffering, and the trees I planted would shelter the poor humanity gathered into the grounds of a hospital which for all time would be a place of refuge for the sick and the destitute, and this satisfied me to leave for plainer and less comfortable quarters in town.' Mr. Fonda passed away like Col. Rafferty, in the quiet of a calm and holy Sunday evening. And as he died another old landmark of humanity in this vicinity is blotted out. He was born in New York, 80 years ago, we believe, on the cornet of Greenwich and Chambers streets. If we mistake not, the house stood where Stuarts' sugar refinery now stands. At one time Mr. Fonda was in the Hudson River freighting business; afterwards he was Auditor of the Hudson River R.R. Co., and still had the silver service, presented to him by the company on retiring from that position after honorably filling it for years. He was a grocer of Paterson cotemporaneous with Col. Rafferty, and like him amassed a fortune. He was six years a member of the Freeholder Board from his township and for four years was its Director. He was afterwards Collector of the County. In each position of trust in which he was weighed he was not found wanting but in every instance retired of his own accord, refusing to act longer. He was a candidate of the Republicans against Big Sam Pope, and although the District at the time was heavily against his politics, Sam beat him by only 792 against 708, which was considered equal to a victory at the time. He was a veteran of the war of 1812 and either as a soldier or citizen, always did his duty to the fullest measure. For nearly sixty years he had been a free mason, and he was buried at his especial request entirely and in 'ancient ample form' by the brethren. His interment took place at Cedar Lawn, and a large concourse participated in the beautiful ceremonies. And thus passes from earth Alexander P. Fonda, whom none knew but to respect, to reverence and love. He leaves two children, William, a law student, and Mrs. Dr. McIntosh, the latter a regularly educated and licensed Physician of more than ordinary skill. He leaves the wife whom he so greatly loved to mourn his irreparable loss as only the true wife can; but there are friends without number who will never pass his last resting place with out thinking of the honest worth of the manly spirit which once quickened the earth of all that remains of Alexander P. Fonda."]

Reportedly he was a Major in the Regular Army, but this is unsubstantiated. He was struck by a train on 10/9 and died on 10/13]; [Died of His Injuries - We are pained to say that W. Aug. Fonda, is dead. His death occurred at half past one o'clock today. From information received it appears that dangerous symptoms set in last night, and Mr. Fonda grew rapidly worse until death came to end his sufferings. There seems to be no doubt that his death was caused by injuries received by being struck by the L & N passenger train. As we write, an inquest is being held. (Biloxi Herald, The (MS) 1888-10-13, p.: 8)]; [W. Aug. Fonda - The following clipped from the Paterson, New Jersey, Guardian, will be read with interest by those who were acquainted with the late W. Aug. Fonda: Mr. Fonda was the son of the late Alexander P. Fonda, one of the wealthiest and most prominent citizens of Paterson. The latter owned and resided in the building which now forms the central portion of St. Joseph's hospital. He also owned the corner of Main and Market streets, where Tynan's store is now located, and up Main street past where the Vreeland building is now situated. He was at the time of his death one of the largest property owners in Paterson. His only surviving child is Mrs. Dr. Sarah F. Mackintosh, the wife of Dr. J. Mackintosh. The latter is at present largely engaged in big enterprises in Alabama, but he still retains his residence here. The deceased was brought up in Paterson and was well-known here. He was educated as a lawyer, and he passed one of the most successful examinations ever known in New Jersey. For awhile he had considerable practice but, having a large income from his father's estate, was not anxious to retain it. He was an eager student and frequently sat up all night at his books, so that in time his brain was affected and he became somewhat erratic and unsettled. Some years ago he went West and became prominent in Dakota. He was one of the members of the commission from that Territory which came to Washington and urged its admission as a State. Owing to his corpulence and the hot weather prevailing in Mississippi, interment will be made for the present at the place where he died. Later, when the weather is colder, his remains will be brought to Paterson and laid to rest in Cedar Lawn cemetery. Biloxi Ms Daily Herald 1888-10-27]

In early boyhood he moved with his parents to Stillwater, New York. He was married at this place in 1830 to Miss Rebecca Fondah, with whom he lived very happily until she was called home in 1844, leaving him with six little children. He married in 1845 to Miss Lydia Ingerson, and in the year 1849 moved to Michigan, staying a couple of years in Ingham county. From there he moved to Clinton county, and in 1867 came to Isabella county, where he has since made his home. His second wife died May 7th, 1875. He had two daughters by his second wife, one of whom died when only three years of age; the other, Mrs. William Myers, is now living near Shepherd. Four of his children survive him - two sons and two daughters. He experienced religion when seventeen years of age, and has been an active worker in the church, and when health permitted, was always in his place in the house of worship. His funeral sermon was preached by his old friend and pastor, Rev. Lewis Richards of Gilmore, and he was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery by the side of his wife.] >> www.fonda.org <<

This farm was also the site of the ferry used by Earl Loudon in 1755 as a military crossing, to replace the dangerous ford at Waterford, where the sprouts of the Mohawk River made it unsafe. The ferry was later known as the Halfmoon ferry or ford and was in use by the Continental army during the campaign of 1777, when Generals Arnold, Poor and others, with Colonel Daniel Morgan's riflemen were here stationed to protect it from

Tories and British irregulars. This ferry was used by General Knox and is a part of what is called the "Knox Trail;" Loudonville, a hamlet on the Loudon road between Albany and Latham, perpetuates the name of Earl Loudon. Some of the timbers of the old Halfmoon fort were used in the construction of the homestead of Cornelius Fonda. The State bought this farm when constructing the Barge Canal; the buildings were destroyed and the burial plot removed to its present site on the Albany - Crescent - Saratoga highway at a place called Crescent Heights, about a mile south of Crescent, Saratoga County. It is fenced with an iron pipe fence with cement pillars and is in good condition.]; [R035b] Family, Bible, Church and Cemetery Records

[New York: A. Lloyd, 1873 - ...on October 2d, 1818, the (New Brunswick RDC) church called Rev. Jesse Fonda. He was called from Nassau, Rensselaer County, New York. His pastorate was brief. He resigned on the 3d July, 1819, and accepted a call from Montgomery, Orange County, where he continued until May 22d, 1827, when he died and entered into his rest. Jesse Fonda, says Dr. Forsyth, was born at Watervliet, Albany County, N. Y., April 27th, 1786; he graduated at Union College, 1806. He was the subject of religious expressions from his youth, and very early formed the desire to preach the Gospel. He studied theology in a desultory way with neighboring clergymen, and received his licensure from the Congregationalists, but in 1805 united with the Classis of Albany, and received a call from the church of Nassau and Schodack, where he continued to labor with great acceptance until he went to New-Brunswick. He bound himself by resolution to a course of regular, systematic study, and rose to eminence. His book on Sacraments evinces maturity of mind and a fullness of knowledge on the subject of which it treats. His physical man was very fine, and his social qualities companionable and interesting. His ministry, at Montgomery particularly, was eminently successful. Three hundred were added to the church on profession of faith in ten years, while the spiritual life of the church was greatly quickened, and the whole moral aspect of that region changed. His remains were followed to the grave by an immense crowd of weeping parishioners and friends, at the head of which walked nine ministers of the Gospel. The funeral sermon was preached by his friend and neighbor, Rev. James B. Ten Eyck, of Berea, assisted by Dr. Fisk, of Goshen, Rev. Samuel Van Veghten and Rev. Mr. Arbuckle, of Blooming Grove, and Dr. Wallace, of Little Britain.]

[Death of Peter Fonda - Under our obituary head will be observed an announcement of the death of Peter Fonda, one of our oldest citizens. He died yesterday, aged 63 years. Mr. F. was born in Troy, in the old house near the Catholic Burial Ground, on Ida Hill, now occupied by Mr. Seneca. He was the oldest butcher here, having kept a stall in our markets over forty years. Mr. Fonda was an upright citizen; he possessed a noble, generous heart, and in his time has done much in helping the poor, and in alleviating the distresses of the unfortunate. Many have been helped by his kindly hand to business positions from which they have derived a competence. Much good, many acts of true charity, have been performed by Peter Fonda in his quiet way, and with a free and liberal heart. He was always industrious - always at work. Contented in his humble station, Peter Fonda had smiles for all, a good word and a blessing for every one with whom he came in contact. A good citizen and an honest man is gone. Blessed be his memory. Troy Daily Times. December 7, 1857]; [Died - In this city, on Sunday, Dec. 6th, Peter Fonda, in the 63d year of his age. The friends of the family are invited to attend the funeral Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from his late residence, No. 116 First st. Troy Daily Times, December 7, 1857]

[Mortgage Foreclosure - Whereas, Peter Fonda, then of the city of Troy, in the county of Rensselaer, and State of New York, now deceased, executed and delivered a mortgage, with power of sale, unto Margaret J. Randall, of Oswego, in the county of Oswego, and State aforesaid, bearing date the 19th day of August, 1857, and recorded in Madison County Clerk's office, on the 27th day of August, 1857, in Book A. M. of mortgages, on page 455, &c, on "all that certain lot, piece, or tract of land situated in the town of Sullivan, in the county of Madison, and known as lot Number sixty-three, (63) in that large tract of land known as the Oneida Reservation, in the State of New York," as described in said mortgage. The amount claimed to be due and unpaid upon said mortgage, at the date of the first publication of this notice, (July 10th, 1861,) is two thousand, five hundred and forty-four dollars, and seventy-two cents, ($2,544.72;) and no proceedings at law having been instituted, to recover the debt secured by said mortgage, and the same having become due, and default having been made in the payment thereof, and the said power of sale having become operative, Now, therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed, by a sale of said mortgaged premises at public auction, at the Railroad House, kept by P. Farrell, in the village of Oneida, and county of Madison, on the 10th day of October next, (1861,) at 2 1-2 o'clock. P. M. Dated July 10th, 1861. Margaret J. Randall, Mortgagee. B. B. Burt, Att'y, Oswego. Oneida NY Sachem 1860-1862.]

[Elizabeth Cipperly, widow of Levi Cipperly, died Wednesday evening at the family residence, 131 Second Street. Mrs. Cipperly's death was anticipated, as she had been in feeble health for more than a year. The deceased was the daughter of Peter Fonda, as she was born in New Scotland eighty-two years ago. At the age of four she came to this city with her family and she had resided here since. The deceased was a woman of strong Christian character, always ready to assist in any work for the cause of charity or religion, and during her entire life she was a devout member of the Park Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Cipperly is survived by one daughter and two sons, Edward L. and Dr. John H. Cipperly. Two brothers, James R. Fonda of Troy and Peter Fonda of Oswego, also survive. [...of Mrs. Margaret J. Randall, widow of Benajah Randall, to whom she wedded in 1849, whom she survived twelve years. After a illness of a few months she passed peacefully away on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 27. She was born in New Scotland, Albany county, N. Y. in 1818. Her father, Peter Fonda, was for many years engaged in business in Troy, N. Y., in which city she resided at the time of her marriage. Her husband was well known in Oswego where he resided from young manhood to the time of his death. Although by nature a very quiet, unassuming woman, She showed in the management of her hushand's estate decided tact and executive ability, with marked firmness and decision of character. In faith and practical living she was a consistent christian and was a member of Grace church at the time of her death. She was a very domestic woman and as little known in society and church work. She was large hearted, full of generous sympathies, and devoted to her family and friends, for whom she could never do too much. Her remains have been taken to Troy, N.Y., for sepulture where her husband and parents have been buried. Oswego Daily Times Sept-Jan 1891.]

[Mrs. Ira D. Richards; Widow of Bergen Physician Died After Two Month's Illness; Mrs. Richards, who had been ill with an inflammatory disease of the cardiac opening of the stomach since the middle of March, died this morning at 5:12 o'clock, aged 77 years. Mrs. Richards, who was a daughter of William and Melvina Gilkey Fonda, was born in Kinderhook. When she was three or four years old her parents removed to Medina, where she was married, February 24, 1857, to Dr. Ira D. Richards. After the Civil War, in which the doctor served as surgeon 3 1/2 years, he purchased a farm in Riga, on which they lived until September 29, 1882, when they removed to this village. The doctor died August 27, 1911. Mrs. Richards was a member of the Presbyterian church and of the ladies' missionary society. She had many friends, who were drawn to her by her kindness of heart and her genial disposition. The funeral will be held from the house on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock and the burial will take place in Mt. Rest cemetery. The Batavia Daily News Thursday Evening, May 16, 1912]

[It is probable that Isaac V. Fondy and Vrooman Fondy are the same person, but the parents and place of birth (of either name) are not known. The residence of Vrooman Fondy was listed as Middleburgh, Schoharie Co., NY in his 1829 military enlistment and his age indicates a birthdate of about 1804. Neither name appears in any census records although prior to 1860 only heads of household are listed, with no ages or dates of birth. There are many Isaac Fondas found in New York around that time and none show a middle initial of V. Gertrude Hager Vrooman was born in Vroomansland (now Fulton), Schoharie Co., NY in 1769. She married Douw Isaac Fonda of Schaghticoke, Rensselaer Co., NY; although no children are found as issued from that marriage, Isaac V. could be their (undocumented) son; possibly named after Isaac Pieter Vrooman (b.1722), who was killed on October 24, 1781 in a Torie/Indian Raid at Vroomansland (now Fulton, Schoharie Co.), NY. Gertrude is the daughter of Jonas Adam Vrooman (b.1735, Vroomansland), a nephew of this Isaac Vrooman. Isaac V. Fondey (Fondy) is recorded as married to Mary Jane Stubblefield in Bond Co., IL on 14-Jan-1840. Although no records indicate any children issued, it is believed that Mary Jane died in the childbirth of George W. Fondy in 1840. Isaac remarried on 8-Dec-1844 in Goreville, Johnson Co., IL to Polly (Mary) Davis. Isaac V. Fondy had probate papers filed by her in June of 1852. Mary appears in the 1860 US Federal Census for Vienna, Johnson Co., IL, as wife of James P.

Burns (2nd husband) with daughters Mary Ann and Delia Fonda, ages 14 and 10. Delia Hager is the mother of Gertrude Hager Vrooman, which would make her (possibly) the g-grandmother of these children. According to military records (per Joe Fondy, Redlands, CA), Vrooman Fondy lived in Schoharie Co., NY, Philadelphia, PA, St. Louis, MO, and Perry Co., IL. A record of his enlistment at Schoharie Co., NY in 1829 lists his age as 25 years old. He served at Fort Winnebago in 1829-1830 and his Certificate for Pension filled out by Horatio Newhall and Jefferson Davis dated 1830 lists his age as 26 years old. Other documents obtained from the National Archives show him signing his last name "Fondey." He was at Fort Winnebago when John H. Fonda was there. John H. Fonda enlisted about 7 weeks before Vrooman and they both were enlisted by LT Elias Phillips at Albany. Vrooman Fondy moved West in late 1837 or early 1838, and there are two applications of his transfer of pension dated 1838 and 1849. According to National Archives records roll T718, he collected his pension in MO until September 1847 and in IL until September 1851.]

[History of Herkimer County, New York - Family Sketches of Newport Twp - Hadcock, Dr. E. P., Newport, was born in the town of Newport March 26, 1831, a son of Adam and Barbara Ann (Vanslyke) Hadcock, of Middleville. Dr. Hadcock's early education was obtained in the latter town. At the age of eighteen he went to Utica and studied dentistry with G. N. Foster and William Blakesly, and after perfecting himself in the profession located in Newport in 1852, where he has since remained, and is regarded by the profession as one of the skilled dental surgeons in this locality. He has been connected with many of the improvements of the village. He has served as president of the village and was on the school board for nine years, president all this time, and is at present the only original member living of Newport Lodge No. 455 F. (Ref. #1, p. 366/135); Hadcock, Dr. E. P., was born at Middleville, Herkimer county, in 1830. In his early manhood he turned his attention to the study of dentistry and spent three years at Utica preparing himself for the practice of his profession. He afterward located at Newport, where he still continues to follow his adopted calling in all its branches. He was married in 1850 to Henrietta Fonda, of Troy, N.Y., a granddaughter of General Fonda, of Revolutionary fame. Dr. Hadcock was one of thirty dentists to organize a State and national dental association in 1867. He was also one of the prime movers in the organization of the Newport Masonic Lodge, No. 465. He was honored with the office of overseer of the poor for about ten years, and school trustee for seven years. (Ref. #2, p. 273)]

[Death of Dr. E. P. Hadcock. Newport, Oct. 17 - Dr. Edward P. Hadcock, the well known Newport dentist, died at 6:20 yesterday morning of kidney and heart trouble. He was born in the town of Newport, March 26, 1831, and his early education was obtained in that town. At the age of 18 he went to Utica and studied dentistry with G. N. Foster and William Blakesley, and after perfecting himself in the profession located in 1852 in Newport, where he has since remained and was regarded by the profession as one of the skilled dental surgeons of this locality. He was connected with many of the improvements In the village, having served as its president several terms. He was also president of the school board for nine years, and was the last survivor of three who revived Newport Iodge. F. and A. M. on May 21, 1858. He was for forty years a member of Oneida Chapter, R. A. M., and when Sprig Chapter, No. 2St, was instituted at Newport last year, became one of its charter members. Surviving are the widow, formerly Henrieta I. Fonda, a descendant of General Fonda, to whom Dr. Hadcock was married Oct. 7, 1850, also five children as follows: Dr. Charles E. Hsdcock, a graduate of Harvard College, where he resides and practices; Henry L., druggist. Boston, and graduate of the Boston Pharnacy; Annie, wife of Joseph Graner of Newport, Helen F. and Mabel L., also of Newport, The funeral will probably be held Thursday. [Cornelius Fonda is 98 Years Old - Former Town of Amsterdam Resident Near Century Mark. Venerable Gloversvillian Has Feast in Celebration of Birthday Anniversary - For Over Quarter of Century Was Engaged In Tilling of Soil on Farm In This Vicinity. Cornelius Fonda, who boasts a family tree that gave a flourishing little village in this section its name, celebrated his ninety-eighth birthday Tuesday, and is just two years from having lived an entire century. The old gentleman, although infirm, hardly able to speak or hear, and always in an invalid's chair or on his bed, hopes to defy the inevitable for another two years at least. Mrs. H. P. Shutts, his daughter, of 25 West Fulton street, Gloversvllle, with whom he has made his residence ever since he moved there from Johnstown, three years ago, held a feast Tuesday night in honor of the occasion. The affair was given for a small army of immediate relatives, the direct descendants of the aged guest of honor. Mrs. Cornelius Fonda died about 12 Years ago at the age of 85 years. Thirty years back, Mr. Fonda was a Farmer, but since that time neither the hoe nor the plow have ever been approached by him for his physical incapacity dates back just that far. Mr. Fonda is a native of the town of Mayfield, being a son of Mr. And Mrs. Peter Fonda, born February 5, 1820. His parents were farmers and he was brought up to this life, remaining during his early boyhood in the town of Mayfield. Early in his career, he moved to the town of Amsterdam, where, on January 1, 1839, at the age of 19 years, he was married to Sarah Gunsolus. This union was not broken until long after firty years of wedded life. Mr. Fonda ran the farm in the town of Amsterdam for over a quarter of a century, finally giving up when his health failed. Amsterdam Evening Recorder, Wednesday, February 6, 1918]

[Cornelius Fonda, ninety-eight years of age, who died Wednesday night at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harlan P. Shutts, 25 West Fulton street, is survived by four daughters, Mrs. James Bearcroft of Switzer Hill, Mrs. Harlan P. Shutts of Gloversville, Mrs. Margaret Lake and Mrs. H. A. Dopp of Johnstown, and three sons, James, William and Edwin L. Fonda of Johnstown. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Edwin L. Fonda, 330 West State street, Johnstown. Rev. Charles Mc- Kenzie, D, D., pastor of the Presbyterian church of Johnstown, will officiate and interment will be made in the family plot of the Johnstown cemetery. Prospect Hill Cemetery, Gloversville, NY (Harland P Shutts, died August 8, 1921, age 79 years); [Harlan Page, third child of Silas and Ann Maria (Smith) Shutts, was born in Fulton county, New York, October 2, 1841. He was educated in the public schools, and after completing his studies his father took him to the lumber camps with him, where he remained three years. He then began life on his own account. He obtained employment on the canal, and took the eastern trip as far as Albany, and returned west as far as Orrsville, where he decided he was not fitted for canal life and took sudden leave. He worked as clerk in the general store of William Putnam for two years, then returned to Gloversville, and entered the employ of Jonathan Ricketts, where he learned the trade of glove making. Later in life he formed a partnership with Denton Smith, and as Shutts & Smith manufactured gloves and mittens until 1875, when the firm dissolved. Mr. Shutts then engaged in the sewing machine business, which he carried on with successful results until 1909. Since 1885 he has been a partner of E. S. Parkhurst & Company, and is also interested in western mining lands, the Glen Telephone Company, the Gloversville Knitting Mill and other enterprises of his city. [The Gloversville Mystery - Nothing has been discovered thus far in explanation of the supposed self-poisoning of the Misses Fonda, three sisters, of the village of Gloversville, as reported by our correspondent several davs ago. It will be remembered that they were unjustly accused of a dishonest act, and that shortly afterward all of them were found insensible. Two are dead, but tbe cause is not explained. The Gloversville Intelligencer says: At the post mortem examination held over the body of Miss Caroline Fonda, whose death we announced last week, the stomach was found considerably inflamed and other organs appeared to be in a normal condition. The stomach was sent to Prof. Perkins, of Schenectady, for chemical analysis. A telegram has been received from the professor saying, "Nothing found." Monday afternoon another of the sisters died. The post mortem examination in her case was neld Tuesday. The symptoms were very similar to those of the one who died first, but less marked. She had seemed to be improving until Saturday, when she began to sink - her pulse became feeble, and her eyes and countenance expressionless. It had been the general opinion for some time past, that this one had the consumption, but her lungs were found, to be in a healthy condition. Her stomach, heart, liver and spleen have been forwarded to Schenectady for examination. The surviving sister and Mr. Vincent, wbo has been a frequent visitor at the house of these ladies, have been examined, but no material facts have been elicited. Nothing has been developed that can satisfactorily clear up the mystery. No verdict has been rendered; the case is held over for further evidence. [Fear of a great disgrace led three sisters - Lydia, Caroline and Lina Fonda - residing at Gloversville, New York, to seek death on Sunday last. They had been arrested on a charge of stealing articles belonging to a tenant who occupied a part of their house, and they had given bail to appear for trial. A friend, upon entering the house Sunday night, found the three women apparently dead; one lying insensible upon a bed, another upon a lounge and a third upon the floor. A physician was instantly summoned, who, upon coming, declared that the women had taken poison. Antidotes were given them, which restored all to consciousness, but, in the opinion of the physician, one of the women cannot recover, and the other two have an even chance of living or dying. 1877-10-27 - Lowell Daily Citizen and News]

(J. T. Aitken et al 1984:125). Dr. Scudder had degrees in both theology and medicine, and was thoroughly committed to serving God through medical missions. Five sons, one daughter, and three grandsons of this great man became medical missionaries. Over the next four generations of Scudders, 42 served over 1100 years of missionary service. The granddaughter of Dr. John, Dr. Ida S. Scudder, was the founder of Vellore Christian Medical College and Hospital in India in 1900. In 1971, it had a staff of 262 full-time doctors and 292 graduate students. (James C. Hefley 1971:10)]

In 1848, Isaac Merritt Singer became a client of Ambrose & Clark in New York, and when he invented the sewing machine, Clark dropped his legal career for a 50 percent stake in I.M. Singer & Company, eventually becoming its head. Clark had a flare for marketing. He gave machines at half-price to influential persons, such as ministers' wives, and apparently developed the idea of the installment plan to let families pay over time for the machines. Revenues tripled in a year. This twist on the tradition also seems to be a distortion spun around a germ of truth. There is no evidence that the novelist ever attacked Farrand Stranahan, but in 1815 Cooper did assault Stranahan's law partner, Ambrose Jordan. In 1815 Jordan was a lieutenant in Cooperstown's militia company of light infantry and his captain was James Cooper (who had not yet added "Fenimore" to his name). [Brandow - Helen Elizabeth Fonda, aged seventy-four years, wife of Charles H. Brandow, died at her home on Main street on Wednesday morning, having been ill but a day. Funeral services will be held at the house this Friday afternoon, the Rev. Andrew Hansen to officiate; interment in Jefferson Rural Cemetery. Mrs. Brandow was born in this village, where she passed her entire life, having for more than half a century been a member Of the Presbyterian Church, and when it is said that she was a good woman it implies every worthy attribute that could be enumerated in columns of space. She had been particularly happy this Christmas time, due to the fact that her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Lemos, and children, of Greenwich, Conn., were to have their homecoming on the morning she died, bringing with them the family Christmas tree and trimmings, that the little ones might give their grandparents a cheerful holiday. Besides her husband and Mrs. Lemos, Mrs. Brandow is survived by one son (Emory of Harrisburg. Pa.), two sisters (Mrs. Hattie Decker and Mrs. Ida Teetsel) and three brothers (Robert, Isaac and Albert Fonda), all of this village, to all whom profound sympathy is extended. [Mrs. Fonda's Lectures - Mrs. Fonda lectured on the Maine Law on Friday, Saturday and Sunday evenings last. Her lectures were quite largely attended, and so far as we have heard opinions expressed, she gave evidence of her ability not only to interest, but to aid the temperance movement. At the conclusion of Mrs. Fonda's address on Sunday evening last, a resolution of thanks was proposed commending her to the confidence of the friends of temperance in this state, as an efficient laborer in case. The resolution was carried with aranimity by the rising vote of the large assembly. Kenosha Telegraph 10-21-1853]

[The above quotations show Aunt Esther at her best. As she wrote once, when she was out lecturing she seemed to be "on wings." She was a born public speaker. She never had more than half a life, being a born dyspeptic; but during a few years in public speaking she showed what, with full health, she might have been. She was of the Jane G. Swisshelm type of women, who do not so much advocate women's rights, as to go right ahead and exercise what rights they now have. Hence I doubt if she ever appeared on a woman's rights platform, but in behalf of temperance and anti-slavery, especially on the political side, she was a ready, apt, effective speaker. In one campaign she followed Stephen A. Douglas about in Illinois, speaking right after him, scoring him thoroughly, and drawing, it is said, audiences nearly as large as his. During the period of these labors she earned net, as I used to hear it said, some twelve to fifteen hundred dollars, which was almost a fortune to her. After a time the family moved to Wheaton, Illinois, that her son, Jesse Lawrence, might go through the college there. She died October 21, 1872. Fonda - This gentleman, well known to the citizens of New York as President of the Mechanics Banking Association, died on Saturday last at his residence in Brooklyn, after a long and severe illness. Mr. Fonda was born at Poughkeepsie, in this State, and from his first entrance into business was connected with banking institutions. He first entered the Dutchess County Bank in the capacity of teller and was afterwards promoted to the position of cashier. After leaving this institution he connected himself with the Merchants Bank of Poughkeepsie, and was employed in that establishment until his removal to New York in 1850, when he was elected cashier of the Mechanics Banking Association. Four years afterwards he was elected President, and for the past twelve years acted in that capacity. As a gentleman of strict integrity in his business relations, and as a kind hearted and charitable man in private life, Mr. Fonda was favorably known to the community, and his death will be sincerely regretted by the numerous friends he possessed. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Golden Gate Commandery hall in Sutter street. It will be in charge of Golden Gate Commandery No. 18 of the Knights Templar. Incineration will be private, at Cypress Lawn cemetery. The San Francisco Call, May 16, 1912]

[William Thomas Fonda. California and Californians, Vol. Four. Chicago: Lewis Publishing, 1932, Hunt, Rockwell D., ed. William Thomas Fonda,who died at his home at 3011 Sacramento Street, San Francisco, in 1912, at the age of eighty-one, was a California forty-niner, and a man whose career brought him in touch with many of the interesting phases of California's early life. He was born at Poughkeepsie, New York, in 1830. He had a public school education and as a boy went to work for an uncle, Charles Kelsey, who lived in New York City, a man of wealth and business prominence, the builder of the first grain elevator in New York and owner of a fleet of freight carrying ships. William Thomas Fonda early earned the confidence of his uncle by his evident business ability, and in 1849 his uncle showed his great trust by putting him in command of one of his ships, the George S. Emory, and sending it with a cargo to San Francisco. The boat arrived in San Francisco Bay August 1, 1849, after a voyage of 190 days around Cape Horn. Mr. Fonda first pitched his tent back of the present site of the Palace Hotel, in what was then known as Pleasant Valley. Leaving the boat in charge of one of the officers, he went to the Mokelumne Hills. He then found that the officer whom he had left in charge had sold the cargo and had also gone to the mines. Being relieved of his responsibility, he decided to stay in San Francisco. He bought a restaurant at the foot of Telegraph Hill, but this business was not to his liking and he then went to the mines of the Yuba district. In 1852 he and Joseph DeBell opened a jewelry store in Marysville. The business was completely wiped out by fire in 1854. He and his partner then opened another store at Downieville, and in 1859 reestablished himself in business at Marysville, where he remained until another fire, in 1861, destroyed his business. He then returned to San Francisco, acquired the property at 3011 Sacramento Street, and lived there for nearly half a century. He was for many years president of the Golden Gate Advertising Company. At the time of his death he was a director of the Society of California Pioneers. He was one of the earliest Master Masons of California, having been elected master of Marysville Lodge No. 7 in 1856. For many years he had his membership in California Lodge No. 1, A. F. and A. M., California Chapter No. 5, Royal Arch Masons, Golden Gate Commandery No. 16, Knights Templar, of which he was recorder for sixteen years. This Commandery had charge of his funeral. Mr. Fonda married in 1853 Eleanor Middleton, who had come to California the year before. She survived him. There were six children, one of whom, William Middleton Fonda, died before the death of the father. Charles Patterson Fonda is associated with the Anglo London and Paris Bank of San Francisco and married Mabel Emmons, of that city. Anna Elizabeth is Mrs. Lewis V. Hentrich. Harry Stuart Fonda, widely known as a western artist, married in Paris, May McCloud, of Worcester, Massachusetts, who died, leaving him two daughters, Helen, who died in infancy, and Elizabeth Ledger. Walter Gibbs Fonda married Elizabeth Park, of San Francisco, and their children are Marjorie, Julie and Eleanor. The daughter Helen Kelsey Fonda is the widow of William Adolph Walker. Mr. Walker was a merchant in Reno, Nevada. Mrs. Walker, of 730 Sacramento Street, was for eleven years treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary of the California Pioneers and for eight years treasurer of the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. She is an active member of the Woman's Club.]; [Buck, Franklin Agustus. A Yankee Trader in the Gold Rush - One of our party came very near losing his character. Poor Fonda went ashore with a thin linen coat on. When we came to go up stairs to our box, the man in the passage stopped him. What for we couldn't find out for some time. At last we took the hint. Nothing but black coats would pass. In vain we tried to tell him by signs that Fonda had better coats on board; that he was a gentleman; that we were Americans and didn't know the rules. 'Twas no go. We finally found the man from whom we bought the tickets, who could speak some English and he got him in on condition that he would keep in the shady side of the box. Luckily the rest of us were in full dress. One of the Californians came into the pit with a linen coat on and they actually put him out. So you see that it is coats not men here. Poor Fonda won't get over that this voyage.]

[According to his obituary, William Thomas Fonda (1830-1912) was cremated at Cypress Lawn Cemetery in Colma and then interred at the IOOF San Francisco Cemetery. His wife, Eleanor (1837-1916) was probably handled the same. Several of their children were also cremated and some show initial interment at IOOF. In 1933, 26,000 bodies from the Oddfellows Cemetery in San Francisco were moved to Greenlawn Cemetery in Colma. There are no records of any Fonda interments at Cypress Lawn, so until verified, the five Fonda family members previously shown at Cypress Lawn have been moved to Greenlawn.]

According to the allegations in the complaint he and his wife owned a house a lot in Glasco which they deeded to their son on March 7, 1888, at his request. The consideration named in the deed was $1,500, but the money was not paid, the actual consideration being instead that the son was to care for and support his parents during the balance of their lives, allowing them to have for their private use whatever rooms they should select in the house, furnish them a washer-woman, clothing, medicines and medical attendance. All of this they allege the defendant refuses and has refused to do. Therefore, the plaintiffs asks that the property be reconveyed to them. Brinnier & Newcomb are their attorneys. [He Left Fortune To His Bride - Now Niece Would Break The Will in New York Courts - New York, May 21 (1920) - The suit of Miss Florence Durant, of Saratoga, to break the will of her uncle, Abraham G. Fonda, who died July 11 in Brooklyn, two weeks after his marriage to Mrs. Rhoda Hunt, opened in the Brooklyn Supreme Court Thursday. In her affidavit, Miss Durant says that her uncle was 76 years old when he died; that he was a cigar manufacturer in Brooklyn, where he accumulated a fortune of $100,000. Mrs. Fonda is just 40. The affidavit alleges that the wedding took place June 28, 1919, and that immediately afterwards Fonda was assisted by two men to the Terminal Building, just across the street, where in a lawyer's office a will was drawn up leaving his entire estate consisting of $50,000 in cash and $50,000 in bonds to his bride. At the time of his death two weeks later Fonda's relatives asked District Attorney Lewis to investigate, and Medical Examiner Wuerst; after an autopsy, certified that death was due to heart disease. The first witness was Miss Mary Phelan, of Passaic, N. J., who testified that some months before Mrs. Fonda married, she assisted the witness at the latter's apartment, in Brooklyn. At that time, Miss Phelan said Mrs. Fonda, then Mrs. Hunt, said: "I know a nice old man who wants to make love to me. He has lots of money. If he does it will cost him all he has. I will introduce you to him and maybe you can get some also." Miss Phelan said she declined the introduction. Gettysburg Times, 1920-05-21]

[Kindness Termed A Fraud - Court Intimates He Will Decide for Plaintiffs In Fonda Will Suit - At the conclusion of the suit brought by the relatives of Abraham Fonda, the 77-year-old Civil War veteran, to annul his marriage to Mrs. Rhoda Hunt Fonda and set aside his will made on the day of hIs marriage. Justice Stephen Callaghan, in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn yesterday, intimated that he would give a decision for the plaintiffs. "It seems to me," said the Justice, "that Fonda was unduly influenced, by indirection, and that the defendant, now his widow, entered into what was a clever scheme to gain possession of his property. I believe Fonda at all times was in his right mind, but I think also that this woman, in her relatlons to him, was not actuated entirely by love, but that her kindness really constituted a fraud." Justice Callaghan ordered both sides to submit briefs. Published: May 22, 1920, The New York Times]

Fonda, a descendant of the New York Fonda Family, whose ancestor Major Jelles Fonda had purchased the Mohawk Valley land ... where the town of Fonda now stands." (Seymour's dates are - or appear to be - 1837-1897.) - Additionally, in correspondence in the archives at Notre Dame, Seymour mentions being married on June 2, 1888. Although Mary Alice Seymour was Catholic and had planned to be married by a priest, the marriage date was moved up because Abraham Fonda's sister was ill and the couple wanted to go to Saratoga; consequently, they were married in his church. (She was hoping to convert him to Catholicism, but there's no additional information on that aspect.) per Deidre Johnson]

[Dallas Belle of 90's Dies in California - Mrs. J. E. Schneider Founded Cultural Institutions in City - Mrs. Jules Edouard Schneider, 85, Dallas belle of Gay Nineties and mother of Jules E. Schneider and Mrs. Edward H. Cary, died of a chronic heart ailment in Los Angeles Sunday. Dallas friends learned of her death Monday morning. Founder of half a dozen Dallas cultural institutions, including the Dallas Art Association and the Public Library, she lived at Melrose Court. She was visiting Mrs. J. L. Wortham of Los Angeles at the time of her death. Her husband, the late Jules Edouard Schneider, came to Dallas ahead of the railroads and set up a wholesale grocery store. The site of his first business is now included in the Sanger Bros. structure. Husband Helped Found Bank - He helped organize the first volunteer fire department here in the early 70's and served as its first president. He was an early-day president of the State Fair. One of the organizers of the old City national Bank, which became the present-day First National Bank, he served as its vice-president. He was one of the men who brought electric lights to Dallas, and one of the early presidents of the Dallas Gas Company. They were married in 1879, Mrs. Schneider coming from Louisville, Ky., where she was born Florence Belle Fonda on Feb. 22, 1854. Their old home, three acres at Ross and Akard, was one of the society centers of Dallas during the Nineties. It stood directly at the head of Akard; that street runs across a part of their former site yard. Mrs. Schneider at that time was known as one of the most beautiful women in Texas. By the standards of pioneer women, she was also a city builder. She organized an early day nursery and served as its finest president. She was a charter member of the Dallas Woman's Club, and organizer and long-time president of the Old Ladies Musical Club, charter member of the Shakespeare Club, member of the Dallas Pen Women and an early chairman of the Dallas Symphony Orchestra Society. Placed Memorial in Library - A marble fountain which stands in the lobby of the Public Library she gave as a memorial to her husband after his death. She was one of the founders of the library. She had been a member of the St. Matthews Cathedral for half a century, and she was once assistant director of the choir there. Funeral services for Mrs. Schneider will be held in Dallas, probably Saturday. Survivors are four children, Mrs. Cary and Mr. Schneider, Mrs. Leon Blum of New York City, and Mrs. Bruce Morgan of Seattle; ten grand-children and a great-grandchild. 1939-02-28 Dallas Morning News]

[1875 Business Notices - Brighton Township: Fonda, L. B., Genl farmer, Settled in twp. in Nov 1832. Frac Dist No. 5.]; [Livingston County History, Village of Brighton - Settlements and Settlers - Another early settler was Lewis B. Fonda, who came from Plattsburg, N.Y., in October, 1832, and entered the west half of the southwest quarter of section 32, and still occupies this ground with the additions he has made to it. He arrived first at Detroit in the old steamer "Superior," and from there walked to Ann Arbor, where he remained five years. At the expiration of that time he removed to his land, having in 1834 erected upon it a frame house, said to have been the first in the county, which was at the time regarded as a dwelling of considerable pretension. The timber with which it was built was drawn from Ann Arbor, a distance of eighteen miles, with ox-teams. At the time that Mr. Fonda entered his land, the only near neighbor he had was a man named Cornish, who had preceded him and entered 160 acres across the lake in the township of Green Oak, which was subsequently owned by George W. Walker. The government road had previously been surveyed, and caused much excitement among lookers for land, who discovered in the forests lying adjacent to the road a fine opportunity for speculation. Mr. Fonda on his arrival enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Stephen Lee, who had previously located in Green Oak. The country was then almost entirely unbroken, and numerous Indian wigwams dotted the banks of the lake now known as Fonda's Lake. In 1833 a man was placed upon the farm to split rails, and the house having been built the following year, the family of Mr. Fonda, on their arrival in 1835, found the place in something like a habitable condition, though it was not until two years later that they made it a permanent home, meanwhile residing in Ann Arbor.]

His initials on one census are Charles A.T. and in the Avery genealogies he is Charles A. - so I am pretty convinced that his full name is Charles Augustus Thorp Glen. Charles Augustus Thorp was the husband of Susan Avery, sister of Laurette and Mary. Susan was the oldest sister and was married in 1829, well before her sisters had their children. Charles is a rare name among the descendants of Abraham Avery, so it most likely comes from another line marrying into the family. (per Shirley York Anderson) >> www.fonda.org <<

Daily Journal of Friday, Sept. 29th, contains the following: At 5 o'clock last evening at the old homestead at the end of South Street, which she and her husband have occupied since 1850, there passed away one of the early and honored pioneers of this city. Mrs. Cornelius Fonda, in her eightieth year, from old age, hastened by an attack of fever. The deceased whose maiden name was Esther Moe, was born at Pleasant Valley, Dutchess Co., N. Y., in November, 1814, where, at the age of scarce sixteen, she was united in marriage to Cornelius Fonda, born at Kinderhook, N. Y., in 1809, and who was then working at his trade, blacksmithing at Pleasant Valley. They continued to reside in Dutchess County, where four sons were born to them, until the spring of 1838, when with their two surviving sons, John M., and William H. Fonda, then aged respectively 6 and 4 years, they removed to this city, and have continuously resided here since. On their first arrival here they moved into a house located on the present site of the Independent Congregational Church, Main Street, and in 1850 moved in the present homestead, a farm, which was recently platted in city lots. Of the family circle, this is the first link broken since their coming to this city, and the long and happy wedded life of this aged couple is a marked evidence against the theory held by some that early marriages are not advisable. Though for several years past the deceased has been a confirmed invalid, it is with sincere regret and sorrow the family accept the inevitable parting. Her memory will be remembered and revered by all of our older residents, many of whom have known the true qualities of heart and hand shown in the years past, when the early pioneer days called constantly for a helping band, in sickness and other trials. [Jeremiah D. Fonda, 89, died yesterday morning at 8:10 o'clock at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Sue Fonda Scholze, at 1017 St. Elmo Ave, St. Elmo. Mr Fonda leaves two daughters, Mrs Sue Fonda Scholze, and Mrs. Lottie I. Boyce, both of Chattanooga, and one son, Henry J. Fonda. Mrs. Vernie Spencer, of Chattanooga, and Leonard T. Boyce, of Macon GA and other grandchildren, and three great grandchildren. Mr. Fonda was born in Fonda, NY, but moved with his parents to Burlington, VT in his boyhood days, and spent his young manhood there. He was of a hardy, rugged disposition, and in the early fifties went to the Cripple Creek gold mining regions, where he spent two years. About the year 1875, Mr. Fonda, together with his family, moved to Chattanooga and entered the contracting and building business, which he followed up to the time his strength failed, and was well known to the contractors and builders of the early days of the city. Mr. Fonda was a loving husband and father, a splendid citizen, and won the love and respect of a large circle of friends. Funeral services will be held at the funeral parlors of the Jack O'Donohue company, Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Dr. J. W. Bachman officiating. The following are requested to act as pallbearers: Ernest Spencer, Herbert Spencer, Rov Blevins, Richard Fry, David Jones, and Edward Birdsell. Note - Sandra Stuart wrote, on 3/3/2010: I will attach a copy of Jeremiah D's obit. There are some questionable items in it. I think the family had moved to Chattanooga by 1873, instead of 1876, because the youngest child is listed in the 1880 census as being born in 1873 in TN. Also the Cripple Creek gold rush didn't happen until the 1890s! Perhaps fifties is a typo. I find it strange that Charlotte is not mentioned but, since she died in 1888, I guess not many people would have remembered her. Chattanooga Times, June 10, 1922]

Notes for Charlotte A. HAMILTON: b. IRE (In the 1880 census, Charlotte's birthplace is listed as Ireland, in 1860, it was NY, and in the 1890 census, her son Henry reports "at sea." The funeral was held from the home yesterday at 2 o'clock. Interment in Evergreen cemetery, Fonda, N. Y. Ellen Fonda Argersinger was born September 3, 1849, and has passed to the other life. We, her neighbors, friends and relatives, feel that she still lives for we have the assurance that God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth on him should not perish but have everlasting life. She spent her years almost entirely on the farm, situated two and a half miles north of the village which bears the name of her paternal ancester, Douw Fonda, "A Patriot," from whom she was descended through Lieut-Col. Adam Fonda and Brig. Gen. Henry Fonda, her grandfather. Her parents, Henry Douw Fonda and Phoebe Dillenbeck, the former a grandson of Marx Dockstader, one of the early Palatinates and a Revolutionary hero. She was indeed worthy of such parentage for she was diligent, courageous and loyal, giving her life in unceasing devotion to her church, home and family. Her absence will be keenly felt by not only her immediate relatives but by her neighbors and a large circle of friends. Gloversville NY Morning Herald, Wednesday, January 19, 1927]

[Douw Henry and Henry Douw Fonda were twins; prior to Henry Douw's death in 1891, they had the distinction of being the oldest male twins in the country (81 yrs)]; [On September 13, 1833, Douw Henry Fonda was appointed a "Sergeant," under the command of Daniel Moore, in the 34th Regiment, 11th Brigade, 14th Division of the NY

State Militia. As such he served seven years. He was exempted from military duty on November 10, 1840; his Certification was signed by his older brother, Brigadier-General Peter Henry Fonda (1802-1874)]

[The Albert Fonda Farm, originally 233 acres on Fonda-Johnstown Road (Rt. 30A), 1 mi. NW of Fonda, was occupied by several Fonda generations, ending with Albert Dow Fonda's death in 1962; Douw Henry Fonda (1809-95) soon after his marriage (1832) to Ann Veeder (1810-90), daughter of Albert Veeder, son of Col. Abraham Veeder, took up residence in the small stone house then standing on the farm willed to him by his father, becoming the third successive owner since his patentee great grandfather, Douw Fonda "The Patriot" to whom it had been granted in 1748. His family grew rapidly and the stone house became the foundation of the second home, a frame structure which Douw and Ann began to replace by a still larger one in 1848, which was completed in 1856. All the timbers used in the building on this farm except those used in the four-story laying-house, built in 1935, and in the remodeling of the homestead, in 1936, came from trees grown there; all the foundation stones were gathered in the fields, except those cut from the limestone outcrop at Stone Arabia. These were hauled to the Fonda Farm on home-made wagons drawn by teams of oxen and were loaded and unloaded manually. The huge stones forming the front porch and the smaller ones in the wall along the highway were secured in the same area. All the first fences were of stone gathered in the fields and carefully piled, one upon another to a height of about three feet! Trees were cut and stumps were removed by hand; seed was planted; crops were harvested by hand and stored without the aid of machines. It was during the earliest years of Douw Henry's grandchildren that machines began to replace the endless back breaking hours of labor on farms in the Mohawk Valley. When, in 1848, the present farm home was begun, the first frame house was moved to a site, south, and became "The Tenant House;" it was burned during the summer of 1898, and replaced before the fall.]

[In 1852, when the Fonda-Johnston Road became a two-lane highway (one lane plank, and the other dirt) Douw Henry lost the sight of his left eye by the same dynamite blast which killed his brother Adam, and which widened the roadbed through the slate outcrop between his home and the lands south of it. The present road was built on the former during 1910 and 1911]; [In Memory of Douw H. Fonda, who died at his home in Fonda, Nov. 11th (1895), aged 86 years. At the death of this most estimable gentleman there has passed away the last one of his generation and an honored member of one of the oldest families in the state. Mr. Fonda was born where the hotel Roy now stands, in the village of Fonda, July 21st 1809. He was the twin brother of the late Henry Fonda, who died Mar. 12th, 1891, and the son of General Henry Fonda, an officer in the war of 1812. He was truly a child of Nature--"His frame had ne'er been bent, by wasting pain, 'till time and toil, his iron strength had spent." Maintaining up to the last few weeks of his life a remarkably healthy appearance, and despite his age had never used glasses. His habits were strictly temperate, his principles beyond reproach. He died in the home where more than 60 years of his life had been spent, ministered to by those of his loved and loving children who were able to be with him. He leaves at the old homestead his son, Albert, and his daughters, Annette and Alida; Veeder Fonda of Gloversville, and Mrs. Sarah Snell and Mrs. John Nellis of Geneva. May the mantle of his many virtues fall upon those who mourn for him.]

[The current issue of the Montgomery County Republican contains the following announcement of the death of Mrs. Isaac M. Davis, which was briefly chronicled in these columns at the time: The death of Mrs. I. M. Davis, of Fonda, which occurred Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, after an illness extending over many weeks, while not entirely unexpected, was unlooked for as soon by the friends outside of the family circle. Her death was due to a cancerous growth in the stomach. Mrs. Davis was conscious of all about her until the last and bore her sufferings with Christian fortitude. Her age was 72 years. Mrs. Davis was born north of the village of Fonda and was the daughter of Adam Fonda. Early in life she was married to Mr. Davis, and her life was spent in the village of Fonda with but few intermissions, surrounded by her interesting family, and friends, to whom she was devoted. It was her principal aim in life to do for her family, and to be surrounded by them, and she was fully rewarded for her faithful care by their deep affection and highest regard and esteem. Her counsel to them was golden. Mrs. Davis was an excellent Christian woman, and was prominent in all good works and in social circles as well. She possessed marked force of character and firm principles, and enjoyed a large circle of friends. Mrs. Davis will be much missed in the village in which she resided, for she was a woman of energy and executive force. The funeral took place from the family home on Broadway, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, and was attended by a large concourse of friends several being unable to gain admittance to the house. The Rev. Dr. DeBaun, pastor of the Reformed church, which Mrs. Davis joined early in life, officiated. His remarks were appropriate and comforting to the friends. The Rev. Washington Frothingham, an old friend of the family, assisted, making brief but most excellent remarks and the closing prayer. The floral tributes were very handsome and there was a large number of them. The Industrial School, of Fonda, sent choice roses. The interment took place at Evergreen cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Davis celebrated quietly last year their golden wedding. Mrs. Davis was a prominent member and one of the vice-presidents of the Starin Benevolent and Industrial Association, and a prominent worker in the Industrial School. She is survived by her husband, five daughters, Mrs. George F. Mills, Mrs. J. C. Boyd, Mrs. Everett Kennedy, Mrs. Emmet Noxon, Miss Marion Davis, and one son. E. Corning Davis. Two children, one daughter and one young son, died some years ago. The bearers at the funeral were members of the family, J. C. Boyd, Emmet Noxon, Everett Kennedy, E. Corning Davis and Nathan Fonda, a nephew of the deceased. The Rev. J. Collings Caton of Brooklyn, a former pastor and relative of Mr. Davis, was present and officiated, pronouncing a well merited eulogy on the departed. He was assisted by the Rev. W. J. Lonsdale and the Rev. W. Frothingham, both of whom also paid fitting tributes to Mr. Davis' memory. The final offerings, which were beautiful and profuse, included a handsome piece from the consistory of the Reformed church, of which Mr. Davis had for many years been a valued member. The bearers were Everett Kennedy, W. E. Noxon, E. C. Davis, Hamilton Boyd, Ralph Davis and Corning Davis, sons-in-law, son and grandsons of Mr. Davis. [Canajoharie, Feb. 26 - The remains of Douw H. Fonda of Albany were brought to this village today for interment in the Fonda vault, in Prospect Hill cemetery. Mr. Fonda was one of Albany's best known druggists and at one time was a resident of this village. Mr. Fonda was ill but a few months, and only a few weeks ago was carried in a helpless condition from a burning building. Mr. Fonda was born at Fonda, September 10, 1831. He received a common school education and then engaged in the railroad business. He soon went to New York as a clerk, but again took up railroading and was for a time ticket agent at Palatine Bridge under the late Webster Wagner. In 1853 he became teller at the Spraker Bank, in this village, and two years latter, became its cashier. He held this position until 1865, when he went to Albany and formed the Wholesale drug firm of Fonda & Gagley. Mr. Fonda became sole proprietor in 1877, and in 1879 he established the firm of D. H. Fonda & Co. In 1899 the D. H. Fonda Drug Company was incorporated and Mr. Fonda has been its president ever since. He has not been active in business for a year. Mr. Fonda was a member of the Holland Society of New York. He served two terms as school commissioner. Mr. Fonda was a member of Temple Lodge. No. 14, F. and A. M. He was twice married. His first wife was Miss Mary A. [1915 Yearbook of the Holland Society of NY List of Deceased Members; President of the D. H. Fonda Drug Company, Albany. Engaged in the railroad business, he was a ticket agent at Palatine Bridge under the late Hon. Webster Wagner. In September 1853, he became teller of the Spraker Bank, Canajoharie, and two years later was made cashier. In 1885, D. H. Fonda presented a pass from the Mount McGregor Railroad to NY Governor (future US President) Grover Cleveland. The pass was graciously returned with appreciation; from "Albany Illustrated": Douw H. Fonda Drug Co. - Wholesale drug business conducted by the above-named corporation is the outgrowth of that inaugurated in 1809 by Joseph and Thomas Russell, making this one of the oldest trade landmarks, as it is one of the most important commercial enterprises of Albany. In 1841 the business passed into the hands of Abram Puling, who, in 1865, was succeeded by Fonda & Bagley, and in 1879, the firm composed of Messrs. Douw H. Fonda, William B. French and Henry R. Wright became proprietors, and conducted the business on a scale of large proportions until January 21, 1889, when the company was organized and incorporated under the laws of New York. Mr. Fonda, the President of the company, was, for twelve years previous to his embarking in the drug business in 1865, the cashier of the Spraker Bank at Canajoharie, and his associates are among the most influential and successful business men of Albany. The premises comprise the large four-story brick building, 35 x 167 feet in dimensions, at Nos. 70 and 72 State street, extending through to Norton street in the rear, affording excellent facilities for receipt and shipment of merchandise, and the establishment is the largest and most complete wholesale depot for the supply of drugs, physicians and surgeons' requisites, perfumers and painters' stock, in New York, outside the metropolis. The trade of the house, which is exclusively wholesale, extends to all parts of Western and Northern New York, Eastern Massachusetts and Vermont, and is especially heavy among the retail druggists of Albany and vicinity, the sales aggregating a large amount and requiring the employment of twenty-five salesmen, clerks, porters, etc. The leading specialties include complete lines of pure and reliable drugs and medicines, and proprietary remedies, carefully selected in the best markets by the company's own buyers, besides chemicals, fluid extracts, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes, special pharmaceutical preparations, perfumeries, toilet goods, druggists' sundries, paints, oils, varnishes and painters' supplies generally. The company, under the present style and title, was organized in 1889 to succeed the firm of Douw H. Fonda & Company, and was, the same year, incorporated. With adequate facilities for their extensive trade, and with its affairs under the able management of some of the most progressive, representative business men of Albany, the old-time prestige of the house has been steadily maintained, and the trade is rapidly increasing and extending, and the concern is recognized in trade circles as one of the principal commercial enterprises of the capital city.]

Mrs. Cushney was born in Fonda September 24, 1833, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tunis Fonda, and most of her life was spent in this, her native town until about fifteen years ago when she went to reside with her daughter. Mrs. Cushney was a woman of beautiful personality, possessed of rare abilities that made her a valuable member in social circles, and her domestic facilities gave to the home an attractiveness that was enjoyed by her family and the large circle of friends she so graciously welcomed at all times. She was a member of the Zion Episcopal church and when health permitted an active worker for its welfare. She was also a member of its auxilliary and Woman's guild, the Fortnightly club and the Starin Industrial and Benevolent association. In 1853 she was married to Mr. Cushney and thirteen children blessed this union, but only two survive, Mrs. Charles R. Tinker of Springfield, Mass., and Mrs. Peter Brinton of Charleston, West Virginia, and three grandchildren. She is also survived by one step-brother, Isaac Fonda, and two step-sisters, the Misses Mary and Gertrude Fonda of this place. The funeral will be held in Springfield Friday afternoon. [John Philip Fonde had beautiful handwriting. He seems to have invented some form of short-hand and was skilled as a record keeper. He lived in Alexandria and went into Washington to work, recording the proceedings of Congress (according to a letter from his granddaughter, Elizabeth Fonde, to her niece Lydia Kilvborn). He sometimes took his young son Charles Henry with him so that he heard the voices of Clay, Calhoun and Webster. John P. Fonde was an officer in the Columbia Guards. C.H. Fonde remembered him all dressed up with a sword clanking and remembered seeing him acting as a guard of honor on gala occasions. He died quite suddenly on board a ship going from Baltimore to New Orleans. There is a letter from his brother Charles to his wife Elizabeth telling of the sad news that the ship arrived without him. Family legend has it that he died in a duel. The letter from Charles to Elizabeth only says that he died after a very short illness and was buried at sea. Ref: Ancestors of Charles Henry Fonde website]; [Who Is J.P. Fonde? by Lita Solis-Cohen (...) At a Butterfields auction on December 3, 2001, in San Francisco, Stuart Feld of Hirschl & Adler Galleries, New York City, bought lot 1502, a Classical klismos-form side chair with painted decoration and an upholstered tablet and seat. It was incorrectly listed as Baltimore. Feld asked his daughter, Liz, to research it. "We knew the chair was from a set...that Jimmy Biddle acquired in the 1960's from the Keene House in Bristol, Pennsylvania," said Liz Feld on the phone. Of the ten chairs, Biddle kept five; four are now on display at Andalusia, the Biddle family estate on the Delaware that is now a house museum. "Between 1963 and 1985 Biddle gave some away: one to the Met, one to Winterthur, one to the Chicago Art Institute, one to the Philadelphia Museum of Art, and one to the San Francisco Museum of Art." (...) When deMuzio turned the chair over he found a signature that Kirtley identified as J.P Fonde in a neat, sure hand in red ink on a green-gray primer coat on the front seat rail. "Do you realize this is only the second piece of Classical furniture known with the signature of the chair ornamenter?" asked Kirtley. "There is one settee at the Baltimore Museum of Art signed by Thomas Renshaw, the maker, and John Barnhart, the ornamenter." (...) Armed with a name, Kirtley searched Philadelphia directories and found John P. Fonde listed as a sign painter at 47 Chestnut Street between Front and 2nd in 1819. His brother, Andre, was a drayman in Philadelphia as early as 1814 and ran a boarding house. A call to the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts (MESDA), the rich archives of southern craftsmen, added the facts that John P. Fonde was working as a sign and ornamental painter on Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D.C., from 1818 to 1822 and was advertising for chair painters, gilders, and japanners in Washington newspapers. He also "polished mahogany with an Italian polish." MESDA's research indicated that according to the American and Commercial Daily Advertiser of Baltimore, in March 1820 John P. Fonde married Miss Eliza Stewart of Washington. Fonde did not stay in the nation's capital for the rest of his life. He appears in the Baltimore directories for 1833 and 1834 at Lexington and Charles Street. This ornamental painter appears to have moved from city to city, suggesting that construction and design, rather than painted ornament, may be the surer way to identify the place of manufacture of painted Classical furniture. "More research must be done," said Alexandra Kirtley. She seems determined to get on with it. By publicizing Fonde's name, Kirtley hopes others will find signatures on painted furniture. Her study of painted furniture in the Middle Atlantic states will in time be published in the Chipstone American Furniture journal. Stay tuned. 2002 by Maine Antique Digest http://www.maineantiquedigest.com/articles/jun02/jpfo0602.htm]

They claimed to be related to the royal Stuarts but we have no hard evidence of that connection. She was supposed to have received a heavy gold chain from one of her sea-faring brothers. Her only son Charles Henry was devoted to her and often referred to her fine, intelligent eyes (according to the letter by his daughter Elizabeth). When her husband died she was left with two young children to raise in Washington so she turned to needlework and keeping boarders. Charles, her son, recorded her death in his Bible as October 2, 1856, age 70. I believe the age was miscalculated and that she was only 60 at her death. Otherwise, she would have been about 10 years older than her husband (who I estimate was born about 1795). Ref: Ancestors of Charles Henry Fonde website] >> www.fonda.org <<

[Rock County, WI Biographies: John P. Fonda, farmer, Sec. 11; P.O. Shopiere; born in Montgomery Co., NY, April 8, 1812; son of Peter Fonda, a prominent and wealthy farmer in that county; his father was a brave soldier in the Revolutionary War, and was taken prisoner; Peter Fonda died in 1861 in NY; was about 75 years old; John R. (P.) Fonda came to Turtle, Wis., in June, 1845, and settled on one and a quarter acres, then bought forty acres, and through industry and frugality, now has 300 acres under good cultivation; has fine barns and general stock; was burned out in 1875, and lost about $2,500, but has built up again. Married on Oct. 18, 1844, in Montgomery

Co., NY, Margaret Hilts, daughter of Capt. John H., of old Dutch stock; have had five children - Giles, Peter, Margaret, Ann and Nettie, all living at home. Mr. Fonda gave his aid and moral support to the cause of the great North at the time of the recent unpleasantness. Taken from "The History of Rock County, Wis." (c)1879, p. 803.]

[The Gazette, Janesville, WI - July 12, 1878 - Shot By A Constable - A man Who Wouldn't be Arrested is Brought Down by a Bullet - Full Particulars of the Shooting - A few days ago Justice Balch issued a warrant for the arrest of J. P. Fonda, who lives near Shopiere, charging him with assaulting a boy named Justin Curry. This warrant was placed in the hands of Constable J. Shimeal of La Prairie, who went to Fonda's house this morning to arrrest him. (..long article..) Summary: Constable Shimeal had a warrant to arrest Fonda for the alleged assault on the boy. Reportedly, Fonda fled his home and was hunted down by the Constable. When cornered, Fonda approached the Constable with a revolver and a club and tried to fire the revolver, but couldn't. After repeated warnings to disarm, the Constable shot Fonda once in the abdomin, which was not fatal. According to Fonda, the Constable was not fully appointed and was acting out a territorial feud. Fonda sued him for $200 for trespassing and for destroying some burdocks. A trial ensued.]

[R016c] A memorial and biographical history of the counties of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Ventura, California: J. W. Hendricks, a farmer of Lompoe, was among the first settlers there. He was born in Dayton, Ohio. In 1823, his father, Aaron M. Hendricks, was by trade a carpenter, and a native of Tennessee. In 1812 he was in the battle of New Orleans as Sergeant, under General Jackson. In 1837 he emigrated to Indiana, where he followed his trade. The subject of this sketch lived at home until twenty-two years of age, and worked at farming. In 1846 he was married, at West Point, Tippecanoe County, to Esther A. Wagner, a native of Ohio. Mr. Hendricks then rented a farm of about 150 acres and followed farming up to 1865, when he crossed the plains for California. P. W. Fondy was in command of the train, which was very large, and there was much sickness in the company. They were five months on the way, and came to California by Truckee. Mr. Hendricks then went to Marysville, where he bought 120 acres and farmed for four years, then going to Hollister, where he rented 600 acres, and carried on general firming up to the fall of 1874; when he came to Lompoe and bought sixty-eight acres where he now resides. Land was then covered with brush, and they could shoot wild-cats, deer end coyotes from the house. The land is now nicely cleared and under a high state of cultivation; mustard, beans and barley are now his chief crops, and he also raises a fine grade of horses. He has three children, all married. After many years of hardship Mr. Hendricks fully enjoys his present comfortable home.]; [Oakland Tribune - Monday, May 04, 1896 - Oakland, California - Forcible Arguments - P. W. Fonda Places His Fist Over A. D. Spearman's Optics. The Wrangle Arose During a Row Over Some Attached Goods - P. W. Fonda of 1728 and 1732 Seventh street was in fighting humor this morning, and, according to the story told by Chief Deputy District Attorney Church, left the impress of his knuckles above the left eye of a salesman named A. D. Spearman. The informant was Spearman himself, who stated that Fonda was about to cover him with a shotgun when the later's son interfered and perhaps averted bloodshed. The cause of this trouble was an attachment which was issued in San Francisco against some goods which were sold to Joseph Feld by tho Provo Cotton Mills, which Spearman represents. The goods are valued at over $200 and have not been paid for. They are now in one of Fonda's stores on Seventh street, and, despite the attachment, Fonda declares they belong to him. He says he traded some property for them with Feld in a certain part of the State. The attachment, therefore, was decidedly displeasing to Fonda. When Spearman appeared on the scene this morning, he found that the store in which the goods were stored was closed, while the other one was opened. Some words panned between Spearman and Fonda, and, according to Spearman's story, without provocation, Fonda struck Spearman over fhe left temple with his fist. He then seized a shotgun. It is alleged, for the purpose of using it on the salesman, but Fonda's son interfered. The angry man attempted to push his son aside, stating at the same time that he knew how to use the gun. The weapon, however, was taken away before he could do any harm, whereupon Spearman hastened to the District Attorney's office, where he lodged a complaint against Fonda. Joseph Feld, who, Spearman says, owns the goods in controversy, formerly resides in Alameda and more recently in this city. He is now in jail in San Francisco, having been committed for contempt of court for neglecting to pay alimony to his wife. It is said that he owes $400 in this way, and that at the expiration of a five days sentence he is liable to be again arrested on refusal to satisfy his wife's claims.]

[Frank M. Fonda, Superintendent of the main stem ef the Georgia Central Railroad, was shot yesterday on board a tug by J. J. Abrams, a prominent lawyer of Savannah. A party had gone to Tybee Beach on tbe tug. While crossing the sound Fonda left the party in the pilot-house and went back to the cabin. Half an hour later be returned. As he started up tbe ladder leading from the deck to the pilot-house ha called to Abrams, who was leaning out of the window, "Jack, I'm coming." Abrams laughed and replied, "No, you're not." "Yes, I am," Fonda said, and climbed up to the window. Abrams picked up a Winchester rifle which lay on the seat of the pilot-house, pointed it at Fonda, not knowing that it was loaded, and pulled the trigger. The weapon was discharged, and Fonda fell back on the deck dead. The rifle had been loaded by Fonda soon after the tug left the city. The Evening Post, New York NY, Monday, April 17, 1887.]

C. Smith, grand captain general of the grand commandery of Tennessee, escorted the Henderson, Ky., commandery of Knights Templar, under command of Bernard J. Witt, past general master of the grand lodge of Kentucky and past grand commander of the Henderson commandery, to Chattanooga depot, this morning to receive the remains of Frank M. Fonda, killed by accident near Savannah on Sunday. Mr. Fonda's remains were brought here on the baggage car of the Central Georgia railroad at 11:45 a.m. The car was draped in mourning. William H. Rose, of Palestine commandery No. 7, of Savannah, acted as the escort. Three beautiful floral designs accompanied the remains. A large number of railroad and other friends assembled at the depot and awaited the arrival of the train. The body was taken to the undertaking establishment of W. R. Cornelius, where it was viewed by a large number of friends, and subsequently taken to the residence of Mr. John Harriford, on Line street. The funeral occurred at 3 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church as was very largely attended by the Knights Templar, Masons, railroad men and friends generally. Rev. Dr. C. H. It is but one short month ago that we were called upon to write of the terrible death of a brakeman who was crushed beneath the cars in the Athens Railroad yard and now another has met the same awful fate. About 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a brakeman named Walter Fonda, while engaged in coupling cars in the Athens yard, caught his foot in a frog and was run over by the cars but a short distance from the spot where the unfortunate man was killed on the 7th of August. The car wheels passed over both legs near the body and it is supposed injured him internally besides, although he was not instantly killed. As soon as practicable the injured man was conveyed to his boarding house and Dr. Wheeler of Athens village, was summoned, and Dr. H. Lyle Smith, of this city, was also sent for, but being absent from home could not attend. Medical assistance proved of no avail, and after hours of suffering the unfortunate man expired at 8 o'clock this morning. [Pioneer Woman of Utah is Dead - Remains to be Interred in Salt Lake - Provo, Dec. 6 - Catherine Fonda Harris, wife of Thomas E. Harris, died here yesterday at 80 East Second North street, of old age and general debility. Mrs. Harris was born in Augusta, Ill., on September 25, 1844. She was a niece of the late Brigadier General John Fonda, one of the pioneer families of America. The Fonda family settled in New York state long before the Revolutionary war and came from Holland to America. When the Revolutionary war broke out sixty-one members of the Fonda family enlisted and nineteen of them were commissioned officers. They established the town of Fonda, New York, and this city still bears that name. Catherine Fonda and Thomas E. Harris were married in Augusta, Ill., July 4, 1865. Shortly after their marriage they moved West and settled in Boulder, Colorado. They lived there for about twenty years and then moved to Salt Lake City in 1889 and engaged in the undertaking business. Mr. Harris was a partner of E. G. O'Donnell and C. J. Ross. He was also elected coroner by the Liberal party for several terms in Salt Lake City. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary five years ago with a host of their friends on Salt Lake City. Mr. and Mrs. Harris had lived together for fifty-five years. About four years ago they moved to Provo and settled in a little home at the corner of Eighth North and Seventh East streets. Here they raised chickens and a fine garden until early this year, when they moved to the present home on East Second North street. Mrs. Harris is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Corrinne Harris Masters, and four brothers and two sisters. Another daughter, Genevieve Smith, died several years ago in Edmonton, Canada. Mrs. Harris was a member of the Episcopal church and a lover of animals and pets. The funeral will be held Wednesday in the Episcopal church church at 10:30 a.m. and the remains may be viewed at the residence from 9 until 10:15 the day of the funeral. The body will be sent to Salt Lake City, where interment will be made in the family plot in Mt. Olivet cemetery. Salt Lake Telegram (Salt Lake City, UT), Monday, December 6, 1920]

[Biography in History of Hancock County, Illinois (1880) - John G. Fonda was born on the Mohawk river, in Montgomery County, New York, March 8, 1822. His parents were Giles Fonda and Maria, nee Dockstader. The Fonda family are of Low Dutch descent and the Dockstader, of German. The subject of this sketch came to Hancock county with his parents in 1835, and has regarded this as his home most of the time since. In 1840 he commenced the practice of surveying with J. Wilson Williams, and the greater portion of his life has been spent as a surveyor and civil engineer, in which profession he is engaged at the present time. From 1841 to 1843 he acted as Deputy County Surveyor under J. Wilson Williams. In 1844, in company with Alanson Lyon, he visited the island of Cuba CUB. In 1847 he enlisted as a private in Capt. Stapp's company of Illinois Mounted Volunteers, and went to Mexico; did service between Vera Cruz and the city of Mexico. At the close of the war, the following year, he was discharged as a Lieutenant. In 1849 he was married to Mary McConnell, and the same year was elected County Surveyor, and settled in Carthage; lived there until 1854, when he moved to Warsaw and was appointed an assistant engineer on the Warsaw & Rockford Railroad. In 1860 he spent the summer in Colorado and New Mexico. In July, 1861, he entered the United States Volunteer Service as a Lieutenant in Capt. B. F. Marsh's Company of 2d Illinois Cavalry. In January, 1862, he was appointed Major of the 12th Illinois Cavalry, and soon after placed in command of Camp Butler, near Springfield. In October he was made Colonel of the 118th Vol. Inf., and in December went with his regiment to Louisiana, where he served most of the time in command of a brigade until the close of the war. With his regiment he participated in all the battles about Vicksburg. After the fall of Vicksburg he had command of a cavalry brigade, and was breveted Brigadier-General. After the close of the war, in 1866, he settled on a farm near Fountain Green, and lives there yet. In July, 1877, he was appointed a Commissioner of the Southern Illinois Penitentiary, and still holds the position. In September, 1879, he was appointed Chief Engineer to construct levees between Warsaw and Quincy, to protect the low lands from overflow. This work is still in progress.

Los Angeles Times, December 12, 1910]

[Col. John G. Fonda died at his home in Los Angeles, Cal., December 10th. Mr. Fonda, who was in his 88th year, suffered a stroke of paralysis three years ago and has been in declining health since that time. He was a son of Giles Fonda, residing in the house formerly occupied by the Rev. Washington Frothingham at Fonda many years. In 1835 the family removed to Illinois but in the following year returned to Caughnawaga. In the spring of 1837 the family removed to Johnstown and there the deceased attended the old Johnstown academy and was a member of a Sunday school class taught by Daniel Cady. A few years later the family removed to the west and in his latter years, Mr. Fonda was a successful business man of Los Angeles. Col. Fonda had a brilliant military career. He was brevetted brigadier general, United States volunteers to date from June 28, 1865, for meritorious services. Amsterdam NY Evening Recorder and Daily Democrat, December 31, 1910]

[Death of Gen. John G. Fonda - A postal from Major M. W. McClaughey, of Leavenworth, Kan., brings this information of the death of a former distinghushed resident of Hancock County. "Died - At 321 South Thomas street, Los Angeles, Cali., Dec. 10, 1910, Gen. John G. Fonda. a native of New York, aged 88 years. Late member of Stanton Post G. A. R. Funeral services at Evergreen chapel Monday 2 p.m. Friends invited to attend." John G. Fonda was born on the Mohawk river, in Montgonery county, New York, March 8, 1822, and came to Hancock county with his parents in 1835, locating in Fountain Green township. In 1840 he took up his study and practice of civil engineering under J. Wlison Williams, surveryor of Hancock county from 1829 to 1840, served for a period from 1842 to 1843, as deputy surveror, and succeeded Mr. Williams in the office in 1839, serving four years. He was again elected in 1840 and served a term. In 1844 he visited the island of Cuba, and in 1847 enlistd as a private in Capt. Stapp's company of Illinois mounted volunteers and did service between Vera Cruz and the City of Mexico during the Mexican war, being mustered out as a lieutenant. After his election as county surveyor he moved to Carthage and resided there until 1854, when he took up his residence in Warsaw, erecting in that year what is known as the L. Stracko place in the south part of the city. The summer of 1860 he spent in Colorado and New Mexico. In July, 1861, he was made first lieutenant of Co. G, 2d Illinois Cav., of which Col. B. F. Marsh was captain. In January, 1862, he was appointed major of the 12th Illinois cavalry, and was soon after in charge of Camp Butler, near Springfield. In October he was appointed Colonel of the 118th Illinois, and with his regiment went to Louisiana, serving in the soutwest the greater time of the war and prticipated in all the battles around Vicksburg. He was almost continuously in command of the brigade, and after the fall of Vicksburg he was brevetted a brgiadier general and placed in command of a brigade, serving with it until 1866, when he was mustered out of the service. On his return to private life he again took up his residence in Fountain Green township and there resided until his removal to Kansas more than 20 years ago. From Kansas he went to California, where he made his home until his death. On May 30, 1907, he suffered a stroke of paralysis which so disabled him that he was not able to walk thereafter, and yet with the splendid optimism characteristic of him, in a letter to the writer hereof, written April 26 last, conveying the foregoing information, he said, "I am, however, slowly recovering and hope to be on my feet again." But friends who saw him about that time gave it as their opinion that he was gradually failing and yet did not realize it. Perhaps the last Engineering work done by Gen. Fonda in Illinois was that in connection with the drainage districts between here and Quincy. Hw was appointed a commissioner of the Southern Illinois penetentiary at Chester in 1877 and held the office for several years. In 1855 he was elected the the city council of Warsaw as an alderman from the third ward and in 1856 he was elected mayor. He always had a warm regard for Warsaw and only a few years ago presented to Arthur W. Marsh Post G. A. R. a brass cannon captured during the Mexican war, and which did service here for years, on the 4th of July and in celebrating political victories. His period of official life in Illinois, embracing city, county and state offices, extended over forty years, and his service in the two wars, beginning as a private and ending as a brigadier generalhoist him to rank as Hancock county's most distinguished soldier. A place of honor should be made this week to be reserved in memorial hall in the county's house to perpetuate his memory. Gen. Fonda was married in 1849 to Miss Mary McConnell, of Fountain Green, but she and their only son long since passed away. Warsaw Bulletin, Friday, December 23, 1910]

The storm struck Independence at a little before 5 o'clock and wrought great destruction; fences were torn up, barns wrecked, houses leveled, and trees uprooted. Nearly all the business houses were unroofed and the plate-glass smashed. The depot of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway is said to be a wreck. Fonda's and O'Brien's stores were unroofed, as was also a livery stable, and report says that a bridge across the river was injured. .. Many people were in town, and many of their horses were killed by flying debris and their wagons smashed. Two men were killed, but it is impossible to obtain their names. Another man had his arm broken. The New York Times, New York, NY 24 Jun 1882]

[Rambo Family Tree - After Charles Fonda died, his widow Elizabeth married John B. Gilmore on 29 Sep 1886. John was born 24 Dec 1835 in Owensdale, Pennsylvania. He was a widower with five children and had a spacious home on his 570 acre farm. He sold the farm in 1903, and they moved to Berkeley where he died 6 Apr 1913. Mrs. Elizabeth (Rambo) Fonda Gilmore then married James Milton Howell on 13 Apr 1925. He had eight children and was a retired sheepman in Red Bluff who was born 15 Feb 1842 in Warren Co., Missouri. James Howell died 24 Oct 1932. His widow died in Red Bluff the following year on 5 Mar 1933, just one day short of her 86th birthday, and is buried at Oak Hill Cemetery in Red Bluff.]

[Mrs. Howell Passes from Long Illness - Due to an illness with which she was stricken several weeks before the passing of her husband, Mrs. Elizabeth Ann Howell, widow of the late James Howell, passed away early yesterday morning at the family home, 1021 Lincoln Street. Death was due to a complication of ailments brought on by old age. The funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the Methodist Church. The Rev. Mark Pike will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery. The deceased was a native of Independence, Kansas, where she was born March 6, 1847. Had she lived until today she would have been 86 years of age. She had been a resident of California for 80 years. She had made her home in Red Bluff and vicinity for 76 years. As a child of six years, she came across the plains with her parents. Her father was the late Calvin Rambo. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ethel Coughlin, of Nevada City, and Mrs. L. Edwall of Red Bluff. She was the sister of Mrs. S. J. Rickart and C. T. Rambo of Roseville. She also leaves two grandchildren and five great grandchildren. Red Bluff Daily News, Monday, 6 Mar 1933]

Notes for Frank M. COLGROVE: b. Hoosick Falls, NY; bur. Greenridge Cemetery, Saratoga Springs, NY; [Frank M. Colgrove, 63, for many years a resident of Saratoga Springs, died at his home, 384-1/2 Broadway, at 8 o'clock this morning, after an illness covering a period of over a year. Mr. Colgrove was born in Hoosick Falls, July 9, 1862, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Colgrove. He lived in that place until the time of his marriage, in September 1884, to Ida Fonda, daughter of Horace and Esther Fonda of Saratoga Springs. In 1901 Mr. Colgrove was married to Sadie Estell Rising, daughter of Daniel and Flora Rising of North Adams, Mass. Mr. Colgrove was a member of the Masonic order, and also of the Royal Arcanum. Over a year ago Mr. and Mrs. Colgrove and Mr. and Mrs. Herman W. Walters were in an automobile accident, and for several months following Mrs. Colgrove was in a serious condition. Worry over this may have hastened his death. Friends and associates have only praise for Mr. Colgrove, who was known to Saratogians as a man who has always had the interests of his family and the city at heart. Funeral services will be at the residence, 384-1/2 Broadway, Thursday afternoon, at 3 O'clock. The Rev. A. H. Boutwell, pastor of the Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be in Greenridge cemetery. Saratoga Springs NY Saratogian, Tuesday, December 8, 1925] >> www.fonda.org <<

Mrs. Fonda was in her 78th year. Her maiden name was Thankful Higby and she was born in Glens Falls, NY, where she married W. A. Fonda. Of their children four are living, W. B. Fonda, F. W. Fonda, Mrs. Florence Bruce, and Miss Gertrude Fonda. The family came to St. Albans in 1872. Mr. Fonda died in 1876 and Madame Fonda, as she was known by her friends, had since made her home with her son, W. B. Fonda. Mrs. Fonda was in splendid health until last July and had scarcely known a sick day in her life. From the illness of last summer she never recovered, and, although her condition improved at times she was slowly failing. The last few weeks of her illness were free from suffering and the end came very peacefully. Mrs. Fonda was one of those few persons who grow old gracefully. Her kindly and sunny disposition made her beloved by many friends whose sorrow mingles with that of the afflicted family. A short funeral service will be held at the house Thursday morning. The body will be taken on the 11 o'clock train to Glens Falls where the burial will be held at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. 1894-12-04 St. Albans Daily Messenger]

[St Albans Fire - Is Swept by Fire - St. Albans, Vt., Visited by a Disastrous Conflagration - May 20 - Seventy-five acres of the land of this town are covered with smoldering ruins. Practically the whole of the six business streets, with almost every building on them, are gone; and the money loss is above $1,000,000. The fire started at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the lumber yard of W. B Fonda. From the lumber yard the fire made a jump of more than 500 yards to a great warehouse, and from that went to a nest of rookeries, the block bounded by Lake, Foundry, Kingman and Main streets. The handsome new government building, not yet completed, was the next to fall and then went the furniture emporium of E. A. Morton. From this point on Main street flames swept into and up Kingman street, which was almost at once like a roaring furnace from end to end. The handsome new building and plant of the St. Albans Messenger, daily and weekly, was wiped out, and with it the state printing establishment. Then Fuller's livery stable and a large number of horses and wagons went down. The Fort Wayne Sentinel, Fort Wayne, IN 20 May 1895]

[William Beecher Fonda started his lumber yard with lumber, wood and coal. At one point he sold sewer pipe when the sewer lines were going in. He later made a planning yard to build just about anything. Later he sold roofing material and electric wood floors. He built some houses in St. Albans, the St. Albans Library, and the Bellevue Theater. He was involved with the roads being paved, bringing electricity and sewers to St. Albans. He signed people up for the first telephones. He had a place in one of businesses downtown so people could order their coal or wood over the phone! He helped get the trolley car running. He helped set a boat schedule to stop at St. Albans Bay and connect with trolley cars that carried people, freight and mail to St. Albans and Swanton, VT. He was on the board of directors for the Welden Bank, the People's Bank, the National Car Co.(trolley car), the Electric Light Co., and for a short time the Missisquoi Valley Railroad and the St. Albans Furniture Co. [J. Walter Fonda, a former resident of this village, died of typhoid fever at Jamestown, Chautauqua county, early last Tuesday morning, aged 28 years. He had been seriously ill only about one week, and had it not been for the fact that his constitution had been impaired by the seeds of consumption, he might have survived. The deceased, who left here about three years ago, was a brother of and interested in business here with F. W. Fonda, who was for many years a resident and merchant of this place. The funeral of the deceased will take place there, and the remains will hereafter be brought there for interment. Walt. Fonda, as he was familiarly called, had many warm personal friends in Saratoga Springs and they will be pained to hear of his death. Saratoga Springs NY Saratogian, Thursday, June 10, 1880]; [J. [George Fonda, an old and well known resident of Johnstown, died at his home Monday morning after an illness of several years' duration. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and first saw the light of day in Cherry Valley, 86 years ago. Mr. Fonda came to Johnstown thirty-seven years ago and has ever since resided there. He followed trade of a carpenter and contractor until about eight years ago when on account of failing health he was obliged to retire. He was married in 1843 to Miss Susan Vrooman, who survives him. Besides his wife, he is survived by four daughters. Mrs. E. A. Van Valkenburgh and Mrs. J. S. Fox, of Syracuse, Mrs. H. S. Garlock, of Lyle, Wash., and Mrs. W. J. Gardner, of Johnstown, and a large number of grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren. The funeral will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon and will be private. The remains will be taken to Sharon Hills Thursday morning and the Interment will be made in the family plot in the Slate cemetery. Amsterdam NY Evening Recorder and Daily Democrat, Tuesday, October 18, 1910. Note: Not sure why this obituary states his parents were Mr. and Mrs. John Moore and he was only 68 years old. His parents were Hendrik Fonda and Rebecca Hall and his gravestone shows he was 86 years old. The rest appears to be accurate.] >> www.fonda.org <<

Notes for family of George Henry FONDA and Susan Catherine VROOMAN: m. Sharon, NY; [The sixty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Fonda of No. 307 Fon Claire street was appropriately celebrated at their home Friday when the members of five generations of their family were present. The occasion was one of much pleasure. Mr. Fonda is 84 years of age while his wife is two years younger, but age had no bar to the enthusiasm in which they entered into the enjoyment of the affair. Mr. Fonda is afflicted with poor eye-sight, but outside of that is as sprightly as a man several years younger. Mrs. Fonda is active and is able to sew without the use of glasses. Mr. and Mrs. Fonda are of German extraction, their ancestors being pioneer settlers in New Schenectady. Mr. Fonda followed farming for thirty five years, but for the past thirty five years has been a resident of this city. He is one of sixteen children, eight of whom enlisted in the Civil war. Seven were in actual service, and one brother was a Colonel in the Black Hawk War. All returned home honorably discharged with the exception of one who died in Andersonville prison. Mrs. Fonda's maiden name was Vrooman, and she was one of six children. Mr. and Mrs. Fonda have four children, Mrs. E. A. Van Valkenburgh, of Syracusse; Mrs. H. S. Garlock, of Portland, Oregon; Mrs. J. S. Fox, of Syracuse, and Mrs. W. J. Gardner, of Johnstown; ten grandchildren, sixteen great grandchildren and one great-great grandchild. [D.B. Fonda, M.D., physician and surgeon, was proprietor of Dr. Fonda's medicines, and a gifted speaker and writer; he took a full classical course at the Lisha's Kill Academy in Albany, and after graduating removed to central NY, where he engaged in teaching some four years, at the same time pursuing advanced studies in mental and moral philosophy under Professor F.D. Pierce. He subsequently took the agency in Chicago of the West Elgin Flour Company, a position he retained until the stoppage of the mills in the spring of 1858. He then engaged in teaching at Rose Hill (Academy, Versailles, KY) until 1862, when he enlisted in Civil War Co.C, 89th Regiment IL Volunteer Infantry. After the battle of Perryville, KY he was placed in charge of an ambulance train and shortly afterward appointed to one of the hospitals at Bardstown, KY. In July, 1863, he was honorably discharged and, returning to Rose Hill, shortly afterward entered Rush Medical College in Chicago, attending lectures from 1863-1866. The breaking out of the cholera epidemic and consequent death of Dr. Brainard (founder of RMC) and other members of the faculty caused him to quit the college. In 1867 he engaged in medical practice, at the same time being appointed Cook County physician, a position he retained until 1871. During this time he attended lectures at the Bennett Medical College in Chicago, from which he graduated. He was elected a member of the Board of Trustees for Jefferson Township in 1874, a position he retained until 1877, being president of the board during the entire period. He then graduated from the Bennett College of Eclectic Medicine and Surgery in 1878. He was elected health officer when the tire ordinance passed in 1880, and elected a member of the school board in the spring of 1883, still filling both of these latter offices. In 1885 he removed to Cook County, IL, where he engaged in railroading for a time, his health necessitating outdoor employment. [Fight With Knife and Gun: Result of Family Quarrel - Dr. William Jackson Has an Encounter with Negro Servant of His Father-in-Law, Dr. David Fonda - A knife and revolver fight between Dr. William Jackson and Wilson Hawkins early yesterday morning resulted in serious injury to Hawkins and the arrest of both men. Mrs. Jackson also was taken in custody. Later all were released on bonds. The fight is said to have followed a quarrel between Dr. Jackson and his father-in-law, Dr. David Fonda. The Jacksons live with Fonda at 4171 Milwaukee avenue. Hawkins, who is a negro, has been employed by Fonda as a servant. Dr. Fonda returned home shortly after midnight Sunday night and retired. It was about two hours later that the fight began between Hawkins and Jackson. During the fight Hawkins sustained four cuts on the scalp and Jackson was the target for two shots from a revolver, but neither of the bullets took effect. Hawkins was taken to the Dunning hospital, where his wounds were dressed. The quarrel between Fonda and Jackson is said to have been over money matters. Dr. Fonda is said to be well to do. The Chicago Tribune, Monday, November 24, 1902.] [Judge Burke Aids Dr. Fonda - Issues Injunction Restraining Dr. W. F. Jackson and Wife from Interfering with Latter's Father - Judge Burke yesterday issued an injunction restraining Dr. William F. Jackson and his wife, Mrs. Carrie Jackson from interfering with the personal freedom of Dr. David B. Fonda, father of Mrs. Jackson, or from "slandering or libeling him." The order also provides that the defendants shall desist from interfering with Dr. Fonda in the practice of his profession or from disposing of his books, instruments, household furniture and personal effects, which is alleged he trasnferred to Mrs. Jackson in January, 1898. Leesville Cemetery, Sharon, NY; [As stated in yesterday's Saratogian, Coroner Noxon of Ballston went to Galway yesterday and held an inquest into the cause of the death of the man Fonda, who was found insensible by the road side, and who died Monday morning. The result of the inquest is strongly in favor of dismissing the theory of murder in the case. Coroner Noxon took the testimony of a large number of witnesses, relatives of the deceased and others. The name of the deceased was Sanford V. Fonda. It appears that he was on his way to visit a cousin, Jacob H. Fonda, instead of a brother. His father is Sebastian F. Fonda of Sharon Springs. (..) The testimony of these witnesses elicited the fact that deceased was for seven years in the employ of Daniel Klock, Jr., in Troy, as clerk. About the first of July last Fonda left his place in Troy on account, it seems, of dissipated habits. Since July he had no special occupation but had lived with his father and other relatives, His father had supplied him with what little money he might want, the last contribution amounting to only $10, having been given him in December. (..) The testimony of Dr. VonAllen went to show that the wound on the face of deceased which was at first reported to have been made by a club in the hands of an assassin, was caused by a fall upon the icy road. The theory of the witness was that he had fallen and hurt himself thus badly, that he was unable to rise and that his low condition when found and his subsequent death were caused by the night's exposure. The rumor that deceased had a valuable gold watch on his person was contradicted by evidence. The time-keeper proves to be oroide and of little value. (..) After hearing the eyidence the jury returned a verdict to the effect that Sanvord V. Fonda came to his death in consequence of convulsions and exposure to cold on the night of January 22, 1876, on the road near the Christian church in Galway, Saratoga county, N. Y . [A Removed Postmaster - Postmaster Jas. R. Fonda of Troy, who has just been removed by the no-party administration, to make way for a Wide-Awake, stay-at-home politician, has two sons, Frederick P. Fonda and James H. Fonda, privates in the Third Regiment of N. Y. Volunteers, now near Fortress Monroe, and a brother-in-law (Capt. Geo. Wilson) in the same regiment. Mr. Fonda subscribed liberally to the Volunteer Fund, and has otherwise contributed largely to the war. Comment is superfluous.- Albany Atlas. Porcupine's Gazette, September 5, 1861]; [Fought In Helderberg War - At his home in Troy today took place the funeral of James R. Fonda, one of the best known residents of that city. Mr. Fonda was born in 1819 in New Scotland, Albany county, and was the descendant of an old Dutch family. He was one of the incorporators of The Citizens' Steamboat company in 1872 and served on the board of directors for many years. At the time of his death Mr. Fonda was the oldest surviving member of the Troy Citizens' Corps, having served in that company when Capt. Alfred H. Pierce was in command. With his company he served during the anti-rent troubles of 1839 and 1845, the latter locally known as the Helderberg war. In politics Mr. Fonda was always a stanch Democrat and for years was a Democratic leader in Troy. He served in the board of supervisors in 1850 and 1851 and in the common council as alderman from the first ward in 1855 and 1856, and was appointed postmaster of Troy by President Buchanan December 15, 1858, remaining in office until December 15, 1861. He was a member of the Democratic State committee for a number of years, and at one time served as chairman of the committee. Mr. Fonda was delegate to many state conventions of his party and to two national conventions. Amsterdam Evening Recorder, Saturday, October 28, 1905.]

[Doc Fonda, 56 Years A Showman, Dies in General Hospital Charles 'Doc' Fonda, 71, of 503

Madison street, widely known showman, died Tuesday night in the General Hospital of Syracuse after a long illness. 'Doc' Fonda began his career as a showman at the age of 15 years when he left home in 1882 to join a circus at Oswego. Fonda was in turn a performer, barker, manager and ventriloquist. and lastly back to barker. He married Annetta Keller in Syracuse Sept. 17, 1890. Six years later they reenacted the ceremony for the benefit of showgoers in Pittsfield, Mass. when the manager conceived the idea of a public marriage. They toured in and out of Syracuse, which they claimed as their city home, Mrs. Fonda left the road first and several years later "Doc" gave up the show business. Mrs. Fonda died in 1937. Funeral services will take place at 8:30 o'clock Saturday morning at the Burns & Gaynor funeral home, and a half-hour later in Saint Joseph's (French) Church. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. [In 1896, John H. Fonda of New York City, incorporated under the laws of that state, an association known as the "Union Association of Heirs of Harlem, Anneke Jans Bogardus, Edwards and Webber Estates," and in April 1909, Mary A. Fonda, as one of the Bogardus heirs, and presumably in the interest of the Union Association of Heirs, began a suit against the Trinity Church Corporation to recover possession of one hundredth part of the property at 65 Vandam street. Her bill of complaint was filed by Elmer E. Good, of No. 3 Stafford Building, Buffalo, N.Y., who was also the Attorney for the Union Association of Heirs. Mrs. Fonda asked the court to decide that she was the owner in fee simple of an undivided one-hundredth part of the Vandam street lot, and she also asked that she be entitled to her share of the property and $10,000 damages for being kept out of possession. Jay and Chandler, as attorneys for Trinity, filed an amended answer, and referred therein to the charter of 1697, and the Queen Anne grant of 1705, and that one hundred and sixty years thereafter, Trinity Corporation, by deed, conveyed the Vandam street property to Benjamin Cooper, and subsequently Cooper and his wife Ann Elizabeth, mortgaged the lot to the Bowery Savings Bank for $4,000. The mortgage was foreclosed, and in 1897 the lot was sold by order of the court to H. H. Camman for $13,800 and he transferred it to the Trinity Corporation, so that 192 years after it first acquired the land from Queen Anne, Trinity once more became its owner. The plaintiff filed a reply setting forth pretensions made by former litigants regarding the "King's Farm," and the "Queen's Farm," and she plead ignorance of the pretended deed of Queen Anne, and she asserted her title under the Dutch patent, which ante-dated the Queen Anne charter by 53 Years. Justice Dowling, in special term of the Supreme Court, granted the application of Trinity for an order directing the plaintiff to file a reply to the first specific defense to the answer which set up the Queen Anne grant, its validity and the purchase of the property under the foreclosure sale of 1897. The plaintiff failed to file the reply, and early in 1913 warrants were issued for the arrest of both Mr. Fonda and Mr. Good, on the grounds that they had been using the mails with intent to defraud, and on November 6th, 1913, the case was brought to trial in the Federal District Court. After evidence had been introduced by the prosecution, and evidence of various sorts had been presented to the Court, the case was decided, and the New York Times, in its issue of November 17th 1913, reported the case, or rather the decision as follows: "After John H. Fonda, 86 years old, had told of the twenty years fight of the Anneke Jans heirs to recover Trinity Church property, Judge Hand in the United States Court yesterday, said he would dismiss the fraud indictment against Fonda. He said it was evident that Fonda had been prompted by an obsession from childhood of enormous wealth to be gathered by the Jans heirs and not by any criminal motives in seeking subscriptions to prosecute his claims." Attorney Good was also tried in the same case, and on November 14th the New York Times reported the result of the trial of Good as follows: "Elmer E. Good, indicted for alleged fraudulent use of the mails in promoting collections of money from heirs of Anneke Jans and others, was acquitted yesterday in the United States District Court." Mr. Fonda died on February 15th, 1915, and after which Willis T. Gridley, Attorney, located at 170 Broadway, New York City, at that time, took up the matter to look after the interests of the claimants in the future.]

[R095d - History of Rochester and Monroe County, NY - William T. Fonda, treasurer of the Mandeville & King Company, seedsmen, is one who throughout his entire business life has recognized the fact that the present and not the future hold the opportunity and thus he has advanced.unti1 he is a force in commercial circles, especially active in the financial management of various enterprises. His life record began in Rochester in 1849. His father, Jacob Fonda, as a native of Schenectady, New York, and on removing to this city, engaged in the fur, hat and cap business in the old "hatters' row" on State street. He married Maria Tufts. Their son, William T. Fonda, was reared in Rochester and after attending the public schools became a student in Satterlee's Academy. He entered business life in connection with his father, in the hat and cap trade and later was with S. B. Roby & Company, dealers in saddlery and hardware, with whom he remained for two years. He then went to Fairport, where he was with the Bank of Fairport for a short time, after which he returned to this city and was with the Commercial National Bank for thirteen years. Subsequently he engaged in the manufacture of shoes for twelve pears under the firm style of Fonda, Kellogg & Snow, and in 1902 he became treasurer of the Mandeville & King Company and of the James Vick's Sons, both seedsmen. He is also vice president of the Vick & Hill Company, wholesale florists of Barnards, New York. Each change in his business connections has represented a forward step, bringing him a broader outlook and wider opportunities. He has utilized his advantages in excellent manner and has become recognized in business circles as one whose judgment is, sound, whose sagacity is far-reaching and whose energy is almost limitless. Mr. Fonda was married to Miss Hattie G. Metcalf, of Canadaigua, and has two children. Well known in Masonry, he is a life member of the Monroe commandery, K.T. His political allegiance is given to the republican party and he manifests a public-spirited interest in citizenship and in the welfare and progress of Rochester. He has a keen sense of humor and of fair play - qualities which make him a favorite and have made his justice and fairness in the business world one of his salient characteristics.]; [Private libraries in the 1870s - 1890s: These coexisted with the school library as Fairport's rapidly growing population drew the School Board's attention to school construction and away from focusing on its own library. The first private library (1880 or earlier and which they called the "Fairport Public Library"!) was that of Julia and Emma Dickinson and Elizabeth Dowd. This was in the Dickinson home at 10 East Church Street. It was relocated (date unknown) to 123 South Main Street where a cousin, Mrs. Buckland and, later, Mr. & Mrs. Charles D. Case were librarians. This library was open to the public, but it was not free. It closed in 1893 or 1894. Later, apparently both John H. Hardick and William T. Fonda operated private rental libraries in the Hawkins Block on the east side of South Main Street near the canal.]

[William T. Fonda, 84, died here last Friday in the home of his daughter, Miss Elizabeth F. Fonda of 16 Lewis avenue. He had been a life member of the Rochester Club, a member of Lawrence Lodge, F. & A. M., of Rochester, and Monroe Commandery. Surviving, besides his daughter, is a brother, Edward Fonda of Rochester. Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the home of his daughter, with burial in Mt. Hope cemetery, Rochester. Batavia NY Times, Thursday, April 26, 1934]

Notes for George William FONDY: b. IL; 1855 Illinois State Census, Mount Morris, Ogle Co., IL (George Fonda); 1860 US Federal Census, Murray, Calloway Co., KY (George W. Fonda, Farmhand on the Asa Humphreys farm); d. Nashville, Wilson Co., TN (Civil War Casualty); bur. Nashville National Cemetery, South Madison, TN; o. Farmer; Civil War Service: 1). George W Fondy; Union County, Illinois; enlisted as a Private on 12-Oct-1861; enlisted in Co.M, 6th Cavalry Regiment Illinois on 09-Jan-1862, Wagoner; 2). George W Fonda; Vienna, Illinois; enlisted as a Corporal on 26-Sep-1862; enlisted in Co.I, 128th Infantry Regiment Illinois on 04-Nov-1862. >> www.fonda.org <<

[George W. Fondy appeared in the 1860 US Federal Census for Murray, Calloway Co., KY as a farmhand in the household of Asa Humphreys. His birthplace is listed as IL and vital records indicate he married Phebe Ann Humphreys (b. Puryear, Henry Co., TN) on 11-Jan-1863 in Jonesboro, Union Co., IL. It is probable that George is the son of Isaac V. Fondy and Mary Jane Stubblefield, daughter of Jeremiah Stubblefield of Lincoln Co., TN. George W. could have been named after 1) Col. George Stubblefield (b.1738) who served in the VA Militia during the Revolutionary War under General George Washington 2) George Stubblefield, a Baptist preacher and the first Stubblefield settler in (Warren Co.) TN around 1800 or 3) simply after president George Washington himself. George W. Fondy enlisted as a bugler in Company M of the 6th IL Cavalry in 1861. His residence was listed as Johnson Co., IL. He was mustered out of that unit and then enlisted in the 128th IL Infantry at Camp Butler, IL in 1862. His residence was listed as Vienna, IL (residence of his possible step-mother). We suspect that his name was spelled "Fonda" and he went in as a Corporal in the 128th Infantry because the Post Commander at Camp Butler at that time was John G. Fonda. George W. Fondy's Pension documents spell his name "Fondy" and lists him in the 128th Infantry; he died of pneumonia at Nashville General Hospital Number 8 and is buried at the Nashville National Cemetery, TN.]

He then practiced medicine with good success for a few years, until he became a confirmed consumptive. After consulting some of his brother colleagues they came to the conclusion and said that a very short time might close his usefulness. He then turned his attention to other reformed practices of medicine. [Death of Townsend Fondey - Citizens were startled last evening by tbe announcement of the sudden death of Townsend Fondey, at his residence No. 151 Washington avenue. He was taken seriously ill about a quarter after four o'clock, and in fifteen minutes life was extinct. For some weeks past Mr. Fondey had been threatened with a severe illness, and for some days, by the advice of his physician ceased from participation in his business. He grew slowly better, and on last Tuesday visited the store of Corning & Co., where he was partner, and daily since, gradually expending the hours devoted to business each day. Yesterday he remained at the store longer than usual, and when he went away was seemingly feeling well. He went home and dined at half-past two o'clock, being in excellent spirits. About four o'clock he complained of faintnees, and died shortly afterwards. Dr. Balch, the family physician, pronouncing apoplexy to be the causa of death, while Dr. Jones ascribed it to heart disease. Townsend Fondey was born in Albany Dec 22, 1817. He was educated at the Albany academy, graduating with high honor from that institution. He then went to Cazenovia, Madison county, where be entered a mercantile establishment of Jacob Ten Eyck, remaining there some years. He then proceeded to Troy where he filled the responsible position as an accountant. In 1840 be left Troy and went to Breton where he engaged in the commission business until 1845, when be returned to Albany and in November 1847, entered the house of Erastus Corning & Co., as accountant. He remained with this house till the day of his death. Shortly after entering the employ of the firm Mr Fondey became the confidential clerk of Mr. Erastus Corning, and so much were his labors appreciated, that in 1866 when the firm was reorganized he went in as a partner with the present Erastus Corning, W. H. Nichols. J. S. Walker, and C. H Corning. The two gentlemen last named died in 1879, and the firm was again reorganized in 1881 when Mr. Fondey and Mr. Nichols became general partners, and Mr. Erastus Corning special partner. Mr. Fondey was a republican. The only elective position he ever held was that of alderman of the Thirteenth ward in 1872-3. He was vice-president and secretary for several years of the People's Gaslight company, and for many years a director of the Union National bank, and at the time of his death a trustee of the Albany Savings bank as well as vice-president of the New York State Relief association. He was connected with tbe Masonic order, being a member of Masters lodge No. 5. and a member of Temple chapter No. 5, R. A. M. He became a member of the Scottish Rite bodies in 1866, was the presiding officer of the Chapter of Rose Croix for five years, and of Albany Sovereign consistory for four years. At the session of tbe supreme council held in Boston in 1870 he was elected as sovereign grand inspector general and honorary member of tbe supreme council and the thirty-third degree was conferred upon him. He was one of the 150 who received the royal order of Scotland some years ago. Although brought up in the Dutch Reformed church, Mr. Fondey has for years been an Episcopalian, being at the time of his death a communicant of All Saints cathedral. At tbe age of twenty-five, in April, 1842. be married Ruth Hollister, of Troy, a niece of John L. Thompson, late of Troy. and tbe late United States Judge Smith Thompson. His wife and son and a daughter survive him. A large circle ot friends will mourn his death, while Albany has lost a citizen of rare business qualities, and of unsullied integrity. 307. J. W.[8] FONDEY (William John[7], John Isaac "Junior"[6], Isaac Douw[5], Douw Janse[4], Jan Douw[3], Douw Jellis[2], Jellis Douw[1]), born 1813, in Virginia. He married Sarah. Sarah was born 1818, in Virginia.

Notes for J. W. FONDEY: b. VA; 1860 US Federal Census, Liberty Twp., Logan Co., OH (J.W. Fondey, age 46, b.VA, Farmer); 1860 US Federal Census, Mercer's Bottoms, Mason Co., VA now WV (Thomas Findy, age 48, b.VA, Farmer) >> www.fonda.org <<

Note: this connection to William John Fondey is uncertain since records indicate he was not married and may have died before 1824 - however, the census names bear a strong resemblance to the families of (cousins) John Isaac Fondey and Townsend Isaac Fondey - it is possible that William John Fondey had this one son (J.W.), who may have been born while his father served in the New York Militia during the War of 1812, which had battles in the Toledo, Ohio area, not far from Liberty, Ohio. 1860 US Federal Census, Liberty Twp., Logan Co., OH (18-Jun-1860) J W Fondey 46 Sarah Fondey 41 Joseph Fondey 21 Eliza Fondey 19 Martha Fondey 15 William Fondey 14 Edmond Fondey 12 Margaret Fondey 10 Walton Fondey 7 Sarah Fondey 5 Jane Fondey 3 Henry Fondey 1.

To further complicate, this family looks to be the same, with the census taken in Mercer's Bottom, Mason Co., VA (now WV), on the OH border. It could have something to do with the impending Civil War, in which WV broke off from Virginia in 1863 and declared themselves part of the South. The handwriting on the census page could read Fondey rather than Findy. It could also be that Thomas was a brother of J.W., both with wive's named Sarah. 1860 US Federal Census, Mercer's Bottom, Mason Co., VA (4-Jun-1860) Thomas Findy 48 Sarah Findy 43 John Findy 21 Elizabeth Findy 20 Alex Findy 12 Samuel Findy 10 Thomas Findy 6 Mary C Findy 0

[Mr. Wm. B. Fondey, died at Springfield, Illinois, on the 19th inst. Mr. Fondey was a highly esteemed citizen and well known throughout the State. Saint Paul Pioneer Democrat, Wednesday, February 26, 1862]

[William's mother, Lucinda Tanner was a descendant of his namesake, William Bradford of the Mayflower; according to some records found in Mercer County, IL, dated October 1st, 1856, 'William B. Fonday is the only living child of Stephen Fonday deceased of Genesee, Ontario County, NY.' The indenture also says that William B. Fonday is the spouse of Mary L. Fonday of Sangamon County; prior to his marriage, Wm. B. Fondey lived with his aunt and uncle Asa and Susan Eastman down the street from Abraham Lincoln in Springfield, IL. Also appearing nearby on Eighth Street in 1850 was a man named S. B. Opdycke, his son Thomas and daughter Charlotte. Stacy B. Opdycke and Wm B. Fondy in 1849 were partners in a Dry Goods and Grocery establishment. Mr. Opdycke traveled to New Orleans and the Eastern US procuring merchandise and trading; then an IL Legislator, Lincoln signed, with 54 others, the petition to Gov. Augustus C. French asking appointment of William B. Fondey as notary public in March 1850; W. B. Fondey was a Bank Commissioner in 1854, and helped end the 'Panic of 1854' by reassuring the public that their money was good; in June 1857, W. B. Fondy is listed as Secretary of the Sangamon Insurance Company. Asa Eastman and James A. Barret were on the Board of Directors; Wm. B. Fondey was an acquaintance of Lincoln, and they may have been friends, but politically, they were on opposite sides of the fence. William ran for IL State Treasurer in the same election (1858) in which Stephen Douglas beat Abraham Lincoln for US Senator of IL; the result of a split ticket which divided the Democratic party.]

[Died, Sunday, May 6, at 5 p.m., in Chicago, Mrs. Mary L. Merryman, aged 63 years. The news of Mrs. Merryman's death was received in this city last evening with surprise and sadness. She left for Chicago about a month ago and during her stay underwent a surgical operation. She had been in delicate health for some time and her constitution was not of sufficient vigor to stand the strain. Her sister, Mrs. Charles Ridgely, was summoned to her bedside and she sank until death came last evening. The name of Mrs. Merryman is a familiar one to Springfield people. She was the daughter of James W. Barret, who came to this city from Kentucky at an early date and the widow of the late Captain J. H. Merryman, who was for a long time connected with the Life Saving service on the coat of New Jersey. In 1852 she was married to William O. Fondey, who was an influential merchant in this city. A number of years later her husband died and she was married to Captain Merryman, about eight years ago. The latter died a short time afterward and Mrs. Merryman made her home with her sister, Mrs. Charles Ridgely on South Fourth street. She was recognized by all who knew her as a true Christian and a faithful friend. She had a large circle of friends in this city and where ever she was known she was loved and respected. She is survived by three brothers, W. T. Barret of Pekin, James T. Barret of Kentucky, and Richard Barret of Kansas City, Mo., and one sister, Mrs. Charles Ridgely of this city. The remains will be brought to this city for interment.]

[George T. Fonda Hears Last Taps - Death of Distinguished Civil War Officer - Seattle Pioneer Leaves Many Friends - Lived Here Thirty-Six Years and for Quarter Century Kept the West Point Light - George Thompson Fonda, distinguished officer in the Union army during the civil war, keeper of the West Point light for nearly a quarter of a century and resident of Seattle for more than thirty-six years, died Sunday night at his home near Fort Lawton, in his 84th year. He had not been ill, but the infirmities of age had been creeping upon him during the past few years. He had not felt quite so well as usual for two or three days, and he closed his eyes and passed away like one falling into peaceful sleep. Mr. Fonda was the pioneer inhabitant of the Fort Lawton district. After he left the lighthouse service five years ago he built a cottage overlooking the sea, on a bluff north of the fort, where he could still see the flash of the beloved West Point beacon. Here with his wife he spent the happy evening of his long and useful life. All the older residents of the city knew Mr. Fonda well. His acquaintance among seafaring men naturally was large, and in the Grand Army, especially among survivors of Gen. Grant's Vicksburg campaign, he was greatly honored for his wartime achievements. Mr. Fonda was born at Fonda, N. Y. in 1830. When Fort Sumter was fired on he sought to enlist in a Michigan regiment. Becoming impatient with the slowness in getting the state troops together he went with others to Illinois and then to Missouri, which was nearer to the front and where patriots were urgently needed. He was enrolled as a private in the Seventh Missouri infantry in June, 1861. In May, 1863, when Gen. Grant was in the hottest part of the campaign to open the Mississippi and split the Confederacy by means of the open river, Fonda was a first lieutenant and commander of the sappers and miners in Grant's army operating behind Vicksburg. He had been promoted a little time before for gallantry while serving in the ranks. County Auditor Byron Phelps, formerly an officer of the Third Illinois cavalry, who first saw Capt. Fonda at Vicksburg, and who was his neighbor at Fort Lawton, said yesterday: "Capt. Fonda was engineer in charge of all the building of bridges and pontoons across the streams behind Vicksburg and did marvelous work there. He was a magnificent figure of a man, full of energy, a splendid officer. No amount of labor could wear him down. I remember how he impressed me and others as we saw him on the banks of Black river, by his fine physique and his natural force as a leader of men. I knew him only slightly then, but I admired him greatly. He built a bridge across Black river in an incredibly short time, less than one day, using only debris, lumber, logs and cotton bales. The main body of Grant's army crossed the bridge the next day to attack Vicksburg. I was among the troops that rode over the Fonda bridge. Capt. Fonda's bridge building feats made him famous in Grant's army." Mr. Fonda served three years in the army and was offered a majorship when he retired. Mr. Fonda was married July 25, 1864, to Miss Cornelia Matilda Shultes, who survives him as do his two daughters, Dr. Fonda Nadeau, a practicing physician of Seattle, and Mrs. Flora Nadeau, wife of Ira A. Nadeau, manager of the

Equitable Life Assurance Society. The funeral will take place today at 11 o'clock under the direction of Stevens post of the Grand Army. Seattle Post-Intelligencer, Tuesday, July 15, 1913]

[Seattle, Wash., June 11, 1910. Editor Register: My father, E. B. Fonda, was born January 7, 1833, on the old homestead in Fulton county, New York, near a small village known at that time as "Fonda's Bush," named for the famlly, but it is now known as Broadalbin. In Holland a forest was called a bush, and New York was at that time mostly forest. Father left home when quite a young man and learned his trade, that of engineer, in Meridian, Conn. He worked in New Brittian several years. He came to Kansas in 1857, and was married in 1862, and remained in Kansas until 1882, when he returned to his old home in New York. A few years later he came back to Kansas and settled in Neodesha, where be spent the remainder of his life. The first Fondas who settled in the United States was Douw Fonda and a brother, who came from Amsterdam, Holland, to New York in 1642 and settled on grants of land obtained by them from the Dutch government. According to the history of the family, there were fortyfive of our family who were in the Revolutionary war, many of whom were prominent officers therein. No wonder the flag was dear to my father's heart. Douw Fonda, above mentioned, was the founder of Fonda, N. Y. Some of this old family has figured in every war since the Revolutionary. My father's brother, George T. Fonda, who is now 80 years of age and lives in Seattle, was First Lieutenant, uoder General Logan in the Civil war and through the general obtained his appointment as lighthousekeeper, which position he held for 24 years. The name has always been spelled Fonda. Belle Fonda]

Thorn, Member of Assembly from this city in the last Legislature, died at two o'clock this morning, at the residence of his father, of consumption. Mr. Thorn was one of the associate editors of the Times of this city. - Troy, July 21, 1866 - Abram Fonda, associate editor of the Times of this city, fell from the third story of the Phoenix Hotel, at Lansingburg, yesterday morning, and died, at four o'clock this morning. 1866-07-22 New York Herald]; [A singular fact is mentioned in connection with the decease of the editors of The Troy Times. Mr. Fonda, expecting Mr. Thorn's death of consumption had prepared a sketch of his life for publication, whenever it should occur, yet the former died two hours before the latter. New York Herald-Tribune 1866-08-20]

[Presentiment - New York Times - August 2, 1883 - from the Utica Observer, July 1881 - In the year 1866, the late James S. Thorn who was the city editor of this paper, was lying on his death-bed slowly succumbing to the inroads of that fatal disease consumption. The intelligence was brought to the office that he could not possibly last more than a day or two longer. He was a man of such genial and loving qualities and had so tenderly entwined himself around the hearts of all his associates till no one could endure the thought of writing his obituary in advance of his death and yet it was quite important, if not imperative, that a proper memorial should be prepared, ready for insertion in the paper at a moments notice upon the receipt of the news of the death of our young associate. One after another declined to write the obituary, until it was finally determined that Abram Fonda, an editorial writer on the paper should perform the melancholy task. Mr Fonda accordingly began it, omitting the introduction and was engaged some time upon the work when the writer of this paragraph, who occupied a chair in front of Mr. Fonda's table turned around and inquired how he was getting along. He responded that he was not progressing satisfactorily, that it was a harder task than he had anticipated and then went on with his work. Instantly as quick as thought could frame the expression there flashed through the brains of the writer these words. Old fellow, you'll die before Jimmie does. And he did. That night after retiring Mr. Fonda arose for some purpose, went to an open window in his room, and fell headlong out of it to the sidewalk below. In the morning he was found laying upon the ground speechless and insensible. He died at nine o'clock in the forenoon of the day. Mr. Thorn survived until nearly noon. The hand that writes this wrote the introduction and close of the obituary of Mr. Thorn that Mr Fonda began, and also wrote the last tribute to the memory of the latter.]

[Biographies, beginning with F, History of Clayton County, Iowa, 1882 - Monona Twp. - R. Mitchell Fonda, farmer and dairyman, Monona Township, and one of the enterprising citizens of Clayton County, was born in Montgomery, now Fulton County, N.Y., on the 15th day of August, 1824, a son of William and Henrietta S. (Mitchell) Fonda, who were married in Montgomery County, N.Y., March 4, 1817. By this union there was a family of twelve children, nine living, viz.: Ann E., R. Mitchell, Mary R., William H., Henrietta, Andrew J., Clemantina H., Alexa and James M. In 1832 Mr. Fonda moved to West Troy, and in 1838 to Herkimer County, N.Y., where he followed farming until his death, which occurred in 1847. The mother died in Monona Township in 1873. Mr. and Mrs. Fonda were members of the Presbyterian church. R.M. received a common-school education, and afterward was employed by Hinkley & Bullen in the lumber business, receiving at commencement $13 per month, and the last year of his services received $1,000. In 1861 he married Mary A. Smith, a daughter of Rufus Smith, of Herkimer County, N.Y., where she was born Sept. 11, 1837. The issue of this marriage was five children, viz.: Henrietta, born Nov. 30, 1862; G. H. and Helen G. (twins), born Jan. 15, 1865; Robert M., June 9, 1868; William W., Sept. 27, 1871. In 1855 Mr. Fonda left his home in New York with his family and emigrated to Clayton County, locating in Giard Township, one mile east of Monona, where he remained until 1864, when he purchased his present farm of 256 acres. It is now under a high state of cultivation, and is valued at $60 per acre. Mr. Fonda is extensively engaged in the dairy business, and keeps from fifty to sixty cows. He has a beautiful house, and one of the largest and best constructed barns in the county. History of Clayton County, Iowa, 1882, Monona Township, p. 1040-1041]

He was born at Broadalbans (West Troy) NY, on December 8, 1829. He died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. A.I. Stacy, on March 27, 1926, at the age of 96 years, 3 months, and 19 days. His early days were spent in different parts of NY state. He attended Casnovia Seminary. During this time he was converted and united with the Congregational church of which he has always been a faithful member, but of late years has been prevented attendance by the infirmatives of age. Following his work at the seminary he taught school at Wilmert, NY. In 1852 he came to Monona, IA, where he engaged in farming. It was there that he became acquainted with Julia Anna Sheldon, whom he married at Westfort, NY, on January 10, 1861. They continued to live at Monona until the fall of 1865 when they moved to Stacyville (IA), near which place they lived and experienced the joys and hardships of the early pioneers. To them were born seven children, of which only three survive - Mrs. Charles E. Bishop, of Syracuse, IN; Mrs. Asa I. Stacy, of Osage (IA); and Frank M. Fonda, of Chicago. In 1864 they moved to Osage where in January, 1911, they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. In February of that year Mrs. Fonda died. Since Mrs. Fonda's death, Mr. Fonda has made his home with his children.] >> www.fonda.org <<

[A Despondent Farmer's Suicide - The suicide of Garrett B. Fonda, residing midway between Hoosick Corners and Petersburgh junction, was briefly noticed in yesterday's second edition of the times. Coroner Green was summoned, and proceeded to ths scene during the afternoon. Sheppard Fonda, a son of Garrett, was sent by his father yesterday morning with $30 the latter had received in his capacity of school tax collector to deliver that amount to A. Breese, another school official at Hoosick Corners. Sheppard returned about 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In response to an inquiry by the young man regarding the whereabouts of his father, a member of the family stated he had gone to the barn. Sbeppard entered, and was astounded to find his father partially kneeling on a pile of hayseed, with a rope around his neck. The other end of the rope was fastened to an upper rung of a ladder leading into the loft. The cries of Sheppard attracted his mother and daughter, and the three untied the rope from the body. Dr. W. E. Putnam of Hoosick was immediately called, and pronounced life extinct. Several bruises were noticed on the face of the dead man, which it is stated were the results of a fall on the ice several days ago. A streak of coagulated blood across the face could not be accounted for. For some time past Fonda had been restless and despondent. To Mr. Babcock, a hotel proprietor at Hoosick Corners, Garrett said on one occasion: "My farm is heavily mortgaged and I can see no way of paying the debt. I sometimes feel like drowning myself." The deceased was the owner of 160 acres of land, and was overseer of highways and collector of school taxes for the district. A mortgage on his farm was lately foreclosed, and this increased his despondency. A married son resides in Bennington. Coroner Green will hold an inquest Friday afternoon at J. P. Armstrong & Co.'s store, Hoosick Corners. Troy Daily Times, Tuesday, February 6, 1883]

[Veterans Pass Away - Coldwater, Mich., Aug. 1 - Two of Branch county's veterans, William H. Fonda and Ranselar Brown, died yesterday within a short time of each other. Mr. Fonda was 68 years of age and Mr. Brown was 75. Both enlisted at the breaking out of the Civil War and served until Lee's surrender, after which they returned to their farms in Branch county. Both had accumulated comfortable fortunes and have spent their declining years in this city. Both Mr. Fonda and Mr. Brown were natives of Branch county and were among the first white children born within its limits. Mr. Fonda was stricken with paralysis on July 21, and lived for nine days thereafter without eating or drinking. 1908-08-02 Kalamazoo Gazette]; [William H. Fonda passed away at his residence at the corner of Taylor and Hanchett streets, city of Coldwater, at six o'clock in the morning, Friday, July 31, 1908. His last sickness was of nearly ten days duration, he having suffered a severe paralytic stroke on the afternoon of July 21st, from which he never regained consciousness. David and Lorinda Fonda, parents of the deceased, came with their five older children from the state of New York in the year 1837 and settled on a farm in Batavia township, this county, where their youngest child, William H., was born July 25, 1840, making him 68 years and 6 days athe time of his death. His boyhood days were passed upon this farm until he became 22 years of age, when he enlisted August 2, 1862 in company C 19th Michigan Vol. Inft. with which company he served until March 5, 1863, when he received a severe gun shot would in the head in an engagement at Springhill, Tenn., as a result of which he has always been a great sufferer. He was honorably discharged from the service of his country at Detroit July 5, 1865. He was married Nov. 23, 1865 to Adeline, daughter of Warren and Catherine Holcomb, of Batavia township, Branch county, and began keeping house on the farm where he was born. To Mr. and Mrs. Fonda were born five children, Arthur W. now of Elkhart, Ind., Charlie who died in infancy, Dora A. who married Charlie W. Hall, died June 13, 1894, Clara E. now Mrs. Jay Hiesrodt of this city and Earl H. also of this city. Seven years ago Mr. Fonda moved to this city where he has since resided surrounded by his married children and other relatives, many comrades of the rebellion and a wide circle of friends. During his last sickness he was cared for by his wife and children and his only living brother, Charles I. Fonda, of this city. (Obituary by family, provided by descendant Steve Williams in 2003)]

["Mac" Fonda, a farmer residing near Mayfield, was found drowned in the creek on the Vlaie road today. Coroner Phillips was notified this afternoon and left immediately to take charge of the case. Gloversville NY Daily Leader, Friday, August 23, 1895]; [Mac Fonda, a farmer of Mayfleld on the road leading to the old "Stone tavern," was found in a creek back of his house, yesterday morning. When discovered life was extinct. Fonda had been for many years a hard drinking man and had become somewhat embarrassed financially, so much so that the fact, in connection with his irregular habits, affected his credit, so that he was at times pushed to the wall. A week ago he was arrested for stealing poultry from John Warren, a neighboring farmer and was placed under bail. His trial was to have taken place today, at Mayfield. The discovery of his dead body leads many to entertain the idea of suicide, while others think that he fell in the creek while intoxicated. The water at the point where he was discovered is quite shallow and it is not thought that he could by any means possible have met with an accident. Johnstown NY Daily Republican, Saturday, August 24, 1895]; [The investigation concerning the death of Mac Fonda... An autopsy was performed last night by Drs. Ilagar and Goodfellow of this city, the physicians reporting that death was due to heart disease. The unfortunate man was probably walking near the creek when he was stricken and fell into the water, which, at the spot where he was found, was only five inches deep and had nothing to do with the cause of death. At the inquest three witnesses were sworn, and the jury rendered a verdict that Marcus D. Fonda came to his death from organic disease of the heart. [Personal Paragraphs - Mrs. Freedom Bishop and family of Cambridge, Nebraska, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Ralph G. Rosselle. Mrs. Bishop has also two brothers, Charles and Arthur Fonda, residing in this city. Gloversville NY Daily Leader, February 10, 1896]; [It Was a Most Agreeable Welcome Back To Her Old Home - Nine years ago Mrs. Freedom Bishop, with her husband, left Gloversville to establish a home in the west. Now the lady is back again to her Gloversville home, In reduced circumstances and surrounded by a family of six children. Life has not been a rosy one for Mrs. Bishop during the years of her residence in the west, where she lost her husband, and where her reduced circumstances finally induced the woman to give up the struggle there and return to her friends in the east. Mrs. Bishop and her children returned a few days ago, and through the intercession of friends is now established in a home on Rural avenue. Last night a pound party was held at her home, at which there were seventy-five guests, all of whom, except six are relatives of the lady, on her mother's side. An abundance of provisions and other articles needful in housekeeping were contributed by the visiters, and the lady's new career in her old home was thus started off under pleasant and auspicous circumstances. [Blackinger's Death From Monoxide Gas Declared Accidental - Coroner Lawrence J. Andrews of Chatham has rendered a verdict of accidental death from monoxide poisoning in the case of Joseph Blackinger, 50, of Canaan, a former resident who was found dead at the wheel of a truck Friday morning. Blackinger, who was employed by the Columbia county highway department had been working on the roads two miles south of Canaan. Investigation showed the main exhaust in the truck had blown and it is believed Blackinger pulled to the side of the road but was overcome by the fumes. He had been alongside the road all night and his body was discovered at 8 Friday morning. The engine of the truck was running, the lights on, but only a small amount of gas remained in the tank. The funeral will be held this morning in his home in Canaan and burial made there. Gloversville NY Morning Herald, Monday, February 12, 1951.]
